New Area For Refuse Discussed

5th Ward Swamp Said to Be Locale

Concern with new sidewalks and curbs near the new John F. Kennedy School, the condition of city parks, and the question of whether purchase of new fence approved by the Board of Public Works is for a new refuse disposal area got more "open" attention than street repair at Tuesday night's Common Council meeting.

A $6,000 bond issue for new sidewalks and curbs on Gross Street and a part of Delaware Avenue was finally approved after a proposed charge to permit a 75 per cent charge instead of 100 per cent of cost against property holders.

Complain About Parks

Alderman Robert Gallo (D) Ninth Ward, and Edward Norton (D) Seventh Ward, deplored conditions in city parks, and Republicans Donald P. Tucker, Fourth Ward, and Anthony J. Alecca, Fifth Ward, with Democratic Aldermen opposed the 100 per cent special assessment charge for sidewalks and curbs near the new school.

Alecca also held the same opinion as Minority Leader James F. Howard on the purchase of new chain link fencing at a cost of $1,245, reportedly to be used for a new refuse disposal site in the Fifth Ward.

$1,300 for Fence

A resolution calling for a budget note of $1,300 for the fencing, was finally adopted, however, by an 8-5 vote.

Alderman Howard said that in the past several weeks he had heard "rumors" concerning the relocation of the city dump (now off Ulster Street Extension in the Fourth Ward).

Present activities, he said, indicated that the administration is considering "relocating the dump in the near future. I have been questioned as to whether the site is to be in the Third or the Fifth Ward. Rumors have it in both. Frankly, with the lack of information we have from the mayor, I have been unable to answer these questions."

Wants to Hear From Mayor

Scranton Bound For 'Frisco War On Steamroller

CHICAGO (AP) — Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton heads for San Francisco today to try to upset what he termed the "political steamroller" of Sen. Barry Goldwater at the Republican National Convention.

Scranton has challenged the front-running Arizona senator for the GOP nomination. Tuesday night in a nationally televised political program on NBC the governor accused Goldwater managers of "smeared" and "every conceivable kind of pressure and threat" to keep the nomination from Scranton. The convention opens Monday.

Said Scranton: "They (the Goldwater managers) are trying to create a political steamroller unparalleled for its toughness, its callousness, its total disregard for the opinion of rank-and-file Republicans."

The governor declared that "every survey taken shows that I'm leading him in the number of rank-and-file Republicans—Republican voters that is—who would prefer that I be the candidate."

"Sen. Goldwater's managers know this, so they have undertaken a no-holds-barred campaign to see to it that the delegates at the convention do not reflect the wishes of the people back home."

Risch Gets 1-5 Term at Clinton For Having Drug

An Apalachin man, who Assistant District Attorney Francis Vogt said had come to Ulster County bringing with him a "large quantity" of cannabis used in marijuana cigarettes, was sentenced today to a term of 1½ to 5 years at hard labor in Clinton State Prison at Dannemora after pleading to attempted sale of the drug.

John Allen Risch, 30, was charged by indictment with illegal possession and sale of cannabis in excess of a quarter of an ounce. His plea of guilty to attempted sale was accepted to cover the indictment.

Risch, Assistant District Attorney Vogt said, had come to Ulster County bringing with him a large quantity of the drug with the "intention" of setting up a "sales organization" in Ulster County. Vogt said he knew of no cooperation by Risch with the county officials to identify others involved in selling cannabis.

Judge Mino in imposing sentence said Risch was the first one to appear before his court charged with possession of a large quantity of the drug and (Continued on Page 30, Col. 6)

Negroes Schedule Massive Florida Integration Test

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

While U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy praised what he called nationwide compliance with the Civil Rights Act, Negroes sought to test compliance in cities which have been major trouble spots in the past.

A massive effort at integration shaped up at St. Augustine, Fla., where Negroes said they would test some 30 establishments.

Three groups of Negroes integrated three motels in St. Augustine Tuesday night. There were no incidents.

Drought Aid Bid Delayed

Farm Officials Are To Meet July 17

Whether Ulster County agricultural officials will apply for federal aid and have the county declared a disaster area because of the prolonged drought will be definitely decided within the next 10 days.

That was agreed Tuesday night at a meeting of representatives of the county's Extension Service Agricultural Department and the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee held at the 74 John Street offices.

Might Be Worst Year

Officials also agreed that if the existing drought, which started much earlier this year than in 1963, continues the 1964 situation might develop into the worst year for agriculture and hay in many years.

Joseph Sauer, chairman of the ASC and also head of the county disaster committee, presided at last night's session. He said that a final decision on whether federal aid will be sought to relieve drought conditions and have the county declared a disaster area, was postponed for 10 days.

To Meet July 17

Another meeting was scheduled for Friday, July 17.

William H. Palmer, Ulster County Agriculture Agent, said last night's postponement of a final decision on the federal aid and disaster area matters, does not mean that the county will not become an official disaster area. He added existing conditions cannot be minimized. He referred to the situation as "very serious."

Palmer, speaking for Chairman Sauer, noted that the only right farmers could have is the right to use certain acreage, that had been taken out of production, for hay and pasture lands for livestock.

The group agreed that Ulster County has not met certain requirements necessary for a disaster area ruling, and has not quite reached the catastrophe stage, a spokesman said.

Using Winter Supply

Palmer said some farmers have found it necessary to dig into hay and feed supplies normally stored for winter use, and they probably will have to purchase feed on the market or at (Continued on Page 30, Col. 5)

Lodge, Romney Set to Discuss Platform Ideas

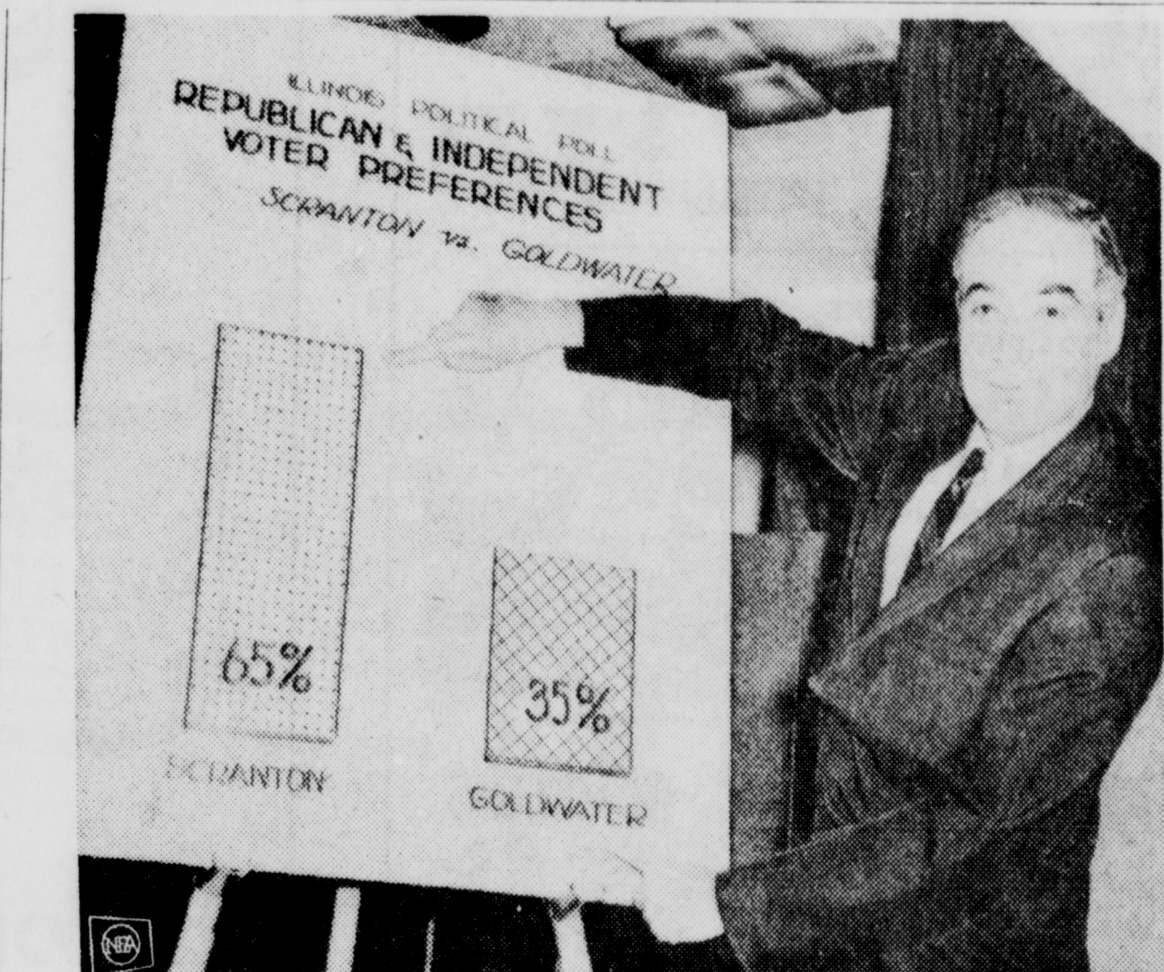

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Two prominent Republicans who once figured in speculation for the 1964 presidential nomination tell platform writers today what pledges they think the party should make in the coming campaign.

Henry Cabot Lodge and Gov. George Romney, who say they are not available for the nomination, were the scheduled star witnesses as the GOP platform committee reached mid-point in its pre-convention week of hearings. Thursday and Friday the avowed candidates, Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton and Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater, take the stand.

Lodge's appearance underlined foreign policy in the platform debate after two days of emphasis on civil rights left that issue still unresolved.

The 1960 Republican vice presidential nominee and ambassador to the United Nations during the Eisenhower administration, Lodge resigned as ambassador to South Vietnam last month after nearly a year in the job under the Johnson-Kennedy administrations. He said he was returning to push Scranton for president.

So far foreign policy has not been the bone of much contention among the string of GOP platform witnesses. In general, the Republican speakers have (Continued on Page 30, Col. 2)

Barry's 'No Win' View Is Assailed by Scranton Camp

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Gov. William W. Scranton's backers hammered at Sen. Barry Goldwater's towering claim on the GOP presidential nomination with a can't-win assault today, as prospects for a civil rights fight dwindled.

Goldwater's declaration in an interview published in a German news magazine that "as of now" no Republican could defeat President Johnson was described by Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., as an admission that the Arizona senator is resigned to losing in November if he becomes the GOP presidential nominee at next week's convention.

Says Scranton Confident
Scott, campaign director for the Pennsylvania governor, told a news conference Tuesday that "I'm afraid they (the Goldwater backers) don't really believe they can win."

"You can't give up before the campaign starts," Scott said, that he can beat President Johnson. He has won before against odds and he'll win again."

Goldwater said in the interview that, as of today, no other Republican had a chance of defeating Johnson in the South. He added that while he wasn't saying that he could do so at the moment, "come election day there is going to be another horse race." He made it clear in this respect that he was speaking not only of the South but the nation at large.

Scranton, scheduled to arrive here for a mid-afternoon airport rally and news conference, said before he left Chicago that Goldwater's people are using "every conceivable kind of pressure and threat" to keep the nomination away from him.

7 Aldermen, No Pay One Charter Change

A streamlined Common Council, designed to better reflect the will of the people, and to react more swiftly and effectively to the legislative requirements of a modern, growing city, is the first major change to be proposed by the new City Charter scheduled for public hearings on July 14th and 16th.

When the newly proposed charter is published in its entirety in the Kingston Daily Freeman on Friday, July 10, Article III, dealing with the City Council will call for the following:

1. Seven councilmen elected from a citywide ballot instead of 13 aldermen elected one from each of 13 wards.
2. Councilman serving for four years instead of the present two year term for aldermen.
3. Councilmen serving without pay as a public service instead of receiving a token $1,000 per year.
4. A mandate to the Council to redistrict the boundaries of the City's 13 wards by January

1, 1966 for the purpose of electing County Supervisors so that the ward having the greatest population will not exceed the ward having the smallest population by more than 10 per cent.

Many GOP Leaders Think Viet War to Be Nov. Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — Many Republican leaders agree that the Johnson administration's conduct of the anti-Communist guerrilla war in South Vietnam will be an issue in the presidential campaign.

But they do not agree on what line of attack to follow.

Some have called for an expansion of the U.S. effort in terms of geography and intensity. Some contend that present policy is all right but that a Republican administration could implement it better. And some have called for withdrawal of U.S. forces or a negotiated settlement.

Bond Proposals Are for $60,659

Three measures to advance urban renewal were adopted Tuesday night by the Common Council, which left second-phase street repair bond proposals totaling $60,659 in committee, with doubt of approval, as presented, indicated by a long recess, which brought the session beyond midnight.

Nine streets were listed for reconstruction and resurfacing to be financed by a capital bond appropriation of $43,722, and eight under a highway resurfacing bond sum of $16,937.

Budget notes of $59,000 for snow and ice control were approved. They cover $45,307.90 over the nominal sum of $22,000 provided for the purpose in the 1964 budget, plus $13,692.10, which, it is estimated will be required to Dec. 31.

Claims Settled

Two previously filed claims totaling $350,000 were voted settled on recommendation of Corporation Counsel Harry Gold for $1,100, and two others asking a total of $400,000, filed last night were referred to Gold.

Urban renewal legislation adopted included one designating the recently created Urban Renewal Agency "to carry out urban renewal functions" for the city; one authorizing and directing the mayor to execute "a co-operation agreement on behalf of the city, and a 'novation' agreement empowering the UR agency to function for the city as a separately created unit.

All are technical measures required in advancing urban renewal.

First opposition to the street repair program, as presented, came from a Republican, Anthony J. Alecca, Fifth Ward, who indicated his ward was more concerned with conditions on upper North Street than with the section listed for repair on the new program.

Streets Listed

Listed for resurfacing and reconstruction under the capital bond of $43,722 are Gross Street, $7,200; Taylor Street, $7,425; Flatbush Avenue, Albany Avenue to the railroad, $4,065; Derenbacher Street, $3,102; North Street, Delaware Avenue to East Strand, $7,415; New Street, $1,831; Second Avenue, Delaware Avenue to Moore Street, $6,068; West Chestnut, Melvin Drive to Broadway, $5,958, and Russell Street, $658.

Proposed for repair under the $16,937 resurfacing bond are: Lincoln Street, Clifton Avenue to East Chester Street, $1,194; Donovan Place, $375; Kingsburg Avenue, $3,044; Pettit Avenue, $3,820; Lounsberry Place, Grand View to Mountain View, $5,366; DeWitt Street, from the railroad bridge to end, $1,214; Gilead Street, $700, and South Prospect Street, $1,224.

The finance committee, headed by Majority Leader John Machione (R) 12th Ward, is due to meet soon to discuss the program. The other members are John J. Naccarato (R) Third Ward and Robert Gallo (D) Ninth Ward.

Opening ceremonies were by Senior Patrol Leader George Bundy.

Each patrol conducted scoutcraft demonstrations under the direction of the patrol leaders. The Raven patrol, under the leadership of Stanley Witko demonstrated the use of lashings to build two tripods. A pole was placed between the tripods and each patrol member did pull-ups to demonstrate the strength of the tripods. The "B" patrol with Roy Olsen as leader demonstrated how to make a fire with flint and steel.

Following the patrol demonstrations, the campfire was lit with appropriate ceremonies by Senior Patrol Leader Bundy and his assistant William Tucker.

Committee Chairman Charles Holt presented service pins to the following boys: One-year pins—John Adsit, Roger Adsit, Paul Dolce, Dennis Landherr, Louis Mancuso, James Mercurio, Paul Mushlit, and Thomas Tucker; two-year pins—Russell Holt; three-year pins—Roy Olsen, William Tucker, and Stanley Witko; five-year pin—Brian Castle; six-year pins—George Bundy, Wesley Buley, and William Fox.

Committeeman Edward S. Witko presented the following boys with attendance awards for the past year: John Adsit, Roger Adsit, George Bundy, Paul Mushlit, and Roy Olsen.

District Chairman David Fox presented the new charter to Chairman Holt. Fox also presented the troop with its Preparedness Citation and the National Camping Award. Scoutmaster Thomas Fickus reviewed plans for the troop's activities for the months of July and August.

The American Heritage part of the program was opened with a narration by Senior Patrol Leader Bundy concerning the meaning of our American heritage. Each patrol then presented a skit to portray American Heritage in action.

The "B" patrol skit dealt with the ordeal of George Washington's men at Valley Forge. The Raven patrol skit recaptured the drama and significance of the execution of Nathan Hale.

Scoutmaster Fickus presented miniature American Heritage certificates to the following boys who signed the pledge to Strengthen America's Heritage: Roy Olsen, John Adsit, Paul Dolce, George Bundy, Robert Day, Dennis Landherr, Louis Mancuso, Robert Davidson, Stanley Witko, William Tucker, Thomas Tucker, James Mercurio, Brian Castle, and Russell Holt. Troop Instructor Brian Castle read the American's Creed and the program closed with the singing of "America."

The campfire was closed with the Scout "Vesper Song" and the Scout Oath led by Assistant Senior Patrol Leader William Tucker. Taps were played by Bundy. Refreshments were served.

Returns Watermelon

ST. CLOUD, Minn. (AP) — State reformatory officials say a middle-aged man walked into the prison July 4th with a big watermelon under his arm.

The man said his conscience had bothered him since 1947 when he stole a melon from the prison farm. Supt. Jack Young told the man to give the melon to a needy family.

Manufacturers, Retailers Enjoy Holiday Weekend Better Than '63

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Taking stock after the Fourth of July holiday many sectors of both government and business find themselves healthier than usual. Uncle Sam has about $2 billion more cash on hand than he thought he would.

Steel production slipped much less than it usually does in an work week.

Retail sales in many stores were better last week than in the like holiday week a year ago.

Car sales are holding up surprisingly well as the end of the season approaches. The Treasury has been selling more U.S. Savings Bonds than a year ago.

This country's foreign trade hit a record high earlier this year, the government reports.

And now it expects the whole year to turn out better than it first thought, despite the roadblocks the European Common Market might throw up.

Banks have increased their business, and their profits, in the first half of the year. Few see much cause for worry in the immediate future.

And while the banks were increasing their deposits and their loans, they and the finance companies were setting a record high in consumer installment credit extended. At the same time their collections on outstanding debt also rose to highs.

Prices of blue chip stocks climbed to peaks before the holiday, and then topped that performance on the first day after the long weekend.

Perhaps the most surprising of all this postholiday outpouring of better than usual news is the flush condition of the U.S. Treasury.

It has just tallied its books for the fiscal year that ended June 30 and finds it has a cash balance of $10.2 billion. That doesn't mean the federal debt hasn't gone up—it has. But the cash on hand is a pleasant $2 billion more than the Treasury had expected.

Officials explain that government spending wasn't at quite as fast a clip as they had expected. Also, tax receipts were higher than anticipated. Part of this was due to a rise in personal incomes and corporate profits, so that even with the rates cut, the Treasury's take was higher.

Europe Repaying Loans

WASHINGTON (AP) — After receiving more than $45 billion in aid from the United States, European nations are now paying back loans and giving out more in aid to the rest of the world than they now receive from the United States.

Between 1946 and 1963 U.S. aid to Europe totaled $45.8 billion, of which $11.2 billion was in loans and $34.6 billion in gifts. European repayments on loans during the same period amounted to $6.4 billion.

Operator Invites Duke of Bedford To Catskill Farm

The Hudson Valley-Catskill Mountain area is expected to have a distinguished visitor here, according to an announcement today by Roland Lindemann, owner and operator of the Catskill Game Farm Inc. at Lawrenceville in Greene County.

Lindemann told The Freeman that he extended an invitation to the Duke of Bedford, himself operator of a 3,000-acre game farm in England, to visit the Catskill farm.

He said it was erroneously reported elsewhere that Prince

Philip, Duke of Edinburgh would visit the game farm after a visit to the World's Fair late this summer.

Lindemann said he met both Prince Philip and the Duke of Bedford at a meeting recently in London of the Royal Zoological Society of which Prince Philip is patron. He said he discussed rarities in animals throughout the world, and when the Duke of Bedford learned that he operated the nationally prominent Catskill preserve, he showed a particular interest.

The Duke of Bedford maintains a 3,000-acre park in Woburn, Abbey, England, Lindemann said, and has a prize group of Cheshire deer. He said that when he extended an invitation to visit him at the Catskill farm, the duke indicated he would like to do that when he visits the World's Fair. Lindemann said apparently someone confused the two dukes when Lindemann identified the prince as chairman of the meeting and that all present exchanged remarks about their interest in rare animals.

Editor, The Freeman
On June 29th, the Junior Chamber of Commerce concluded its 1964 Junior Golf Tournament at the Wiltwyck Country Club. The tournament was by far the most successful held to date, as over 50 boys were given the opportunity of playing competitive golf on a most challenging course.

The success of this event was only possible because of the contributions of many community minded individuals whom the Jaycees would like to publicly express their appreciation to at this time.

First of all, to each and every member of the Wiltwyck Country Club who again relinquished the right to play their course for extended periods of time so that the younger golfers of tomorrow could have their chance.

Secondly to Mr. William McCullen and the Wiltwyck golf committee for their wholehearted co-operation.

To Alex Gerlack and Scotty Robinson, professionals at Twaalfskill and Wiltwyck, respectively, for donating not only their time for instructional clinics for the boys, but also prizes for the winners.

To Jim Hutchens, golf professional at Woodstock, the Woodstock Country Club board of directors and Bob Paulson, professional at Lake Mohonk Country Club for their contributions, and to the business and sporting goods stores in the Kingston Area who made contributions to the prize list.

It is public minded organizations and citizens such as these that help make Kingston a better place to live and without whose help Jaycee operations would be limited.

For all the boys in the tournament and for the Jaycees again, we say thanks.

ROBERT K. BROWN
President
Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce

This country's foreign trade hit a record high earlier this year, the government reports.

And now it expects the whole year to turn out better than it first thought, despite the road-blocks the European Common Market might throw up.

Banks have increased their business, and their profits, in the first half of the year. Few see much cause for worry in the immediate future.

And while the banks were increasing their deposits and their loans, they and the finance companies were setting a record high in consumer installment credit extended. At the same time their collections on outstanding debt also rose to highs.

Prices of blue chip stocks climbed to peaks before the holiday, and then topped that performance on the first day after the long weekend.

Perhaps the most surprising of all this postholiday outpouring of better than usual news is the flush condition of the U.S. Treasury.

It has just tallied its books for the fiscal year that ended June 30 and finds it has a cash balance of $10.2 billion. That doesn't mean the federal debt hasn't gone up—it has. But the cash on hand is a pleasant $2 billion more than the Treasury had expected.

Officials explain that government spending wasn't at quite as fast a clip as they had expected. Also, tax receipts were higher than anticipated. Part of this was due to a rise in personal incomes and corporate profits, so that even with the rates cut, the Treasury's take was higher.

Europe Repaying Loans

WASHINGTON (AP) — After receiving more than $45 billion in aid from the United States, European nations are now paying back loans and giving out more in aid to the rest of the world than they now receive from the United States.

Between 1946 and 1963 U.S. aid to Europe totaled $45.8 billion, of which $11.2 billion was in loans and $34.6 billion in gifts. European repayments on loans during the same period amounted to $6.4 billion.

Operator Invites Duke of Bedford To Catskill Farm

The Hudson Valley-Catskill Mountain area is expected to have a distinguished visitor here, according to an announcement today by Roland Lindemann, owner and operator of the Catskill Game Farm Inc. at Lawrenceville in Greene County.

Lindemann told The Freeman that he extended an invitation to the Duke of Bedford, himself operator of a 3,000-acre game farm in England, to visit the Catskill farm.

He said it was erroneously reported elsewhere that Prince

Philip, Duke of Edinburgh, would visit the game farm after a visit to the World's Fair late this summer.

Lindemann said he met both Prince Philip and the Duke of Bedford at a meeting recently in London of the Royal Zoological Society of which Prince Philip is a patron. He said he discussed rarities in animals throughout the world, and when the Duke of Bedford learned that he operated the nationally prominent Catskill preserve, he showed a particular interest.

The Duke of Bedford maintains a 3,000-acre park in Woburn, England, Lindemann said, and has a prize group of Chinese deer. He said that when he extended an invitation to visit him at the Catskill farm, the Duke indicated he would like to do that when he visits the World's Fair. Lindemann said apparently someone confused the two dukes when Lindemann identified the prince as chairman of the meeting and that all present exchanged remarks about their interest in rare animals.

Editor, The Freeman

On June 29th, the Junior Chamber of Commerce concluded its 1964 Junior Golf Tournament at the Wiltwyck Country Club. The tournament was by far the most successful held to date, as over 50 boys were given the opportunity of playing competitive golf on a most challenging course.

The success of this event was only possible because of the contributions of many community minded individuals whom the Jaycees would like to publicly express their appreciation to at this time.

First of all, to each and every member of the Wiltwyck Country Club who again relinquished the right to play their course for extended periods of time so that the younger golfers of tomorrow could have their chance.

Secondly to Mr. William McCullen and the Wiltwyck golf committee for their wholehearted co-operation.

To Alex Gerlack and Scotty Robinson, professionals at Twaalfskill and Wiltwyck, respectively, for donating not only their time for instructional clinics for the boys, but also prizes for the winners.

To Jim Hutchens, golf professional at Woodstock, the Woodstock Country Club board of directors and Bob Paulson, professional at Lake Mohonk Country Club for their contributions, and to the business and sporting goods stores in the Kingston Area who made contributions to the prize list.

It is public minded organizations and citizens such as these that help make Kingston a better place to live and without whose help Jaycee operations would be limited.

For all the boys in the tournament and for the Jaycees again, we say thanks.

BATTLESHIP IN A DESERT

One of the best nutshell summaries to be made on the situation in Southeast Asia is voiced by former Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge:

"We're like somebody that has a great battleship which is all-powerful in the middle of the ocean and he's got a problem in the desert.

"We've got a lot of power. How are you going to apply it?"

The question is particularly apt in light of the new, tougher approach the administration is adopting toward the Communist guerrillas in South Viet Nam and the repeated statements by President Johnson that the United States is prepared to risk war rather than allow Southeast Asia to be overrun.

There has been talk about using some of our vast power to carry the fighting home to the Communists—to bomb the supply routes feeding men and materiel from China through North Viet Nam into both South Viet Nam and Laos.

Unfortunately, the matter is not that simple, and the absence of a violent reaction by the Red Chinese may reflect not their military weakness (as some have believed) but their knowledge of just how difficult it would be for the United States to carry out this threat.

Most of the supplies come in over jungle trails on human backs or on elephants, and over canals and across the beaches of the South China Sea.

Says Lodge:

"There are such tremendous long coastlines and tremendous long frontiers—tremendously rough country. There isn't a superhighway that you can blow up with bombs and stop the supplies."

Lodge does not rule out the possibility of victory in South Viet Nam through stepped-up military force. But it must be a discriminating use of force, combined with non-military offensives—economic, social and political offensives—in all the 39 provinces of South Viet Nam.

"You have," says Lodge, "really 43 different wars."

The great need, according to him, is to develop a real political life in the country, especially on the local "precinct" level. That, he believes, we are now beginning to do.

He doesn't think Southeast Asia will be much of a campaign issue in this year's presidential election. But barring a sudden change for the better in that part of the world, it seems likely that the slow bleeding of American lives and resources in Viet Nam with no apparent gain will be an issue that millions of voters will want fully aired in the coming months.

CAMPSPITE PRESSURE

Those who make and sell camping equipment are enjoying boom times. Some 43 million Americans are expected to do some "camping out" this year. That will be about 13 million more campers than there were a decade ago.

The inclination to see nothing but good in this phenomenon is, though strong, diluted by a nasty question: Where are they all going to camp? The answer is that most of the campers will find someplace to pitch their tents, this year and maybe next year. But when the projection is pushed ahead much further than that one comes up against the plain fact that campers are soon going to be more crowded when camping than they are at home.

Even so, camping should be encouraged. With reasonable luck, campers enjoy an experience that nothing else can quite match. They get closer to nature, in the best sense of that abused phrase, than any other vacationers. Still, unless both state and federal efforts to provide suitable camping areas are greatly stepped up, a lot of people are going to be cheated of this experience or disappointed in it. Nothing short of a major push to set aside more campsites will meet the demand.

GOLDWATER AND THE INDIANS

A visitor at the Northern Cheyenne Indian Reservation at Lame Deer, Mont., is having dinner with the superintendent of the reservation. He notices that the superintendent's teen-age daughter is in tears. The girl has been telling her mother that she is being boycotted by her high school mates because her two best friends are full-blooded Cheyenne Indians.

In Western New York State, the Kinzua Dam, which is designed to impound the waters of the Allegheny River, is just about set for use. Originally, the gates were to be closed this July. But some saving remnant of decency on the part of the authorities that built the dam has resulted in a postponement of the shutting of the gates. When they are finally closed, the Seneca Indians, who were guaranteed possession of their lands "in perpetuity" by the Treaty of 1794, will be flooded out of their Complanter Reservation.

These are two examples of discrimination as it strikes at the Indians, those first Americans. Civil rights? Who cares? The Indian vote doesn't matter.

Ironically, in view of the drubbing he has taken because of his vote against what he regards as the unconstitutional Civil Rights bill, Barry Goldwater does care about the Indians. His fight for the Navajos and the Hopis in Arizona was part of his wider struggle to desegregate local airport facilities, moving picture houses and the state's National Guard. For his general work in Arizona desegregation the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People once welcomed Barry Goldwater as a lifetime member of the organization. The NAACP retracted its old opinion of Goldwater the other day when it urged the membership and all Negroes to oppose him for the Presidency.

This sort of politics is short-sighted, to say the least, for it overlooks the fundamental strand in the Goldwater personality, the strand of honor. If Barry Goldwater says he will do his best to enforce the Civil Rights legislation if he is elected President, you may be sure he will. He has been called a man of the eighteenth century. Well, in the eighteenth century they believed in honor. It would be a better country if we had more eighteenth century men around.

On his left hand Barry Goldwater bears a tattoo consisting of four dots. These represent a tribute to him from the Indians, signifying that Goldwater has shown the highest skill in Indian tribal dancing. If he, like Calvin Coolidge of old, were to put on an Indian headdress, it would not in his case be hokum. He even speaks some Navajo and Hopi.

Goldwater earned the respect and affection of the Arizona Indians because he went out of his way to protect and enlarge both their rights and their opportunities. In the nineteen thirties he set up a trading post on a Navajo reservation. He used to ferry in goods to the Indians by plane; indeed, the only crackup in his long career as an air pilot occurred on a takeoff at the reservation. For a long time, any plane, to a Navajo, was a "Goldwater." The name of Goldwater's home is Be Nun I Kin, which is Navajo for "house on the hill."

As for Indian rights, Goldwater was instrumental in setting up voting districts for the Indians in Arizona. He also got some land set aside for the Cocopah Indians near Yuma. He would like to see a bill passed in the U.S. Senate which would allow the Navajos to lease land for ninety-nine years instead of the ten years that are allowed at present.

The American Indian doesn't constitute a pressure group, and he will play little or no part either at the San Francisco convention or in the autumn election. But the Negroes, whose votes do count, might remember that Goldwater's record for standing up for minorities will bear comparison with that of any other man in the U.S. politics. There is a danger that Barry Goldwater will be made a victim of "bigotry in reverse." (Copyright, 1964, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

The DOCTOR SAYS

If You 'Blow Your Stack,'

Cool Off — or Suffer

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Let's see what happens when you "blow your stack" when angry. It has been found that you take deeper breaths, your pulse quickens, your blood pressure rises and your digestion stops as the blood is drawn from your alimentary tract to your muscles.

In such blinding rage you may be especially prone to an accident if you are driving a car, operating a machine in a factory or handling hot soup in a kitchen.

Plainly such a state calls for cooling off. On the other hand, pent-up anger can cause a chronically high blood pressure, peptic ulcer, colitis, angina pectoris and other so-called psychosomatic ailments.

Because anger causes a sudden squeezing of adrenalin into your blood it may be associated with a sudden pain in the region of your adrenal glands and a sudden surge of blood to your head may precipitate a headache.

Adrenalin poured into the blood served the primitive purpose of preparing a person for a sudden burst of energy—fight or flight. But in a civilized community neither of these actions is appropriate.

Since it is no longer socially acceptable to lose control of your temper, you are apt to wind up with physical symptoms. Illness is still socially permissible and may even get you a certain amount of sympathy.

The hidden rages within us often have their origin in infancy. As children we all have desires that cannot or should not be granted. This leads to frustration and anger. As adults, the problem becomes one of letting off steam.

There are various ways of doing this. You can whack away at a golf ball, beat the stuffing out of a punching bag, or hammer nails in the back fence. This will enable you to use up the physical energy your anger has summoned up and will act as a safety valve. If it is not convenient to do any of these things a brisk walk will serve the purpose very well.

Some persons get the same kind of relief vicariously by watching or boxing or wrestling match or some other contact sport. Still others take it out in writing a scurrilous letter of protest even though they know they won't mail it.

Or you may want to take it out on the keys of a piano as a means of releasing your emotions.

The moral of this story is: Don't hoard your resentments. That is the path that leads to neurosis and a whole Pandora's box of diseases.

TOP LADY ENGINEER

A sense of fairness impels us, at risk of contributing another blow to the already battered male ego, to take note of what has been done by Joanne L. Yamas of Plainfield, N. Y. It seems that Miss Yamas, an attractive lass of 21, graduated at the top of her class in Pennsylvania State's College of Engineering.

The New Jersey girl received the degree of bachelor of science in chemical engineering. In doing so, she made a better academic record than 319 others, mostly men, who also received degrees. This gave her the right to serve as student marshal for her college at the commencement.

Washington News

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
WASHINGTON — (NEA) —

A decision to hammer Sen. Barry Goldwater hard, without letup from now until balloting time, is one of the key results of a big parley involving Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton and many of his high level backers.

The governor's slashing television assault on Goldwater, unmatched in its severity, is seen as the first fruit of this reportedly unanimous decision.

As one major participant in the Scranton strategy session puts it: "We all agreed that what Bill has to do is to scare the party, to argue that with Goldwater the presidential nominee the Republicans would be on a collision course with disaster."

The source believes Scranton struck just the right hard note in a recent telecast. He adds: "If we can have more and more of that, then some of these delegates leaning toward Goldwater may start to wriggle."

UP UNTIL THE BIG PARLEY at the governor's mansion in Indiantown Gap, Pa., he had been alternating between a hard and a soft line toward the senator.

The root of this inconsistency, it is said, lay not in Scranton's concern for the party unity should Goldwater win at San Francisco. He has feared simply that slamming the senator might not be the best way to lure Goldwater leakers into his own delegate camp.

That fear finally was pushed aside by the general judgment that rough treatment was the only course that held hope for shaking Goldwater out of his strong lead. Scranton forces obnoxious will not be unhappy if this tactic goes the senator into angry reply.

They are frustrated by his inaccessibility and his paucity of public comment.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

The heartbeat was 80 to the minute. It could be felt under the teak deck. It could be seen in a shimmering glass of wine in the Venetian Restaurant. It was calibrated on a tachometer on the bridge. The liner Italia was dying.

She headed out of Miami at 2 knots into an evening sea of jade and royal blue. She was 26,000 tons of white steel and two giant funnels. Aboard were 209 Italian crew and 35 white-collar pallbearers. The crew cleaned up debris on the forepeak and quarrelled. The pallbearers sipped scotch in the forward lounge and laughed.

Italia had a personality. She was always a lady. A sturdy lady with an icebreaker hull. She had been mastered by many men. Some had abused her. Still, she always held her bows high and her wake clean. On this day, she was dying and she knew it. The final voyage was from Miami to Freeport, Grand Bahama Island—83 nautical miles. Italia cruises at 16½ knots—a five hour trip.

She refused to die quietly. For 35 years, she had obeyed her men, but not this time. They were taking her to this luxurious tropical island to impound her in a harbor, tie her down permanently, and make a hotel of an old and gallant lady. A hotel indeed.

She had seen grandeur. Prime ministers and kings had trod her decks. Fashionable women had seen pink dawn come up over Rio along her starboard rail. She had four swimming pools, eight decks, restaurants, lounges, rare wood panelling, and the rhythmic creak that goes with being a good ship at sea.

In December 1929, she had been King'sholm of the Swedish-American line. How many Atlantic crossings? A hundred and fifty? In the war, she had belonged to the U.S. Army as the hospital ship John Ericsson, and she had dodged torpedoes and shuddered to the moans of young men in pain. Later, she had been Italia and had dropped her big hook at Rio de Janeiro and Buenos Aires. Still later, the Home Lines bought her for the New York-Nassau winter trade. Two million miles?

Now the name plastered on her bows was Imperial Grand Bahama, and in a few days, she would rent rooms to tourists for a few dollars a day. She watched the light of diamond-studded Miami Beach disappear in the darkness, and Italia overheated an engine. Captain Luigi Grossmar killed the engine.

Italia dragged her feet at 7 knots. She would die in her own

Parties Seen in Trouble If They Assay Rights Law

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

If the platform committee of either national party convention undertakes to state flatly that the new "civil rights" law is completely Constitutional, this is one way to invite a lot of criticism—not only from opponents of the measure but also from some Negro leaders. For the new statute contains clauses which amount to permissive discrimination, and these sections are certainly going to be challenged on Constitutional grounds by Negro organizations.

As a matter of fact, the basic principle that there should be no discrimination and that every citizen is entitled to "equal protection of the laws" is not really fulfilled by the new "civil rights" act. There are many exceptions and exemptions which plainly ignore the fundamental precepts of "equality."

Thus, for example, discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion or national origin is prohibited in motels, hotels or rooming houses with more than five rooms to rent, but discrimination is permissible in buildings with five rooms or less to rent if the proprietor himself happens to live in the rooming house.

Discrimination is likewise permitted in a restaurant or luncheonette if a substantial portion of the food which it serves doesn't move in interstate commerce but is actually grown in the same state and if all the customers are local residents.

The new law also permits what is termed "racial imbalance" and specifically says that "desegregation" does not mean "the assignment of students to public schools in order to overcome racial imbalance."

Yet in New York City this very week a petition signed by 42,000 persons—parents and taxpayers—has been presented to the city clerk in an effort to prevent the operation of the Board of Education's school pairing and student busing plans which are scheduled to take effect in September. The plans, of course, were devised to help eliminate what is called "de facto" segregation.

In the case of "equal employment opportunities," the new law states that during the first year there must be no discrimination in hiring in any business which has 100 or more employees. But, it will be asked, what happens to the principle of "equal protection of the laws" for those individuals who are discriminated against in companies with less than 100 employees?

In another section of the law there is permissive discrimination in the hiring of employees in any business or enterprise "on or near an Indian reservation." And here again the challenge may be made on the ground that the doctrine of "equal protection of the laws" does not permit of any such exception.

There has been a good deal of confusion over the question whether the new "civil rights" law is based on the 14th Amendment or on the "commerce clause" of the Constitution. Some people who have not read the new statute very carefully seem to think that reliance on the 14th Amendment has been abandoned and that the "commerce clause" of the Constitution alone is being invoked. Actually, the new "civil rights" law says:

"Discrimination or segregation by an establishment is supported by state action within the meaning of this title if such discrimination or segregation is carried on under color of any law, statute, ordinance or regulation."

This provision is, of course, based on the 14th Amendment which forbids state action of a discriminatory nature. In its 1883 decision, the Supreme Court said the 14th Amendment applies only to discrimination by the state itself and not to private individuals. Only last month, three justices of the Supreme Court of the United States specifically stated that the 14th Amendment could not be Constitutionally invoked to forbid discrimination in hotels or motels, even though they were licensed by the state to operate. The justices said:

"Businesses owned by private persons do not become agencies of the state because they are licensed; to hold that they do would be completely to negate all our private ownership concepts and practices."

But the new "civil rights" law—relying nevertheless on the 14th Amendment—specifically says that "state action" is involved and federal authority can be used to intervene when any hotel, restaurant or rooming house discriminates on the basis of "any regulation" required by the state. For these same businesses are licensed by the state irrespective of whether they engage in interstate commerce.

The question of constitutionality is thus open to further arguments by both the proponents and opponents of the new law, and it isn't going to be settled by any national political party convention.

good time. A full moon stared over the top of high cumulus, and sent a zig-zag message over the dark waters. Italia refused to obey the helm. The rudder would not work. Captain Grossmar steered for Bimini, and counted on the Gulf to carry his ship northeast toward Grand Bahama.

She had cleared Miami breakwater at 5 p. m. At midnight, the moon was screened by a squall and Italia was treated to the farwell fireworks of a tropical storm. The sea was dark and empty and the lightning lit it in sporadic flashes and every drop of rain too. She looked like a ghost ship.

She bent her bows slowly, like an elephant bowing on command, and lifted them slowly. The heartbeats remained at 80 to the minute. At dawn, the British Colonial government at Freeport sent a pilot out in a tender. Italia now obeyed her helm—further resistance was useless—but another storm came up and hid her in a mist of rain.

The pilot boat could not find the ship. The full tide in Freeport remained high for an hour, then receded. At 9 a. m. a pilot found the ship. He climbed to the bridge. "I'm sorry," he said. "We've missed the tide, you know. We won't have another until tonight, and I would advise against taking her in then. Maybe tomorrow morning."

"Maybe tomorrow morning," Captain Grossmar said. He was not sorry. For a long time, the man with the sad Italian face had been first mate on Italia. Now, for the first time, he was master, and he did not want the lady to die. She had become willful and stubborn, but he understood her. "Tomorrow," he said "Today we will run her up and down the coast, and pick you up in early light."

So the old lady lived one more day. The moment she had won her reprieve, she began to turn over both engines, and she obeyed her helm. When dawn came, she was still cruising up and down. The pilot climbed aboard, and Italia turned her bows north into the narrow harbor at flood tide.

At ten she was abreast of the breakwater, the biggest thing ever seen at Grand Bahama. The natives lined the shore to watch her swing, inch by suffering inch, into the big marina. The huge hawsers were thrown ashore, and she was made fast. Grossmar stood on the wing bridge. In Italian he said: "Signal through with engines." A moment later, the heartbeat stopped.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, JULY 8, 1964

BATTLESHIP IN A DESERT

One of the best nutshell summaries to be made on the situation in Southeast Asia is voiced by former Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge:
"We're like somebody that has a great battleship which is all-powerful in the middle of the ocean and he's got a problem in the desert."

"We've got a lot of power. How are you going to apply it?"

The question is particularly apt in light of the new, tougher approach the administration is adopting toward the Communist guerrillas in South Viet Nam and the repeated statements by President Johnson that the United States is prepared to risk war rather than allow Southeast Asia to be overrun.

There has been talk about using some of our vast power to carry the fighting home to the Communists—to bomb the supply routes feeding men and materiel from China through North Viet Nam into both South Viet Nam and Laos.

Unfortunately, the matter is not that simple, and the absence of a violent reaction by the Red Chinese may reflect not their military weakness (as some have believed) but their knowledge of just how difficult it would be for the United States to carry out this threat.

Most of the supplies come in over jungle trails on human backs or on elephants, and over canals and across the beaches of the South China Sea.

Says Lodge:
"There are such tremendous long coastlines and tremendous long frontiers—tremendously rough country. There isn't a superhighway that you can blow up with bombs and stop the supplies."

Lodge does not rule out the possibility of victory in South Viet Nam through stepped-up military force. But it must be a discriminating use of force, combined with non-military offensives—economic, social and political offensives—in all the 39 provinces of South Viet Nam.

"You have," says Lodge, "really 43 different wars."

The great need, according to him, is to develop a real political life in the country, especially on the local "precinct" level. That, he believes, we are now beginning to do.

He doesn't think Southeast Asia will be much of a campaign issue in this year's presidential election. But barring a sudden change for the better in that part of the world, it seems likely that the slow bleeding of American lives and resources in Viet Nam with no apparent gain will be an issue that millions of voters will want fully aired in the coming months.

CAMP SITE PRESSURE

Those who make and sell camping equipment are enjoying boom times. Some 43 million Americans are expected to do some "camping out" this year. That will be about 13 million more campers than there were a decade ago.

The inclination to see nothing but good in this phenomenon is, though strong, diluted by a nasty question: Where are they all going to camp? The answer is that most of the campers will find someplace to pitch their tents, this year and maybe next year. But when the projection is pushed ahead much further than that one comes up against the plain fact that campers are soon going to be more crowded when camping than they are at home.

Even so, camping should be encouraged. With reasonable luck, campers enjoy an experience that nothing else can quite match. They get closer to nature, in the best sense of that abused phrase, than any other vacationers. Still, unless both state and federal efforts to provide suitable camping areas are greatly stepped up, a lot of people are going to be cheated of this experience or disappointed in it. Nothing short of a major push to set aside more campsites will meet the demand.

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN
GOLDWATER AND THE INDIANS

A visitor at the Northern Cheyenne Indian Reservation at Lame Deer, Mont., is having dinner with the superintendent of the reservation. He notices that the superintendent's teenage daughter is in tears. The girl has been telling her mother that she is being boycotted by her high school mates because her two best friends are full-blooded Cheyenne Indians.

In Western New York State, the Kinzua Dam, which is designed to impound the waters of the Allegheny River, is just about set for use. Originally, the gates were to be closed this July. But some saving remnant of decency on the part of the authorities that built the dam has resulted in a postponement of the shutting of the gates. When they are finally closed, the Seneca Indians, who were guaranteed possession of their lands "in perpetuity" by the Treaty of 1794, will be flooded out of their Complanter Reservation.

These are two examples of discrimination as it strikes at the Indians, those first Americans. Civil rights? Who cares? The Indian vote doesn't matter.

Ironically, in view of the drubbing he has taken because of his vote against what he regards as the unconstitutional Civil Rights bill, Barry Goldwater does care about the Indians. His fight for the Navajos and the Hopis in Arizona was part of his wider struggle to desegregate local airport facilities, moving picture houses and the state's National Guard. For his general work in Arizona desegregation the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People once welcomed Barry Goldwater as a lifetime member of the organization. The NAACP retracted its old opinion of Goldwater the other day when it urged the membership and all Negroes to oppose him for the Presidency.

This sort of politics is short-sighted, to say the least, for it overlooks the fundamental strand in the Goldwater personality, the strand of honor. If Barry Goldwater says he will do his best to enforce the Civil Rights legislation if he is elected President, you may be sure he will. He has been called a man of the eighteenth century. Well, in the eighteenth century they believed in honor. It would be a better country if we had more eighteenth century men around.

On his left hand Barry Goldwater bears a tattoo consisting of four dots. These represent a tribute to him from the Indians, signifying that Goldwater has shown the highest skill in Indian tribal dancing. If he, like Calvin Coolidge of old, were to put on an Indian headdress, it would not in his case be hokum. He even speaks some Navajo and Hopi.

Goldwater earned the respect and affection of the Arizona Indians because he went out of his way to protect and enlarge both their rights and their opportunities. In the nineteen thirties he set up a trading post on a Navajo reservation. He used to ferry in goods to the Indians by plane; indeed, the only crackup in his long career as an air pilot occurred on a takeoff at the reservation. For a long time, any plane, to a Navajo, was a "Goldwater." The name of Goldwater's home is Be Nun I Kin, which is Navajo for "house on the hill."

As for Indian rights, Goldwater was instrumental in setting up voting districts for the Indians in Arizona. He also got some land set aside for the Cocopah Indians near Yuma. He would like to see a bill passed in the U.S. Senate which would allow the Navajos to lease land for ninety-nine years instead of the ten years that are allowed at present.

The American Indian doesn't constitute a pressure group, and he will play little or no part either at the San Francisco convention or in the autumn election. But the Negroes, whose votes do count, might remember that Goldwater's record for standing up for minorities will bear comparison with that of any other man in the U.S. politics. There is a danger that Barry Goldwater will be made a victim of "bigotry in reverse." (Copyright, 1964, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

The DOCTOR SAYS

If You 'Blow Your Stack,'
Cool Off — or Suffer
BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Let's see what happens when you "blow your stack" when angry. It has been found that you take deeper breaths, your pulse quickens, your blood pressure rises and your digestion stops as the blood is drawn from your alimentary tract to your muscles.

In such blinding rage you may be especially prone to an accident if you are driving a car, operating a machine in a factory or handling hot soup in a kitchen.

Plainly such a state calls for cooling off. On the other hand, pent-up anger can cause a chronically high blood pressure, peptic ulcer, colitis, angina pectoris and other so-called psychosomatic ailments.

Because anger causes a sudden squeezing of adrenalin into your blood it may be associated with a sudden pain in the region of your adrenal glands and a sudden surge of blood to your head may precipitate a headache.

Adrenalin poured into the blood served the primitive purpose of preparing a person for a sudden burst of energy—flight or fight. But in a civilized community neither of these actions is appropriate.

Since it is no longer socially acceptable to lose control of your temper, you are apt to wind up with physical symptoms. Illness is still socially permissible and may even get you a certain amount of sympathy.

The hidden rages within us often have their origin in infancy. As children we all have desires that cannot or should not be granted. This leads to frustration and anger. As adults, the problem becomes one of letting off steam.

There are various ways of doing this. You can whack away at a golf ball, beat the stuffing out of a punching bag, or hammer nails in the back fence. This will enable you to use up the physical energy your anger has summoned up and will act as a safety valve. If it is not convenient to do any of these things a brisk walk will serve the purpose very well.

Some persons get the same kind of relief vicariously by watching a boxing or wrestling match or some other contact sport. Still others take it out in writing a scurrilous letter of protest even though they know they won't mail it.

Or you may want to take it out on the keys of a piano as a means of releasing your emotions.

The moral of this story is: Don't hoard your resentments. That is the path that leads to neurosis and a whole Pandora's box of diseases.

TOP LADY ENGINEER

A sense of fairness impels us, at risk of contributing another blow to the already battered male ego, to take note of what has been done by Joanne L. Yamas of Plainfield, N. Y. The New Jersey girl received the degree of bachelor of science in chemical engineering. In doing so, she made a better academic record than 319 others, mostly men, who also received degrees. This gave her the right to serve as student marshal for her college at the commencement.

Washington News

BY BRUCE BOSSAT

WASHINGTON — (NEA) —

A decision to hammer Sen. Barry Goldwater hard, without letup from now until balloting time, is one of the key results of a big parley involving Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton and many of his high level backers.

The governor's slashing television assault on Goldwater, unmatched in its severity, is seen as the first fruit of this reportedly unanimous decision.

As one major participant in the Scranton strategy session puts it: "We all agreed that what Bill has to do is to scare the party, to argue that with Goldwater the presidential nominee the Republicans would be on a collision course with disaster."

The source believes Scranton struck just the right hard note in a recent telecast. He adds: "If we can have more and more of that, then some of these delegates leaning toward Goldwater may start to wriggle."

UP UNTIL THE BIG PARLEY at the governor's mansion in Indiantown Gap, Pa., he had been alternating between a hard and a soft line toward the senator.

The root of this inconsistency, it is said, lay not in Scranton's concern for the party unity should Goldwater win at San Francisco. He has feared simply that slamming the senator might not be the best way to lure Goldwater leakers into his own delegate camp.

That fear finally was pushed aside by the general judgment that rough treatment was the only course that held hope for shaking Goldwater out of his strong lead. Scranton forces obviously will not be unhappy if this tactic goads the senator into angry reply.

They are frustrated by his inaccessibility and his paucity of public comment.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

The heartbeat was 80 to the minute. It could be felt under the teak deck. It could be seen in a shimmering glass of wine in the Venetian Restaurant. It was calibrated on a tachometer on the bridge. The liner Italia was dying.

She headed out of Miami at 2 knots into an evening sea of jade and royal blue. She was 26,000 tons of white steel and two giant funnels. Aboard were 209 Italian crew and 35 white-collar pallbearers. The crew cleaned up debris on the forepeak and quarrelled. The pallbearers sipped scotch in the forward lounge and laughed.

Italia had a personality. She was always a lady. A sturdy lady with an icebreaker hull. She had been mastered by many men. Some had abused her. Still, she always held her bows high and her wake clean. On this day, she was dying and she knew it. The final voyage was from Miami to Freeport, Grand Bahama Island—83 nautical miles. Italia cruises at 16½ knots—a five hour trip.

She refused to die quickly. For 35 years, she had obeyed her men, but not this time. They were taking her to this luxurious tropical island to imprison her in a harbor, tie her down permanently, and make a hotel of an old and gallant lady. A hotel indeed.

She had seen grandeur. Prime ministers and kings had trod her decks. Fashionable women had seen pink dawn come up over Rio along her starboard rail. She had four swimming pools, eight decks, restaurants, lounges, rare wood panelling, and the rhythmic creak that goes with being a good ship at sea.

In December 1929, she had been Kingsholm of the Swedish-American line. How many Atlantic crossings? A hundred and fifty? In the war, she had belonged to the U.S. Army as the hospital ship John Ericsson, and she had dodged torpedoes and shuddered to the moans of young men in pain. Later, she had been Italia and had dropped her big hook at Rio de Janeiro and Buenos Aires. Still later, the Home Lines bought her for the New York-Nassau winter trade. Two million miles?

Now the name plastered on her bows was Imperial Grand Bahama, and in a few days, she would rent rooms to tourists for a few dollars a day. She watched the light of diamond-studded Miami Beach disappear in the darkness, and Italia overheated an engine. Captain Luigi Grossmar killed the engine.

Italia dragged her feet at 7 knots. She would die in her own

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

If the platform committee of either national party convention undertakes to state flatly that the new "civil rights" law is completely Constitutional, this is one way to invite a lot of criticism—not only from opponents of the measure but also from some Negro leaders. For the new statute contains clauses which amount to permissive discrimination, and these sections are certainly going to be challenged on Constitutional grounds by Negro organizations.

As a matter of fact, the basic principle that there should be no discrimination and that every citizen is entitled to "equal protection of the laws" is not really fulfilled by the new "civil rights" act. There are many exceptions and exemptions which plainly ignore the fundamental precepts of "equality."

Thus, for example, discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion or national origin is prohibited in hotels, motels or rooming houses with more than five rooms to rent, but discrimination is permissible in buildings with five rooms or less to rent if the proprietor himself happens to live in the rooming house.

Discrimination is likewise permitted in any restaurant or luncheon if a substantial portion of the food which it serves doesn't move in interstate commerce but is actually grown in the same state and if all the customers are local residents.

The new law also permits what is termed "racial imbalance" and specifically says that "desegregation" does not mean "the assignment of students to public schools in order to overcome racial imbalance."

Yet in New York City this very week a petition signed by 42,000 persons—parents and taxpayers—has been presented to the city clerk in an effort to prevent the operation of the Board of Education's school pairing which are scheduled to take effect in September. The plans, of course, were devised to help eliminate what is called "de facto" segregation.

In the case of "equal employment opportunities," the new law states that during the first year there must be no discrimination in hiring in any business which has 100 or more employees. But, it will be asked, what happens to the principle of "equal protection of the laws" for those individuals who are discriminated against in companies with less than 100 employees?

In another section of the law there is permissive discrimination in the hiring of employees in any business or enterprise "on or near an Indian reservation." And here again the challenge may be made on the ground that the doctrine of "equal protection of the laws" does not permit of any such exception. There has been a good deal of confusion over the question whether the new "civil rights" law is based on the 14th Amendment or on the "commerce clause" of the Constitution. Some people who have not read the new statute very carefully seem to think that reliance on the 14th Amendment has been abandoned and that the "commerce clause" of the Constitution alone is being invoked. Actually, the new "civil rights" law says:

"Discrimination or segregation by an establishment is supported by state action within the meaning of this title if such discrimination or segregation is carried on under color of any law, statute, ordinance or regulation."

This provision is, of course, based on the 14th Amendment which forbids state action of a discriminatory nature. In its 1883 decision, the Supreme Court said the 14th Amendment applies only to discrimination by the state itself and not to private individuals. Only last month, three justices of the Supreme Court of the United States specifically stated that the 14th Amendment could not be Constitutionally invoked to forbid discrimination in hotels or motels, even though they were licensed by the state to operate. The justices said:

"Businesses owned by private persons do not become agencies of the state because they are licensed; to hold that they do would be completely to negate all our private ownership concepts and practices."

But the new "civil rights" law—relying nevertheless on the 14th Amendment—specifically says that "state action" is involved and federal authority can be used to intervene when any hotel, restaurant or rooming house discriminates on the basis of "any regulation" required by the state. For these same businesses are licensed by the state irrespective of whether they engage in interstate commerce.

The question of constitutionality is thus open to further arguments by both the proponents and opponents of the new law, and it isn't going to be settled by any national political party convention.

No Place for Cows, Even People

Work Moving Briskly
For GOP Convention
At Bay City Palace

By MORRIE LANDSBERG
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Bay City Palace is no place today for cows. Or people.

Still Work on Platform

Work is moving along briskly and noisily to transform the big exhibition hall and home of a professional ice hockey team into the arena for selecting the 1964 Republican ticket. The convention opens Monday.

Flags of the states have been draped on both sides. A new electronic score board has been installed to flash a running total of the vote for the presidential nomination. Most of the delegation phones are in. The major business of erecting the platform area, however, is only half completed. Workmen are still erecting partitions off the floor for various activities.

Members of the convention arrangements committee made their way through the lumber and wires Tuesday to assess the progress.

"It's working out very well," said Clare Shank of St. Petersburg, Fla., a GOP national committeewoman and a former assistant national chairman.

Mrs. Shank said she was delighted that so little room for the 1,308 delegates had been sacrificed in enlarging the platform space allowed for the 1956 Republican convention in the same hall.

Credit Card Coverage

Back at the headquarters hotel, there were happy tidings for people who'd like to attend the "GOParty Gala" convention event but don't have $500 in cash for a ticket.

Just charge it, the sponsors said. More specifically, the national Republican senatorial and congressional committees announced they'll accept credit cards for the foremost social event of the convention.

What will the guests get for their $500?

An engraved ticket, the size of a calling card, engraved in silver and blue, and packaged in a dark blue leather jewelry box. The box also will contain a tiny silver pin in the shape of the Capitol dome.

A chance to get a close look at all party presidential possibilities and dignitaries and to mix with what advance publicity bills as numerous movie and television personalities.

An elaborate buffet and drinks, dancing to two orchestras and banjo entertainment.

Proceeds will help finance election expenses for Republican candidates for the Senate and House in the fall campaigns.

Timeless Warning

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—A 128-year-old letter, written by Ezra Keller nearly a decade before he became Wittenberg University's first president, was discovered recently in an old cupboard.

The letter, presented to the University, was dated at Louisville, Ky., Oct. 1836. Written by Keller to his fiancée, Miss Carolyn Routzong of Middletown, Md., it recounts experiences of the first 600 miles of a 3,000-mile missionary journey which he was to make from Maryland to Missouri.

In it, Keller—who married Miss Routzong on April 25, 1837—warns his fiancée to "be choicy (sic) of your company."

Mackinac Island is one of the oldest resort areas in the country and keeps its rustic flavor by the ban on cars.

U. S., Soviet Appear to Have
New Ideas on Forces for U.N.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and the Soviet union appear to be moving into a major new negotiation on the future makeup, organization and financing of U.N. military forces employed over the world to deal with threats to peace.

The two powers differ sharply on the extent of control which should be vested as a practical matter in the Security Council rather than the General Assembly and on some other issues.

But State Department authorities said today they are encouraged by the latest Soviet move and believe that the Soviet government may be ready to open serious negotiations on these questions and to cooperate with the United Nations to a degree unknown in the past.

These officials are trying to assess the Soviet Union's intentions in the light of its split with Red China and the fact that it is facing a loss of its vote in the United Nations because of refusal to pay assessments for past U.N. peace-keeping operations.

Disclosure of the Soviet move came Monday night with the release in Tokyo of a Soviet note to Japan calling for the formation of the U.N. military force under the Security Council, the troops to be supplied by the smaller U.N. members, including Communist countries. The five veto powers of the council would provide funds but no troops.

U.S. officials are still puzzled by the fact that the note was presented first to Japan and made public there by the Foreign Office.

The United States and Great Britain were not given official Soviet outlines of the proposal until Tuesday night.

Reuther Launches
Rambler Talks

DETROIT (AP)—A United Auto Workers bargaining team headed by Union President Walter P. Reuther opened contract talks today with American Motors Corp.—the firm which provided a dramatic breakthrough in 1961 negotiations.

Talks with the Big Three car makers—Ford Motor Co., General Motors Corp. and Chrysler Corp.—began last week. AMC is the smallest of the major car producers.

Company spokesmen would give no advance hints of the position AMC Vice President Edward L. Cushman would take in today's opening round. Last time around, Cushman and Michigan's Republican Gov. George W. Romney, then president of the company, authored the auto industry's first profit-sharing plan.

Under the profit-sharing arrangement, a percentage of AMC's pretax adjusted earnings is put into a fund. Some of the money is used to finance insur-

Hunt Enters 3rd Day for Missing New York Boys

NEWCASTLE, N. B. (AP)—More than 120 men entered thick woods in Northeastern New Brunswick today as a search for five missing New York boys entered its third day.

Airmen, Royal Canadian Mounted Police officers, Forestry Department personnel and volunteers criss-crossed an area dotted by swamps where the boys were last seen Monday. An RCMP tracking dog joined the search today.

RCMP headquarters here, 50 miles east of the search area, said names of the missing boys would not be disclosed until New York police confirm their families have been notified.

Three are 16, two 14. The boys, members of a youth club, failed to return from a trip to an abandoned fire tower a few miles from the campsite on the edge of Holmes Lake.

No Place for Cows, Even People

For GOP Convention
At Bay City Palace

By MORRIE LANDSBERG
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Cow Palace is no place today for cows. Or people.

Still Work on Platform

Work is moving along briskly and noisily to transform the big exhibition hall and home of a professional ice hockey team into the arena for selecting the 1964 Republican ticket. The convention opens Monday.

Flags of the states have been draped on both sides. A new electronic score board has been installed to flash a running total of the vote for the presidential nomination. Most of the delegation phones are in.

The major business of erecting the platform area, however, is only half completed. Workmen are still erecting partitions off the floor for various activities.

Members of the convention arrangements committee made their way through the lumber and wires Tuesday to assess the progress.

"It's working out very well," said Clare Shank of St. Petersburg, Fla., a GOP national committeewoman and a former assistant national chairman.

Mrs. Shank said she was delighted that so little room for the 1,308 delegates had been sacrificed in enlarging the platform space allowed for the 1956 Republican convention in the same hall.

QUIET RETREAT—Mrs. Lady Bird Johnson selected Mackinac Island, Mich., as the place to get away from the hustle and bustle of political life and the monoxide fumes of Washington for a few days. In this historic resort area the automobile not only does not reign supreme, it isn't even allowed to enter. Mackinac Island is one of the oldest resort areas in the country and keeps its rustic flavor by the ban on cars.

U. S., Soviet Appear to Have
New Ideas on Forces for U.N.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and the Soviet union appear to be moving into a major new negotiation on the future makeup, organization and financing of U.N. military forces employed over the world to deal with threats to peace.

The two powers differ sharply on the extent of control which should be vested as a practical matter in the Security Council rather than the General Assembly and on some other issues. But State Department authorities said today they are encouraged by the latest Soviet move and believe that the Soviet government may be ready to open serious negotiations on these questions and to cooperate with the United Nations to a degree unknown in the past.

These officials are trying to assess the Soviet Union's intentions in the light of its split with Red China and the fact that it is facing a loss of its vote in the United Nations because of refusal to pay assessments for past U.N. peace-keeping operations.

Disclosure of the Soviet move came Monday night with the release in Tokyo of a Soviet note to Japan calling for the formation of the U.N. military force under the Security Council, the troops to be supplied by the smaller U.N. members, including Communist countries. The five-veto powers of the council would provide funds but no troops.

U.S. officials are still puzzled by the fact that the note was presented first to Japan and made public there by the Foreign Office.

The United States and Great Britain were not given official Soviet outlines of the proposal until Tuesday night.

Reuther Launches
Rambler Talks

DETROIT (AP)—A United Auto Workers bargaining team headed by Union President Walter P. Reuther opened contract talks today with American Motors Corp.—the firm which provided a dramatic breakthrough in 1961 negotiations.

Talks with the Big Three car makers—Ford Motor Co., General Motors Corp. and Chrysler Corp.—began last week. AMC is the smallest of the major car producers.

Company spokesmen would give no advance hints of the position AMC Vice President Edward L. Cushman would take in today's opening round. Last time around, Cushman and Michigan's Republican Gov. George W. Romney, then president of the company, authored the auto industry's first profit-sharing plan.

Under the profit-sharing arrangement, a percentage of AMC's pretax adjusted earnings is put into a fund. Some of the money is used to finance insur-

Some AMC workers have indicated they would rather have cash. This may be discussed at the bargaining table.

Hunt Enters 3rd Day for Missing New York Boys

NEWCASTLE, N. B. (AP)—More than 120 men entered thick woods in Northeastern New Brunswick today as a search for five missing New York boys entered its third day.

Airmen, Royal Canadian Mounted Police officers, Forestry Department personnel and volunteers criss-crossed an area dotted by swamps where the boys were last seen Monday. An RCMP tracking dog joined the search today.

RCMP headquarters here, 50 miles east of the search area, said names of the missing boys would not be disclosed until New York police confirm their families have been notified.

Three are 16, two 14. The boys, members of a youth club, failed to return from a trip to an abandoned fire tower a few miles from the campsite on the edge of Holmes Lake.

Whistle Upsets Town

SLEAFORD, England (AP)—Locomotive 61210 shunted into a siding and her whistle blew. It blew and blew and blew and blew — for 90 minutes nonstop while the townspeople were trying to get to sleep. Station master Leonard Rook apologized today. Something went wrong with the whistle, he explained, and nothing could be done until 61210 ran out of steam.

Why We Say--

"The Ghost Walks" started with what was almost an actor's strike. The actor who played the ghost in Hamlet in a theatre in London asked to be paid. When he was refused, he said, "Then the ghost won't walk tonight." Finally the management paid the ghost and he walked. Thus, "the ghost walks" became the name for paydays.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

Long ago I visited a friend in Woodstock. In the small house, there were two identical separate front doors, alongside of each other, and no partitions inside. I asked, "How come?" I was told, that the house and property were left to two brothers or relatives, who saw fit to have separate doors and keys to their property and building, and so for forty years they lived under the same roof, and I understand, not speaking to each other. Perhaps this is folklore, but I saw the doors, forgetting now exactly where this house was.

Some years back I wrote about a John Bell Crispell, known as "The Little Wizard" or "Old Man Crispell" or even Rip Van Winkle of Hurley, or Santa Claus because he was fat and round and with a beard, had an old horse and buggy and was known to be temperamental. His well known talent was to move houses intact. He is given credit for moving the Gen. Sharpe Mansion back for the building of the Gov. Clinton Hotel.

It is said, that right here in Kingston he had a contract to cut a house in half and move half of it back in another lot on Prospect Street. Another house he moved back so a porch could be built on it. Both houses were near the foundry. I understand, it was a large double house with cellar in part they wanted to keep as a dwelling, the other half they cut off and rolled back in the yard for a workshop. I was told this over the phone some years ago, by one who claimed she saw it happen. Old man Crispell got up on the roof and started to saw the roof, and everyone stopped doing whatever they were doing and watched him.

As I remember, Frank Waters of Marletown, wrote me that he thought the contractor for the Gen. Sharpe house came from New Jersey, and meeting with some difficulties Mr. Crispell was called in, and the big brick structure was moved without a crack in the wall. I also heard at the time, as I remember from Isaac Rosa, Crispell's nephew at Hurley, and he understood his uncle was called in on the moving of the Mansion but was too old to do it himself.

People who watched, think they remember the old man, and the horses, and the big beams which were inserted in the Gen. Sharpe Mansion. The new foundation was dug out to receive the building first. The winches were sawed out of hickory logs on a sawmill on East Chester Street at the time, by Fred Cole, the sawyer, who resided at the time of this information on Foxhall Avenue. Then the logs were taken to the Universal Road Machinery Co. and with wood lathe they were turned down into spool shape around which the ropes were wound.

I understand Mrs. Myers, who lived in Port Ewen was also related to Mr. Crispell and she had some of his hand-made tools, as she told me once over the phone. He used, I understand, homemade winches, big ropes, and some 16 inch square beams, which went the length and width of the house. The one team of horses, were the real heavy work horses, and perhaps each horse weighed a ton or more. No doubt my readers can add to the above information on John Bell Crispell of Hurley. It is said he learned his tricks of trade from watching moving of heavy buildings at Cone Island and so copied ideas with his own homemade equipment.

Simone Signoret Decision on Film Costs $450,000

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The French are supposed to be sharp with a buck but Simone Signoret owns an Oscar that cost her some $450,000.

The French actress is back in Hollywood for the first time since she won the Academy Award in 1960 for "Room at the Top."

"Jimmy Woolf the producer offered me a healthy percentage of the picture or $50,000 cash. I took the cash."

"As of now, the percentage would have netted me $500,000. 'We knew we had a good script but when we made the picture in England, there was no one in the cast who dreamed that it ever would be the success it has become.'"

The movie recently was sold to television—and that best actress Oscar may cost her even more.

Accused of Plotting

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — A member of Kenya's Parliament has charged Britain with a "cunning and deliberate plan" to win Somali tribesmen in Kenya to the side of Somali rebels, who have been raiding villages along Kenya's north-east frontier.

Simone is here playing a jaded contessa in Stanley Kramer's "Ship of Fools."

"I had been offered many scripts but I had always always admired Stanley's work so when he beckoned, I came. Now that I'm here working for him, I don't like him. He's a slave driver."

But she was only needing the affable Kramer.

This time, she didn't bring her husband, Yves Montand, with her.

"He is doing very well in Paris on the stage in 'A Thousand Clowns.'"

Has Simone got a piece of "Ship of Fools?"

"Mais non," she answers. "But this time I'm getting $150,000 plus expenses. I'm learning."

Play Trump Soon If Possible

By OSWALD JACOBY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

One of the basic principles of play at a suit contract is that declarer should draw trumps as soon as he can do so safely, provided that he has no need to ruff anything with the short hand.

Here is the sort of hand that a member of the American Bridge Teachers' Association would use to illustrate this principle.

He would first point out that South opens one spade because his hand is too strong for a one no-trump bid and too weak for a two no-trump opening. Besides, North has eight supporting points for his raise to two spades and therefore the South hand is worth with a jump to the spade game.

West opens the king of hearts. South notes that he has two potential heart losers, one sure diamond loser and one sure club loser. He sees that he can eliminate one heart loser by ruffing in dummy so South cannot afford to draw trumps right away. Instead he wins the first trick with the ace of hearts and leads the suit right back. When he gets the lead next he will ruff a heart with dummy's king or ten of trumps. Actually the three spot would do just as well, but he can afford to use an honor and should do so just in case Eight might be able to overruff the three spot.

Then he draws trumps and either concedes a club and a diamond or plays the hand out in the hope that a squeeze might develop or the defense just play badly.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

Long ago I visited a friend in Woodstock. In the small house, there were two identical separate front doors, alongside of each other, and no partitions inside. I asked, "How come?" I was told, that the house and property were left to two brothers or relatives, who saw fit to have separate doors and keys to their property and building, and so for forty years they lived under the same roof, and I understand, not speaking to each other. Perhaps this is folklore, but I saw the doors, forgetting now exactly where this house was.

Some years back I wrote about a John Bell Crispell, known as "The Little Wizard" or "Old Man Crispell" or even Rip Van Winkle of Hurley, or Santa Claus because he was fat and round and with a beard, had an old horse and buggy and was known to be temperamental. His well known talent was to move houses intact. He is given credit for moving the Gen. Sharpe Mansion back for the building of the Gov. Clinton Hotel.

It is said, that right here in Kingston he had a contract to cut a house in half and move half of it back in another lot on Prospect Street. Another house he moved back so a porch could be built on it. Both houses were near the foundry. I understand, it was a large double house with cellar in part they wanted to keep as a dwelling, the other half they cut off and rolled back in the yard for a workshop. I was told this over the phone some years ago, by one who claimed she saw it happen. Old man Crispell got up on the roof and started to saw the roof, and everyone stopped doing whatever they were doing and watched him.

As I remember, Frank Waters of Marbletown, wrote me that he thought the contractor for the Gen. Sharpe house came from New Jersey, and meeting with some difficulties Mr. Crispell was called in, and the big brick structure was moved without a crack in the wall. I also heard at the time, as I remember from Isaac Rosa, Crispell's nephew at Hurley, and he understood his uncle was called in on the moving of the Mansion but was too old to do it himself.

People who watched, think they remember the old man, and the horses, and the big beams which were inserted in the Gen. Sharpe Mansion. The new foundation was dug out to receive the building first. The winches were sawed out of hickory logs on a sawmill on East Chester Street at the time, by Fred Cole, the sawyer, who resided at the time of this information on Foxhall Avenue. Then the logs were taken to the Universal Road Machinery Co. and with wood lathe they were turned down into spool shape around which the ropes were wound.

I understand Mrs. Myers, who lived in Port Ewen, was also related to Mr. Crispell and she had some of his hand-made tools, as she told me once over the phone. He used, I understand, homemade winches, big ropes, and some 16 inch square beams, which went the length and width of the house. The one team of horses, were the real heavy work horses, and perhaps each horse weighed a ton or more. No doubt my readers can add to the above information on John Bell Crispell of Hurley. It is said he learned his tricks of trade from watching moving of heavy buildings at Coney Island and so copied ideas with his own homemade equipment.

BRIDGE

Play Trump Soon If Possible

By OSWALD JACOBY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

One of the basic principles of play at a suit contract is that declarer should draw trumps as soon as he can do so safely, provided that he has no need to ruff anything with the short hand.

Here is the sort of hand that a member of the American Bridge Teachers' Association would use to illustrate this principle.

He would first point out that South opens one spade because his hand is too strong for a one no-trump bid and too weak for a two no-trump opening. Besides, North has eight supporting points for his raise to two spades and therefore the South hand is worth with a jump to the spade game.

Actually the three spot would do just as well, but he can afford to use an honor and should do so just in case Eight might be able to overruff the three spot.

Then he draws trumps and either concedes a club and a diamond or plays the hand out in the hope that a squeeze might develop or the defense just play badly.

Simone Signoret Decision on Film Costs $450,000

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The French actress is supposed to be sharp with a buck but Simone Signoret owns an Oscar that cost her some $450,000.

The French actress is back in Hollywood for the first time since she won the Academy Award in 1960 for "Room at the Top."

Jimmy Woolf the producer offered her a healthy percentage of the picture or $50,000 cash. I took the cash.

"As of now, the percentage would have netted me $500,000. We knew we had a good script but when we made the picture in England, there was no one in the cast who dreamed that it ever would be the success it has become."

The movie recently was sold to television—and that best actress Oscar may cost her even more.

Accused of Plotting

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — A member of Kenya's Parliament has charged Britain with a "cunning and deliberate plan" to win Somali tribesmen in Kenya to the side of Somali rebels, who have been raiding villages along Kenya's north-east frontier.

Simone is here playing a jaded contessa in Stanley Kramer's "Ship of Fools."

"I had been offered many scripts but I had always always admired Stanley's work so when he beckoned, I came. Now that I'm here working for him, I don't like him. He's a slave driver."

But she was only needing the affable Kramer.

This time, she didn't bring her husband, Yves Montand, with her.

"He is doing very well in Paris on the stage in 'A Thousand Clowns.'"

Has Simone got a piece of "Ship of Fools?"

"Mais non," she answers. "But this time I'm getting $150,000 plus expenses. I'm learning."

No Decision Expected From Justices on Refused Raise

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—They're on vacation now but even when they're in session the Supreme Court's nine justices never give their opinion except on Mondays.

But this doesn't mean they don't have an opinion now on what the Senate just did to them. They'll never express it from the bench.

Over the years, particularly since its 1954 ban on public school segregation, the court has been denounced, reviled, attacked, criticized, heckled and abused and there have even been suggestions to lynch Chief Justice Earl Warren.

But, undiscouraged and undeterred, the court has gone on making new enemies with new decisions, like the one banning compulsory reading of the Bible and the Lord's Prayer in public schools.

Hit in Pocketbook
Each decision seemed to irritate some members of Congress where proposals to retaliate have ranged all the way from restricting the court's authority to constitutional amendments to undo what it did.

All came to nothing. The court escaped unscathed, and no one guess the Senate would hit it in a place never suspected: the pocketbook.

This year the court had surpassed itself in irritating Congress, at least some members of it, by a landmark decision showing how far the court is willing to go, if Congress won't act, to assure equal treatment to people.

It was a decision requiring states to reshuffle their congressional districts from which members of the House of Representatives are elected.

The court wants: the districts revised according to population to give voters more equal representation in the House. "One voter, one vote," is the court's philosophy. In the rearranging of some present members of the House may lose their jobs.

But the court's opinion does not affect senators. Each state, large or small, is entitled to two senators. They're elected statewide, not by districts, and population has nothing to do with it.

Senate Tight-Fisted
Oddly enough, it was the Senate, not the House, which decided to get tight-fisted with the justices. Earlier this year President Johnson pushed Congress to pass a federal pay raise bill.

It would mean a boost for more than 1.7 million people on the government pay roll, including the justices, federal judges, members of Congress, Cabinet members and other executives.

To do this the House voted $533 million, the Senate $564 million. Because there was a difference the two houses will have to iron it out. The final agreed on total will be voted perhaps later this month.

So far so good. But the House and Senate didn't see eye to eye on a raise for the justices, eight of whom get $35,000 a year. The chief justice gets $35,500. The bill both houses considered called for raising them all $7,500.

Senate Cut Is $2,500
While the House approved, the Senate cut the raise to $2,500, although it voted a full $7,500 for 477 other federal judges, active and retired. Both houses voted themselves a $7,500 raise, from $22,500 to $30,000.

The swipe at the justices was engineered by Sen. Gordon Allott, Colorado Republican, who justified his action by arguing a justice has his pay for life, active or retired, and that he gets a vacation three months a year.

But this is what other federal judges get, too. Another argument he made was that the present $35,000 paid justices was out of proportion with the $22,500 being paid members of the House and Senate.

If the House agrees and the justices wind up with only $2,500 more this is one act of Congress they won't try to knock out. They'd be more embarrassed to undo it than was Congress when it did it.

George Washington supposedly was the first customer at the original mint in Philadelphia. He converted his silver spoons into half-dimes, now replaced by the nickel.

Scouts to Leave For Valley Forge Jamboree July 15

July 15th will be a "red letter day" for 80 Boy Scouts, Explorers, and leaders from the Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America, who will depart this area for the Sixth National Jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa.

The contingent members are eagerly planning participation in the jamboree activities.

The 1900-acre site at Valley Forge State Park in addition to providing camping areas for over 50,000 Scouts, will feature three conservation demonstration areas, four Scoutcraft activity areas, three skill-rama areas for scoutcraft demonstrations, campfire areas, and field sports areas for archery, orienteering, rifle marksmanship, 22 shotgun trap, and angling.

The conservation demonstration area will cover geology, weather, water, soil, forestry, range management, marine resources, backyard conservation, and conservation of natural beauty areas. A staff of instructors will come from federal, state, and private conservation agencies and from industry.

The scouts from the Rip Van Winkle Council are now practicing for participation in the scoutcraft activities which will include campcraft, personal fitness, and pioneering contests.

Campfires will be held in the evenings on a troop or sectional basis. There will be two arena shows attended by all 50,000 Scouts on the opening and closing nights of the jamboree—July 17 and July 23.

The Port Ewen Reformed Twareg means lost soul, a name given the tribesmen of western Africa by their traditional enemies, the Arabs. The Twaregs call themselves Imochagh, or the free ones.

VENUS DE DALI—With the real Venus de Milo on show in Tokyo, artist Salvador Dali placed his own "Venus a Tiroirs" on show in Paris. Dali's creation has drawers set into the body, complete with fur handles. Dali didn't explain the drawers—or the handles—in his version.

Young Candy Buyers Change About Store

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—After a show of force, a dozen kids have converted a candy store owner to their way of thinking. Their way of thinking is that when you are at a candy counter trying to make up your mind you don't like to be rushed.

They considered that Mrs. Antoinette Mufarreh was rushing them in her Noe Hill market at 4001 Noe St. So they marched on the market and protested.

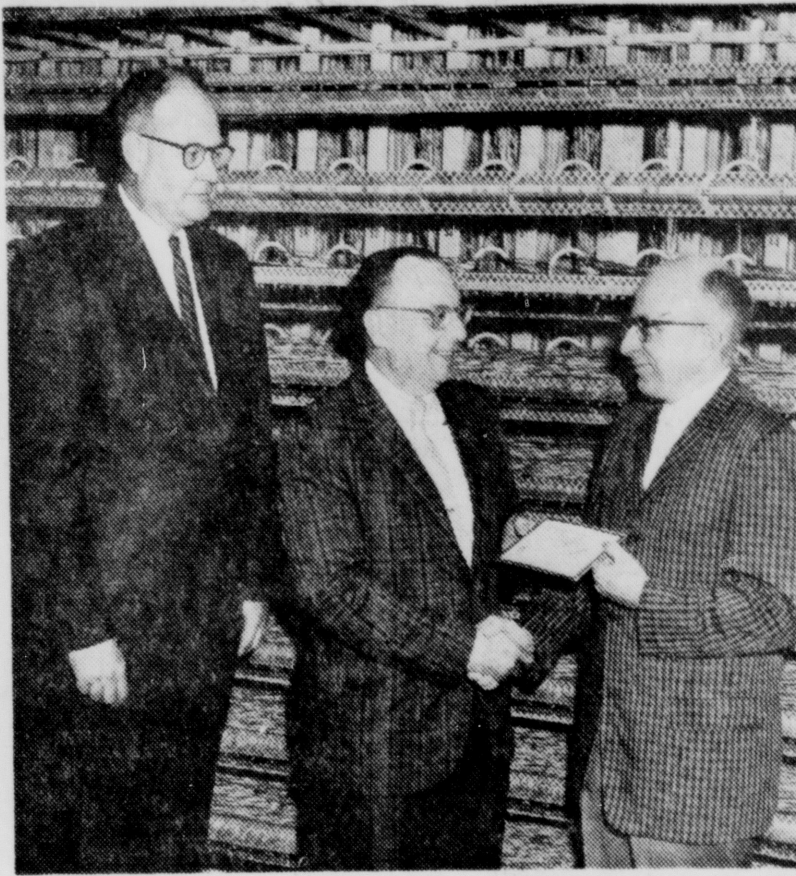

Mrs. Mufarreh agreed they should not be rushed at such a critical time. She went further. Would they like to come to her house for some free candy?

They would. And afterward: "She's a very nice lady," said Kevin Fregosi, 4, savoring a mint.

Builder Bequeaths $24 Million Estate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The estate of Washington builder Morris Cafritz was valued at about $24 million, according to probate papers filed Monday in U. S. District Court.

Cafritz, 77, who died June 11, was survived by his widow, Gwen, a widely known Washington hostess, and three sons.

JOINS SELECT GROUP—Safety eyeglasses saved the eyesight of C. F. By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Wednesday, July 8, the 190th day of 1964. There are 176 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1896, William Jennings Bryan made his "cross of gold" speech before the Democratic National Convention in Chicago.

U. S. Won't Listen To Cuban Overtures

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has given the cold shoulder to Prime Minister Fidel Castro's latest bid to improve U.S.-Cuban relations.

Castro was quoted in an interview with the New York Times as saying Cuba would cease its material support of Latin-American revolutionaries if the United States and its allies would agree to withhold material support of subversive activity against Cuba.

A State Department spokesman said Monday that the United States is standing by its position that neither Castro's ties with the Soviet Union, "which are tantamount to Soviet domination," nor Cuba's "promotion of subversion" can be a subject of negotiation.

On this date:

In 1835, the Liberty Bell was cracked as it was being tolled for the death of Chief Justice John Marshall.

In 1942, the British Royal Air Force hurled blockbusters on the German shipyards at Wilhelmshaven.

In 1946, the Allied foreign ministers agreed to issue invitations to a peace conference in Paris late in July.

Ten years ago — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said the United States had no plans to withdraw from the United Nations but promised to use the veto to prevent Red China from entering the Security Council.

Five years ago — The U.S. representative on the NATO Council announced that 200 American Air Force jet fighters would be moved from bases in France to West Germany and Britain.

One year ago — The United States froze Cuban assets in a new move to isolate the Castro regime economically.

In actual practice, the Canadian Senate has less power than the Canadian House of Commons.

Will Goldwater or Scranton be the Republican choice? Or, will the GOP elephant get behind a dark horse? For the complete and exciting story of everything that happens in the San Francisco Cow Palace, you'll want to read these pages—every day!

This newspaper is a member of The Associated Press, which means that a great team of AP reporters and photographers will cover the GOP convention for you. AP wires from San Francisco will carry the political drama as it unfolds—with vivid dispatches and pictures.

AP newsmen have been covering presidential nominating conventions for 116 years. Experience has taught them where to be when it matters most. So, for all the news and color of the convention, follow it on these pages—from the first day, July 13th, to the last hurrah.

A worried mother finds her GI son... because two helpful people wouldn't give up the search

THEY ANSWERED THE CALL FOR HELP — Service Representative Greta Wharton (top) and Supervisor Eileen Beasley.

Do people in today's fast-paced world still take the time to be helpful? And do it willingly and cheerfully? Ask Mrs. Ruth Lewis of New York City.

Mrs. Lewis was terribly worried when she called her local telephone office and talked with Service Representative Greta Wharton. Mrs. Lewis' son had told her he was on his way home from an Army assignment in the Panama Canal Zone. But days had passed, and no further word had come. Mrs. Lewis was sure something had happened to her son. She wanted to telephone him, but she had no idea where to reach him. Could Miss Wharton help?

Immediately, Miss Wharton and her supervisor, Miss Eileen Beasley, started a telephone search. They called an Army information center, a replacement center and a transfer point. Finally, after many calls, they located an officer in Fort Jackson, South Carolina, who told them Mrs. Lewis' son was safe. The officer promised to have him call his mother.

Moments later, Miss Wharton phoned Mrs. Lewis. It was a grateful and relieved mother who received the good news.

Do busy people still make it part of their business to be helpful? Yes. Lots of people do. Telephone people do. We're glad when they do.

City License Commissioner Joseph C. DiCarlo made the request Tuesday, saying: "The late president's widow is entitled to the full dignity she deserves."

Crowds of tourists outside her Washington, D.C., home apparently were one of the reasons Mrs. Kennedy decided to move to New York City.

4 Persons Hurt In Rt. 52 Crash

Four persons were injured in a three-car collision which occurred this morning on Route 52 at the intersection of Briggs Highway, Town of Wawarsing.

Ellenville State Police reported Henry S. Miller, 19, of Liberty was driving east on Route 52 and attempted a left turn into Briggs Highway when his car was in collision with a vehicle operated by Theodore Schissel, 24, of Brooklyn. A third car, driven by Michael Doti, 18, of Greenfield Park, following the Miller vehicle was in collision with that car, according to an investigation by Sgt. D. J. Suttlehan.

Injured and taken to Veterans Memorial Hospital were: Miller, who suffered lacerations of the head and right leg and a possible fracture; Schissel, severe lacerations of the head; Doti, who sustained neck injuries and David Neuwhirt, 47, of Liberty, who was treated for lacerations of the head and right leg. He was a passenger in Miller's car, troopers said.

Visiting Sailing Ship on Mud Bank Awaits High Tide

A 60-foot brigantine sailing ship with 27 Canadian sea cadets scheduled to dock at Kingston early today to permit the skipper to present greetings from Kingston, Ontario to Mayor John J. Schwenk, was stuck on a mud bank late this morning in the Cocksackie-Coeymans area of the Hudson River.

This was the second incident causing delay in the motorized vessel's voyage which left Kingston, Ontario on July 1, headed for the World's Fair.

The training vessel was expected to come off the mud bank as the tide came in about noon.

The brigantine, St. Lawrence II is skippered by Capt. Francis MacLachlan, who was to bring the greeting to the mayor.

The vessel is part of a flotilla of sailing ships in Operation Sail Past in which 11 nations are participating.

Member of Kingston Kiwanis Club and the mayor were awaiting the arrival of the brigantine to accord its officers and crew the official welcome to the city.

They were scheduled to out to sea after the World's Fair visit to rendezvous with several other sailing vessels from Sweden, Japan, Portugal and the Americas.

The crew consists of 27 cadets in the 14 to 16 age bracket. At Albany a crane at the port put up the brigantine's masts which were lashed to the deck during the first part of the voyage.

The vessel developed trouble at Bremerton on Lake Oneida and the shaft was removed and sent back to Kingston, Ontario for repairs.

Construction of the brigantine was started in 1953 and was completed the next year. It is 60 feet long and has a 15-foot beam. She draws seven feet, six inches of water.

The training ship for sea cadets is owned by Brigantine Inc., a group of private shareholders.

Negroes Schedule

law explained to Gov. Albertis S. Harrison Jr. of Virginia just what they expect to do.

Secretary of Commerce Luther Hodges and LeRoy Collins, the man named to head the Community Relations Service under Hodges, said the service would merely act as a conciliation force in any civil rights disputes.

In Washington, Collins told senators he looks on his nomination as director of the service as the greatest challenge of his lifetime.

"We approach this with charity and understanding and not with malice toward anyone," he told the Senate Commerce Committee at a hearing on his nomination for the $22,500-a-year job.

A Negro teen-ager said at Bessemer, Ala., that he and four companions were beaten by white men with baseball bats when the Negroes took seats at a white lunch counter. One youth was treated for head cuts. The others apparently were not hurt seriously.

Nine Negro youths were arrested on a variety of charges at Selma, Ala., where a voter registration campaign is under way.

Eleven leaders of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People continued their tour of Mississippi, cracking racial barriers on route, including two plush resort hotels at Biloxi.

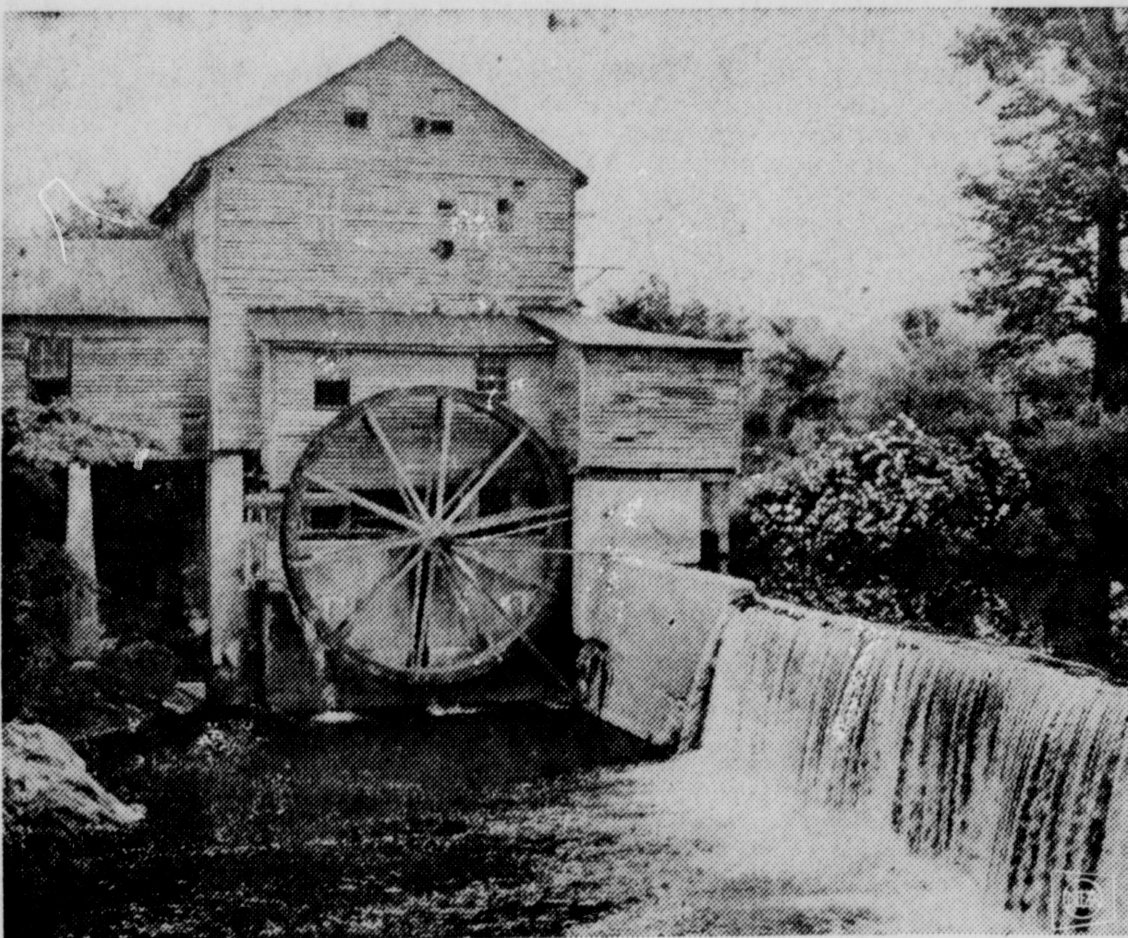

They sent a telegram to Goldwater, candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, urging him to visit Mississippi and see conditions under which Negroes live in that state.

They charged Negroes "are being intimidated, terrorized and are afraid to exercise their basic right to register and vote."

Dominican Mother Dies

TOMS RIVER, N.J. (AP)—Mother Christina Marie O.P., former mother-general of the Dominican Sisters of Newburgh, N.Y., died Tuesday. She was 74.

She served two six-year terms as mother general, from 1947 to 1959, and for the past five years has been superior and principal at St. Joseph's School in Tombs River. She also served in Laurel Springs and Paterson. Burial will be in Newburgh, N.Y.

"DOWN BY THE OLD MILL STREAM . . ."—The words of the familiar song haunt the memory at the sight of this old mill at Pigeon Forge, Tenn. The mill, built in 1830 and still in daily operation, is made of hand-hewed pine, yellow poplar, hemlock and oak, and is held together with hickory pegs.

Governor Makes 11th Hour Illinois Appeal

Scranton Employs Whistle-Stops To Start Political Prairie Fire

CHICAGO (AP) — Gov. William W. Scranton has had two pretty good days in Illinois, cultivating the grass-roots voters and trying to start a political prairie fire against Sen. Barry Goldwater.

The crowds that turned out to hear him were friendly, attentive and largely responsive.

Some Brave Rain

In two instances, at a shopping center in southwest Chicago and in Mattoon, people braved rain to listen to him. In Evanston, where he lashed at Goldwater in one of his sharpest attacks since he declared for the Republican presidential nomination, supporters shouted "Give it to him," and "Give him hell, Bill."

But the pivotal question remains: Can Scranton, through his appeal to the Republican man-on-the-street, put enough pressure on the 58-man Illinois delegation, to pull any considerable number of votes away from Goldwater?

The delegation voted 48-0 for Goldwater last week, with 10 abstaining.

Scranton adopted the maneuver of taking his case to the voters. He asked them to write and wire the Illinois delegates in San Francisco, expressing their preference for him. Scranton claims polls show that 65 per cent of the Republicans in Illinois want him, not Goldwater as the GOP candidate.

Scranton on Tuesday revived a fine and effective old tradition of presidential campaigns—the whistle-stop. It paid off for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1952.

Surprised by Crowds

The reaction to Scranton's railway foray caused him to say, "I believe we have picked up some delegate votes. It looks good. I was surprised by the size of the crowds because this has been heralded as Goldwater territory."

He traveled from Springfield to Decatur, Mattoon, Champaign and Kankakee. Then he spoke in Evanston.

In Evanston, a crowd gathered in Fountain Square, on four sides of the rostrum, to hear Scranton. It looked to be in the neighborhood of 10,000, and it was vociferous. Again, the Goldwater placards appeared, along with "We want Barry" chanting.

Scranton drew cheers with phrases criticizing "the philosophy of negation—the slow death of blind reaction—an exclusion-minded minority—a never-never-land that puts our nation somewhere back in the 19th century."

Once or twice, the applause and banner-waving went on so long that Scranton had to halt it with gestures.

This is the eleventh hour before the balloting begins in San Francisco. The odds appear overwhelming against Scranton. But the governor himself and those around him continue to look astonishingly confident.

4 Persons Hurt In Rt. 52 Crash

Four persons were injured in a three-car collision which occurred this morning on Route 52 at the intersection of Briggs Highway, Town of Wawarsing.

Ellenville State Police reported Henry S. Miller, 19, of Liberty was driving east on Route 52 and attempted a left turn into Briggs Highway when his car was in collision with a vehicle operated by Theodore Schissel, 24, of Brooklyn. A third car, driven by Michael Doti, 18, of Greenfield Park, following the Miller vehicle was in collision with that car, according to an investigation by Sgt. D. J. Suttiehan.

Injured and taken to Veterans Memorial Hospital were: Miller, who suffered lacerations of the head and right leg and a possible fracture; Schissel, severe lacerations of the head; Doti, who sustained neck injuries and David Neuwirth, 47, of Liberty, who was treated for lacerations of the head and right leg. He was a passenger in Miller's car, troopers said.

Visiting Sailing Ship on Mud Bank Awaits High Tide

A 60-foot brigantine sailing ship with 27 Canadian sea cadets scheduled to dock at Kingston early today to permit the skipper to present greetings from Kingston, Ontario to Mayor John J. Schwenk, was stuck on a mud bank late this morning in the Cossackie-Coeymann's area of the Hudson River.

This was the second incident causing delay in the motorized vessel's voyage which left Kingston, Ontario on July 1, headed for the World's Fair.

The training vessel was expected to come off the mud bank as the tide came in about noon.

The brigantine, St. Lawrence II is skippered by Capt. Francis MacLellan, who was to bring the greeting to the mayor.

The vessel is part of a flotilla of sailing ships in Operation Sail Past in which 11 nations are participating.

Member of Kingston Kiwanis Club and the mayor were awaiting the arrival of the brigantine to accord its officers and crew the official welcome to the city.

They were scheduled to out to sea after the World's Fair visit to rendezvous with several other sailing vessels from Sweden, Japan, Portugal and the Americas.

The crew consists of 27 cadets in the 14 to 16 age bracket. At Albany a crane at the port put up the brigantine's masts which were lashed to the deck during the first part of the voyage.

The vessel developed trouble at Bremerton on Lake Oneida and the shaft was removed and sent back to Kingston, Ontario for repairs.

Construction of the brigantine was started in 1953 and was completed the next year. It is 60 feet long and has a 15-foot beam. She draws seven feet, six inches of water.

The training ship for sea cadets is owned by Brigantine Inc., a group of private shareholders.

Negroes Schedule

law explained to Gov. Albertus S. Harrison Jr. of Virginia just what they expect to do.

Secretary of Commerce Luther Hodges and LeRoy Collins, the man named to head the Community Relations Service under Hodges, said the service would merely act as a conciliation force in any civil rights disputes.

In Washington, Collins told senators he looks on the nomination as director of the service as the greatest challenge of his lifetime.

"We approach this with charity and understanding and not with malice toward anyone," he told the Senate Commerce Committee at a hearing on his nomination for the $22,500-a-year job.

A Negro teen-ager said at Bessemer, Ala., that he and four companions were beaten by white men with baseball bats when the Negroes took seats at a white lunch counter. One youth was treated for head cuts. The others apparently were not hurt seriously.

Nine Negro youths were arrested on a variety of charges at Selma, Ala., where a voter registration campaign is under way.

Eleven leaders of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People continued their tour of Mississippi, cracking racial barriers en route, including two plush resort hotels at Biloxi.

They sent a telegram to Goldwater, candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, urging him to visit Mississippi and see conditions under which Negroes live in that state.

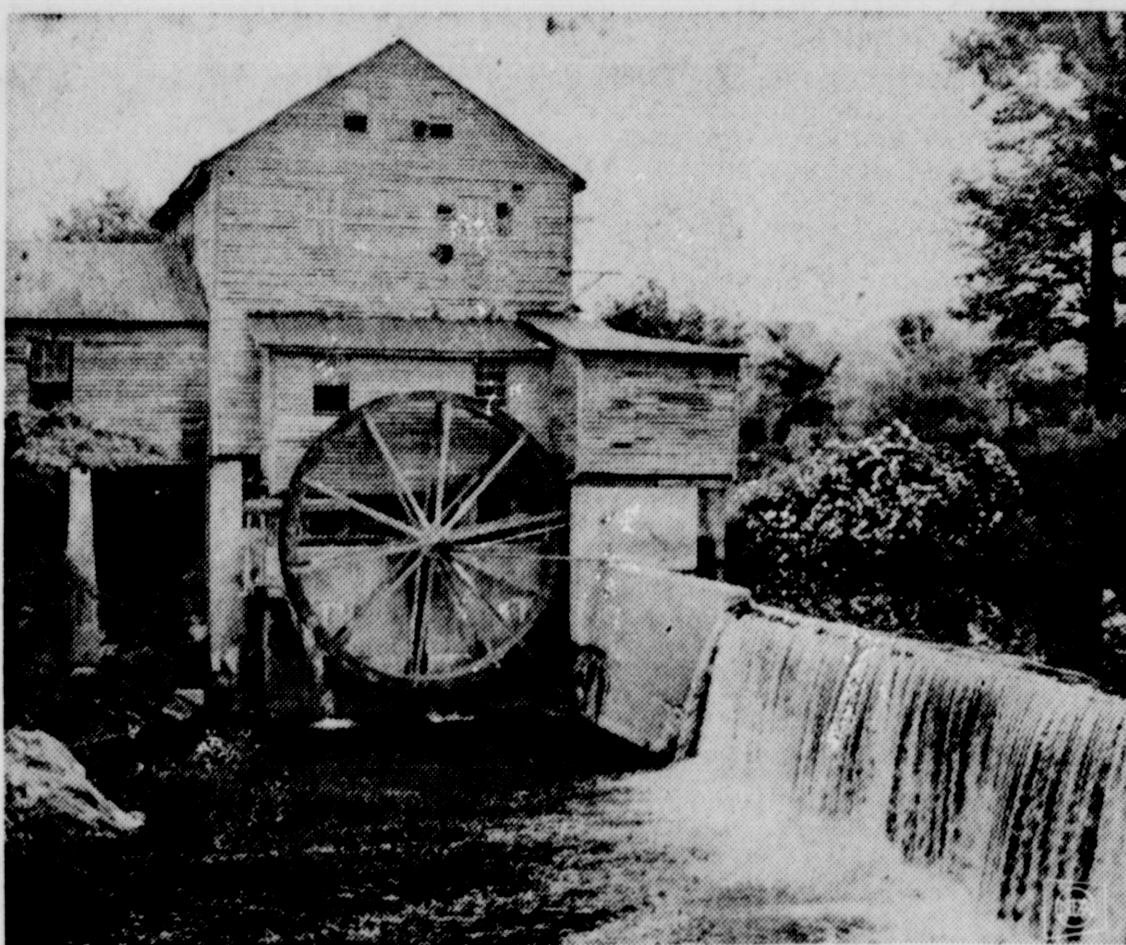

They charged Negroes "are being intimidated, terrorized and are afraid to exercise their basic right to register and vote."

Governor Makes 11th Hour Illinois Appeal

Scranton Employs Whistle-Stops To Start Political Prairie Fire

CHICAGO (AP)—Gov. William W. Scranton has had two pretty good days in Illinois, cultivating the grass-roots voters and trying to start a political prairie fire against Sen. Barry Goldwater.

The crowds that turned out to hear him were friendly, attentive and largely responsive.

Some Brave Rain

In two instances, at a shopping center in southwest Chicago and in Mattoon, people braved rain to listen to him. In Evanston, where he lashed at Goldwater in one of his sharpest attacks since he declared for the Republican presidential nomination, supporters shouted "Give it to him," and "Give him hell, Bill."

But the pivotal question remains: Can Scranton, through his appeal to the Republican man-on-the-street, put enough pressure on the 58-man Illinois delegation, to pull any considerable number of votes away from Goldwater?

The delegation voted 48-0 for Goldwater last week, with 10 abstaining.

Scranton adopted the maneuver of taking his case to the voters. He asked them to write and wire the Illinois delegates in San Francisco, expressing their preference for him. Scranton claims polls show that 45 per cent of the Republicans in Illinois want him, not Goldwater as the GOP candidate.

Scranton on Tuesday revived a fine and effective old tradition of presidential campaigns—the whistle-stop. It paid off for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1952.

Surprised by Crowds

The reaction to Scranton's railway foray caused him to say, "I believe we have picked up some delegate votes. It looks good. I was surprised by the size of the crowds because this has been heralded as Goldwater territory."

He traveled from Springfield to Decatur, Mattoon, Champaign and Kankakee. Then he spoke in Evanston.

In Evanston, a crowd gathered in Fountain Square, on four sides of the rostrum, to hear Scranton. It looked to be in the neighborhood of 10,000, and it was vociferous. Again, the Goldwater placards appeared, along with "We want Barry" chanting.

Scranton drew cheers with phrases criticizing "the philosophy of negotiation—the slow death of blind reaction—an exclusion-minded minority—a never-never-land that puts our nation somewhere back in the 19th century."

Once or twice, the applause and banner-waving went on so long that Scranton had to halt it with gestures.

This is the eleventh hour before the balloting begins in San Francisco. The odds appear overwhelming against Scranton. But the governor himself and those around him continue to look astonishingly confident.

Woman Slays Her Estranged Mate

VICTOR, N.Y. (AP)—A 35-year-old woman shot and killed her estranged husband Tuesday night after he forced his way into her home, a detective said today.

George Eastman Jr., 37, of Mount Morris, was killed by a single blast from a shotgun, Anthony L. Cecece, chief detective of Ontario County said. Eastman was struck in the head.

Eastman's wife, Josephine, of Victor, was arrested at the home of a neighbor. She was charged with first-degree murder. Cecece said she admitted orally she had shot her husband.

The couple, separated since March, had three children, 7, 8 and 10. Eastman was a construction worker. His wife works in a factory.

Mrs. Eastman waived examination today at arraignment before Peace Justice Charles Rose and was ordered held for grand jury action.

The new receptionist rushed in and told the busy doctor there was a man in the waiting room who insisted on seeing him immediately on a matter of life and death.

Several traveling salesmen were seated in the smoking compartment of the train. They were bemoaning the generally demoralized conditions of business, as they found it. Finally they turned to the quiet little man in the corner.

Boy Scout Critical After Exchanging Shots With Police

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Detectives sought today to learn why a rugged, 14-year-old ex-Boy Scout grabbed a pistol from a policeman at knifepoint and exchanged shots with other patrolmen before he was wounded seriously and captured in a bus filled with tear gas.

Although police traded several shots with the boy in a downtown street Tuesday, no one else was injured.

No Reasons for Actions

Police identified the youth as Thomas White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. White of Syracuse. They could offer no explanation for his actions.

Thomas, big for his age, was taken to Memorial Hospital, where he lay in critical condition today. It was not clear whether he had been cut down by police fire or whether he had turned the pistol on himself.

Detectives, piecing together descriptions of the incident from police and onlookers, said it apparently happened this way:

The youth approached Patrolman Leo Napolitano, brandishes a knife and lifted the policeman's service pistol from its holster. Napolitano tried to take it back, but the youth cut the officer on the hand with the knife and fled to the nearby terminal of the Syracuse-Oswego bus line.

Inside the terminal, he fired a few wild shots at a ticket clerk and others, then ordered two women and a man to board the bus. Aboard the bus, he told the driver to pull away.

Let Four Leave

Meanwhile, Napolitano had alerted police headquarters and other officers arrived quickly and blocked off the street. The bus was stopped, and the youth permitted the driver and the three passengers to leave.

As police surrounded the bus, he opened fire. The officers fired back with bullets and tear-gas grenades. When the youth disappeared from view, police rushed aboard the bus and found him bleeding heavily from a head wound.

He was taken to the hospital and, after emergency treatment, was placed under guard. Patrolman Reed Stevens, a scoutmaster who said the boy once had been a member of his troop, stood guard at his bedside.

Ontario has 16,500 camp sites in its 86 provincial parks. Park supervisors expect to issue 320,000 camp permits this summer.

Hiccups Lasted For Almost Year

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Today is a happy anniversary for Lucy McDonald. It is the anniversary of her bout with the hiccups.

The 38-year-old red-haired mother of three says she couldn't be happier. The hiccups stopped about a week ago.

Mrs. McDonald received thousands of letters, telegrams and telephone calls after an Associated Press story described her plight. Most suggested home remedies for curing the hiccups.

The remedy which apparently cured her came from a druggist for whom she now works. The pharmacist, Roy Faith, said: "I just gave her a drug which is commonly used. I cannot say what it was because I am not a physician and I cannot prescribe. The important thing is that she is cured."

Whether the hiccups have gone for good is a question, but Mrs. McDonald says this is the longest period of time she has been able to breathe with ease in a year.

"You can't imagine how thankful I am," she said. "It is such a little thing to be able to breathe without hiccuping. This was the worst year of my life."

Mrs. McDonald was a waitress until she lost her job because waitresses aren't supposed to hiccup constantly.

She tried several other jobs. Each time she was discharged because of the hiccups. She now works behind the soda fountain in the drug store.

Bid LBJ Fulfill Kennedy Pledge On Seneca Help

ESTES PARK, Colo. (AP)—A conference of Indian missionaries has wired President Johnson, asking him to fulfill the late President Kennedy's pledge of help for the Seneca Indians.

The Senecas must leave their reservation in southwestern New York State by Oct. 1 to make way for the U.S. Army's Kinzua Dam project.

More than 350 Indian missionaries of 15 Protestant denominations, meeting in triennial conference here, joined in the message to Washington Tuesday.

House and Senate conferees have met several times, without success, in efforts to work out a compromise in their respective bills to compensate the Indians.

The message said, in part: "The National Fellowship of Indian Workers strongly urges you to use the full power of your office to fulfill President Kennedy's pledge of federal cooperation with the Seneca Nation of Indians to support a strong rehabilitation fund for the Seneca Nation."

Passes Lobby Law

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate approved and sent to the House Monday a bill tightening controls over lobbying in this country by agents serving foreign interests.

Among other things, the measure would prohibit these agents from using funds from foreign employers to make political contributions and would require the agents to report political contributions from their own pockets.

Will Offer Bill To Halt Sewage Dumping by Boats

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—New York State needs laws — with teeth in them — to prohibit boats from dumping sewage into inland lakes, says the chairman of the Joint Legislative Committee on Motor Boats.

Assemblyman Edwin J. Fehrenbach, R-Nassau County, said Tuesday he would introduce such legislation during the 1965 session for study purposes.

He said a final bill would not be submitted until 1966, at the earliest.

Fehrenbach said an existing statute aimed at curbing pollution of waterways by boats was meaningless because there was no practical way to enforce it. The committee chairman reported on his plans following a conference on the problem of water pollution created by discharges from pleasure boats.

The meeting was called by the State Commission on Water Resources Planning. Other conferees were representatives of the state's Health, Commerce and Conservation Departments.

The group agreed that a more extensive conference would be held this fall. Representatives of the boating organizations, the boat-manufacturing industry and marinas will be invited.

The state lists 365,000 power boats as registered. An estimated 60,000 are cruisers, with sleeping facilities, capable of extended trips. These are said to be a prime source of water pollution.

It's A Vicious Circle!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband positively refuses to tip anyone unless (as he puts it) they have "earned a reward" for doing something special for him. He says waiters are paid to serve customers, doormen are paid to open doors, taxi drivers are paid to drive, and barbers are paid to cut hair, and he's sick of all these people with their hands out. When we leave a restaurant, if looks could kill we'd both be dead. I get terribly embarrassed, but it doesn't seem to bother my husband a bit. How can I get it through his head that "tipping" is an accepted custom, and people who do not tip are considered strange?

DEAR WIFE: Many jobs (bellboys, waiters, doormen, hairdressers, manicurists) are considered attractive only because of the "tips" that go with them. And the salaries paid take "tips" into account. So in many cases, a tip is more than a fringe benefit. It is bread and butter. Granted, no establishment should expect the customers to pay their help, but until the system is changed, why punish the working folks?

DEAR ABBY: I am a middle-aged man in love with a woman a few years my junior. We are both mature people, we both have had a previous marriage. She and I are completely congenial. We like the same things, have similar educational backgrounds and can talk for hours without running out of conversation. I love her deeply, but she says she only "likes" me, she doesn't love me—and so no marriage. All I can do is hope and wait, but she says I'm wasting my time, that she knows her feelings for me won't change. Any suggestions?

UP AGAINST A STONE WALL

DEAR UP AGAINST: Believe her. Her answer might change, but her feelings are not likely to. Then you could have a wife who "likes" but does not "love" you. That would be dandy if it's only companionship you're both looking for—but don't expect more.

DEAR ABBY: Do you think it is proper to refer to a single woman who has never married as an "old maid"? I have a dear friend who has never married. She is attractive, popular, self-supporting and nobody's fool, and I am outraged every time I hear someone call her an "old maid." Some women turn down chances to marry because they can't get the man they want, and will settle for none other. Others have families to support. There is probably not one unmarried woman who hasn't turned down at least one chance to marry. Why, then, do so many married women who are married to beasts get a smug satisfaction out of calling their unmarried friends "old maids"? I would like your comments, please.

MARIE

DEAR MARIE: The term "old maid" is not always intended as a slur. It can be used with gentleness and understanding. And self-sufficient women, unmarried by choice, probably couldn't care less. But I agree with you—when its connotations are cruel, those using the term should be ashamed of themselves.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "JOHNNY ON THE SPOT": Keep right on being punctual—it's one of the most beautiful of all attributes, although I personally have lost more time being on time than anyone I know.

Land Hungry for Good Farmers

Khrushchev Depends on Advances In Agriculture to Match U.S.

By PRESTON GROVER

MOSCOW (AP)—There is so much of real beauty in the Russian countryside that it baffles foreigners why it produces crops so badly—until they see how the farming is done.

The land is hungry for the care of good farmers, for the deft machines, and the enriching chemicals used everywhere in the West.

Antelope Is 2nd Catskill Animal Hurt by Youths

The owner and operator of the Catskill Game Farm in Greene County said today that the necessary execution of a prize 600-pound male African antelope that had fled the game farm after being stoned by teenagers to the point of suffering a fractured jaw, was the second recent incident in which the farm lost an animal in that manner.

Roland Lindemann told The Freeman that a peacock was killed recently by a group of children who threw stones at the bird.

The prize antelope, which, Lindemann said, was the game farm's only male kudu antelope, was killed by farm wardens Sunday, two days after it cleared the fence after being tormented by youngsters throwing stones. The three-year-old prize animal, valued at $3,500, was tracked to a ravine where the two farm wardens ended its life with high-powered rifle shots.

Lindemann said the animal had been bleeding profusely from the mouth when it fled the farm and when found the jaw was fractured making it impossible for the animal to eat. He said that it was not possible to use an anesthesia shot, for if left to survive, the animal would die a painful death by starvation.

The game farm owner said that it was the first incident in the farm's 33-year-history that an animal had to be killed from injuries suffered after being tormented by patrons.

"I want it clearly understood," he told The Freeman, "that our clientele through the years has been marvelous."

Lindemann said that of the thousands upon thousands of patrons who visit the game farm daily, there has never been any problem with vandalism or malicious mischief. However, he said, he has initiated a new system whereby a large group of young children or teenagers pass through the gates, keepers will leave their regular posts with walkie talkies to insure against any possible trouble. He said he was doing this to insure the safety of animals which, if not brought into the preserve for breeding, would be extinct in a matter of years.

Of the prized kudu antelope, one of such animals, Lindemann said, "He was a rare and beautiful animal." He said that there was a possibility that its remains may now be preserved as a museum piece.

Western farm experts believe that the Soviet planners, after years of an unexplained switching from one scheme to another, may have hit on the best program that their political system will allow.

That is the present plan which calls for intensive mass farming of the best lands, with full use of machinery, irrigation where possible, and scientific fertilization.

All that was decided upon last winter and is being implemented with apparent vigor, at least at the top. At the bottom, the level of the dirt farmer, lies the weakness.

To Build More Plants

The new plan calls for building more fertilizer plants than the country has ever dreamed of until now—enough to increase production from 20 million tons a year to 80 million tons, all in the next seven years. These plants are complicated, however, and don't grow up overnight.

Part of the problem, one of the major factors, is that there is a "brain drain" from the farms into the cities where life is better.

Every year the same complaint goes up, that there are not enough people on the farms to operate them. Yet every big farm I have seen is monstrously overmanned. Often a Soviet state farm will have a hundred times more workers than a corresponding American farm, despite a considerable amount of available machinery.

U. S. Crops Excel

Nearly 40 per cent of the population is engaged in agriculture compared with 7 or 8 per cent in the United States. American crop production greatly exceeds Soviet production, despite the repeated declaration of Premier Khrushchev that Russia soon will overtake and surpass the United States.

The flight of the brighter young people from the farms tends to make improving farm technique more difficult.

Khrushchev often has complained that as he travels around the country he sees great piles of chemical fertilizer along railroad sidings, while nobody bothers to put it on the land. Soviet peasant farmers rarely know how to use it, while trained agricultural technologists try to get white-collar jobs in the cities.

Numbers of Western observers insist that the Soviet farm problem never will be solved under communism. First of all, the farmer doesn't own the land he is expected to cultivate. Many still are allowed to farm a little plot of an acre or so, and off these tiny fragments they are producing an astonishingly disproportionate share of the Soviet food supply.

If the big collective farm where a family works happens to have a bad manager or a bad year, the only revenue the farm worker gets may be what he can squeeze out of his tiny

Postman Made Decision On Mail to Deliver

WATER MILL, N.Y. (AP)—After delivering mail for 30 years, postman Lorin F. Shipper apparently decided to deliver only the important-looking letters and let the rest pile up.

Authorities found two tons of unopened mail, mostly periodicals, circulars and advertising matter, in Shipper's garage and in some ancient automobiles parked on his lawn. It was postmarked 1953 and 1954. About 10 per cent was first-class mail.

Roy Peterson, Southampton postmaster, said there were no complaints of missed mail. "The carrier must have delivered all the mail he thought important and just put the rest away," he said Tuesday.

Shipper, 75, who retired in 1953, told postal officials he couldn't recall how the leftover mail got there.

Peterson said that since the five-year statute of limitations had expired there would be no prosecution.

little plot. He farms that with loving care, tending the one cow he is allowed, fattening his limited number of pigs and his pen of chickens. Farm managers come screaming to the party meetings that if the farmers would devote half as much enthusiasm to the big collective farms as they do to their own little tracts, the big farms would succeed better. They don't.

Now Khrushchev, having discovered that money makes the mare go, is pressing for more pay for the traditionally low-paid farm workers.

In a long speech, he put it this way: "For us who are building a Communist society, communism is naturally a powerful moral stimulant. But to create that society, to speed up the advance, we must use also the great force of material stimulant, pay more for those who work more."

He openly agreed that for the moment, at least, the great Communist aim of everybody sharing everything, giving what he can, getting what he needs, has got to be revised. There is going to be no leveling out, he said, for the good workers are going to get more than the others.

But such a program sets off a chain reaction of other problems. The more money the farmer gets, the more he can spend in the village store, and the more consumer goods there must be in the store for him to buy. That means more money spent on factories producing consumer goods. And the more money spent on producing consumer goods, the less money there is for fertilizer plants. Next: The rundown revolution.

Land Hungry for Good Farmers

Khrushchev Depends on Advances In Agriculture to Match U. S.

By PRESTON GROVER

MOSCOW (AP)—There is so much of real beauty in the Russian countryside that it baffles foreigners why it produces crops so badly—until they see how the farming is done.

The land is hungry for the care of good farmers, for the deft machines, and the enriching chemicals used everywhere in the West.

Antelope Is 2nd Catskill Animal Hurt by Youths

The owner and operator of the Catskill Game Farm in Greene County said today that the necessary execution of a prize 600-pound male African antelope that had fled the game farm after being stoned by teenagers to the point of suffering a fractured jaw, was the second recent incident in which the farm lost an animal in that manner.

Roland Lindemann told The Freeman that a peacock was killed recently by a group of children who threw stones at the bird.

The prize antelope, which, Lindemann said was the game farm's only male kudu antelope, was killed by farm wardens Sunday, two days after it cleared the fence after being tormented by youngsters throwing stones. The three-year-old prize animal, valued at $3,500, was tracked to a ravine where the two farm wardens ended its life with high-powered rifle shots.

Lindemann said the animal had been bleeding profusely from the mouth when it fled the farm and when found the jaw was fractured making it impossible for the animal to eat. He said that it was not possible to use an anesthesia shot, for if left to survive, the animal would die a painful death by starvation.

The game farm owner said that it was the first incident in the farm's 33-year history that an animal had to be killed from injuries suffered after being tormented by patrons.

"I want it clearly understood," he told The Freeman, "that our clientele through the years has been marvelous."

Lindemann said that of the thousands upon thousands of patrons who visit the game farm daily, there has never been any problem with vandalism or malicious mischief. However, he said, he has initiated a new system whereby a large group of young children or teenagers pass through the gates, keepers will leave their regular posts with walkie talkies to insure against any possible trouble. He said he was doing this to insure the safety of animals which, if not brought into the preserve for breeding, would be extinct in a matter of years.

Of the prized kudu antelope, one of such animals, Lindemann said, "He was a rare and beautiful animal." He said that there was a possibility that its remains may now be preserved as a museum piece.

Western farm experts believe that the Soviet planners, after years of an unexplained switching from one scheme to another, may have hit on the best program that their political system will allow.

That is the present plan which calls for intensive mass farming of the best lands, with full use of machinery, irrigation where possible, and scientific fertilization.

All that was decided upon last winter and is being implemented with apparent vigor, at least at the top. At the bottom, the level of the dirt farmer, lies the weakness.

To Build More Plants

The new plan calls for building more fertilizer plants than the country has ever dreamed of until now—enough to increase production from 20 million tons a year to 80 million tons, all in the next seven years. These plants are complicated, however, and don't grow up overnight.

Part of the problem, one of the major factors, is that there is a "brain drain" from the farms into the cities where life is better.

Every year the same complaint goes up, that there are not enough people on the farms to operate them. Yet every big farm I have seen is monstrously overmanned. Often a Soviet state farm will have a hundred times more workers than a corresponding American farm, despite a considerable amount of available machinery.

U. S. Crops Excel

Nearly 40 per cent of the population is engaged in agriculture compared with 7 or 8 per cent in the United States. American crop production greatly exceeds Soviet production, despite the repeated declaration of Premier Khrushchev that Russia soon will overtake and surpass the United States.

The flight of the brighter young people from the farms tends to make improving farm technique more difficult.

Khrushchev often has complained that as he travels around the country he sees great piles of chemical fertilizer along railroad sidings, while nobody bothers to put it on the land. Soviet peasant farmers rarely know how to use it, while trained agricultural technologists try to get white-collar jobs in the cities.

Numbers of Western observers insist that the Soviet farm problem never will be solved under communism. First of all, the farmer doesn't own the land he is expected to cultivate. Many still are allowed to farm a little plot of an acre or so, and off these tiny fragments they are producing an astonishingly disproportionate share of the Soviet food supply.

If the big collective farm where a family works happens to have a bad manager or a bad year, the only revenue the farm worker gets may be what he can squeeze out of his tiny

Postman Made Decision On Mail to Deliver

WATER MILL, N.Y. (AP)—After delivering mail for 30 years, postman Lorin F. Shipper apparently decided to deliver only the important-looking letters and let the rest pile up.

Authorities found two tons of unopened mail, mostly periodicals, circulars and advertising matter, in Shipper's garage and in some ancient automobiles parked on his lawn. It was postmarked 1953 and 1954. About 10 per cent was first-class mail.

Roy Peterson, Southampton postmaster, said there were no complaints of missed mail. "The carrier must have delivered all the mail he thought important and just put the rest away," he said Tuesday.

Shipper, 75, who retired in 1953, told postal officials he couldn't recall how the leftover mail got there.

Peterson said that since the five-year statute of limitations had expired there would be no prosecution.

little plot. He farms that with loving care, tending the one cow he is allowed, fattening his limited number of pigs and his pen of chickens. Farm managers come screaming to the party meetings that if the farmers would devote half as much enthusiasm to the big collective farms as they do to their own little tracts, the big farms would succeed better. They don't. Now Khrushchev, having discovered that money makes the mare go, is pressing for more pay for the traditionally low-paid farm workers.

In a long speech, he put it this way: "For us who are building a Communist society, communism is naturally a powerful moral stimulant. But to create that society, to speed up the advance, we must use also the great force of material stimulant, pay more for those who work more."

He openly agreed that for the moment, at least, the great Communist aim of everybody sharing everything, giving what he can, getting what he needs, has got to be revised. There is going to be no leveling out, he said, for the good workers are going to get more than the others.

But such a program sets off a chain reaction of other problems. The more money the farmer gets, the more he can spend in the village store, and the more consumer goods there must be in the store for him to buy. That means more money spent on factories producing consumer goods. And the more money spent on producing consumer goods, the less money there is for fertilizer plants. Next: The rundown revolution.

Dads of Foreign Service Vets Slate State Convention Here

PHILIP BREITHAUPT SR.

The annual state convention of the Dads of Foreign Service Veterans will be held in Saugerties the weekend of July 17 to 19, and a member of the local post 143, Philip Breithaupt Sr., is expected to be named state president.

Breithaupt, a councilman on Saugerties Town Board and well-known volunteer fireman, served as state senior vice president last year.

Plans were outlined during last week's session of the Ladies Auxiliary to Saugerties Memorial Post 5034, VFW, to help entertain and serve the visitors expected from most of the 32 state units.

Conventioners will be entertained on the private beach of the Breithaupt's Saturday afternoon, followed by a banquet dinner Saturday evening catered by the Auxiliary, under the direction of Mrs. Ruth Prendergast. Dancing will follow to the music of the Kay-Ray Trio.

Election and installation of officers is slated for Sunday, July 19, starting at 9:30 a. m. in the VFW Hall. A buffet lunch ends the convention doings at 1 p. m., sponsored by the members of the Post President's Club of the VFW Auxiliary.

In order to honor the incoming president, all Saugerties VFW Post and Auxiliary members are invited to the festivities on Saturday afternoon, to the dance in the evening, and to the installation on Sunday. Mrs. Prendergast requests help for the dining room on Saturday and would appreciate any assistance from the Auxiliary for Sunday's buffet. Approximately 100 persons are expected to be in attendance. A clean-up committee will ready the hall the week preceding the convention.

Three cars of Auxiliary members will travel to Castle Point tonight for the Saugerties sponsored games at the veterans hospital. Canteen books will be distributed to all winners, since cigarettes are no longer permitted for distribution at the hospital. The Auxiliary absorbs the $36 cost of putting on this social.

The Post and Auxiliary color guard led the Fourth of July parade, with two cars of Auxiliary and Past Presidents also riding. Two Auxiliary members drove the members of the Golden Age Club.

The scheduled blood bank drawing slated for this week has been postponed, according to the chairman, Mrs. Helen Gardner, due to illness in the family of the laboratory technicians who conduct the session. Mrs. Gardner would also like to correct a mistaken idea reported to her from various sources that the VFW receives a state allotment of $1 for each blood donor. There is no financial assistance given to the VFW for any part of its blood bank operations. It is entirely a voluntary effort, supported solely from the VFW Auxiliary treasury at the cost of approximately $30 for each drawing for refreshments and supplies, stated the chairman emphatically.

Mrs. Rosalie Budwick received her oath of obligation from the Chaplain, Mrs. Ethel Jehle, during her investiture. The new president presented her pin and informed her of the workings of the Auxiliary.

The loan closet is now fully restored, stated Mrs. Prendergast. All four wheel chairs, the two hospital beds, plus other equipment for care of the sick are once again available for public use with no charge.

Mrs. Connie Barabetta is a patient at Benedictine Hospital. Mrs. Hazel Drewes is now at home.

The investigating committee appointed by Mrs. Peggy Wade, auxiliary president, will also aid in the membership details. It includes Mrs. Gardner, Mrs. Marie Parks, Mrs. Mary Bonack and Mrs. Marie Sheehan. Mrs. Prendergast will serve as the year's refreshment chairman.

A complete report on the Department Convention held the end of June in Buffalo was given by one of the delegates, Mrs. Mary Wood. Mrs. Helen Arnold was the Auxiliary's other representative, to be included among the 673 regular delegates from the state Auxiliary.

The Saugerties Post and Auxiliary received a citation for its community service work, ranking 10th among the 435 State Auxiliaries who entered the competition. Mrs. Jehle was last year's chairman and will again resume her duties for this year.

Mrs. Julia Lane of Kingston advanced to State Chaplain in the chair rotation ending in presidency.

Other items of interest as noted by the delegates, included the impressive massing of the 95 sets of colors and memorial tribute to the 114 deceased Auxiliary members; the presentation of the Department president's gift by the members of the Hudson Valley County Council developing the Dutch theme, clad in Dutch bonnets, with their tulips; and the discussion of the resolution concerning the hesitation in the Pledge of Allegiance which will be clarified in the fall by the Board of Education. Lake Placid was selected as next year's convention site.

The Saugerties Auxiliary will meet August 12.

Hearings Slated For 2 Charged In Assault Case

Two Saugerties men will face assault charges this weekend as the result of an alleged altercation they had with the son of a village taxi service operator early Sunday morning.

Frederick Mackay, 21 of Jackson Heights, L. I., charged with second and third degree assault and malicious mischief, the first charge is a felony, must appear before Village Police Justice G. Thomas Rea Jr., Monday morning. Village police reported he is in violation of his parole in New York City.

Maurice Hinchey, 25 of Bonnie Lee Trailer Park, charged with third degree assault is scheduled to appear before Judge Rea Friday at 7 p. m.

Patrolman Harry Vickery, the arresting officer, said the incident occurred in front of Bud's Taxi Stand on Ulster Avenue, operated by Harry Morgan Sr. According to Vickery, Harry Morgan Jr., 19, same address, a taxi driver for his father, said he was putting his own car in the garage when two men accosted him and started to jump on him and beat him severely. One of the men broke the car antenna off the vehicle and used it to beat him, young Morgan told the police.

A short time later Harry Morgan Sr., 49, came to his son's assistance and someone summoned the police.

Young Morgan was taken to Benedictine Hospital for treatment of a severe eye injury.

Vickery reported Morgan was attacked about 3:40 a. m.

Hinchey was released on $25 bail and Mackay on $5,000 bail.

Arrest Napanoch Man on Cruelty To Animal Charge

Accused of failing to provide sustenance for seven cats on his premises, William Moran, 66, of Sholan Road, Napanoch, was arrested Tuesday by Ellenville State Police, on a charge of cruelty to animals.

Moran was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Herbert Poppel, Town of Wawarsing. He pleaded guilty to violating Section 185 of the Penal law and was fined $25. Payment of the fine was suspended.

State Police Sergeant William Cameron said Trooper Walter Hubert and Arnold Adams, agent of the Ulster County Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, investigated a complaint and reportedly found seven cats on Moran's property. Sergeant Cameron said one cat was dead and six others were suffering from the lack of food or care.

The six cats were taken to the S.P.C.A. shelter in Kingston.

Chamber to Air Views on Charter On Monday Night

All members of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce are invited and urged to attend a special membership meeting Monday, July 13, at 7:30 p. m. in the Capital B room of the Governor Clinton Hotel to hear about and express their views on the proposed new City Charter.

This meeting has been called by the City Legislative Committee of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce to also give all members an opportunity to hear about the provisions of the proposed new City Charter. Robert E. Davis, chairman of the Charter Revision Commission, will be present and discuss the new provisions. Davis, as well as some other members of the commission, will be on hand and prepared to answer questions. Robert Strickland, chairman of the Chamber's Legislative Committee, will preside.

In making this announcement today Chamber President John F. Schuehler said that he has been informed that the complete new proposed charter will be published in The Kingston Daily Freeman on Friday of this week. He also suggested that the text of the proposed charter be read and studied before Monday night's meeting.

Schuehler also said that the City Legislative Committee is anxious to get expressions of opinion from all members of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce in order to formulate a report and recommendations to be presented to the board of directors.

The Chamber of Commerce has called this informational meeting for members prior to the public hearing on the new Charter called by the Charter Commission for July 14 and 16.

Boy Is Crushed To Death Under Dutchess Tractor

A 15-year-old boy was crushed to death shortly before 11:30 a. m. Tuesday, when a farm tractor he was operating went out of control and overturned pinning him to the ground off Duncan Road, Town of Union Vale.

Dutchess County Sheriff's Sergeant Hugh Brennan told The Freeman that Jeffrey Conner, of 46 Cedar Lane, New Canaan, Conn., was visiting at a relative's farm—Tymore Farms—and yesterday morning he operated a farm tractor.

Brennan said the boy apparently was going from one part of the farm to another on the opposite side of Duncan Road when he lost control. The heavy machine left the pavement, rolled down an embankment and overturned pinning the boy beneath a wheel. Farmhands extricated the body.

Jeffrey was pronounced dead at the scene. The body was removed to a local funeral home.

Dr. Chester H. Golding Jr., Wappingers Falls, Dutchess County medical examiner, gave a verdict of accidental death and reported the boy died of lacerated lungs and fractured ribs.

Fischers Expect Another Arrival

ABERDEEN, S.D. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Fischer will need another crib in their new 20-room home being built southwest of Aberdeen.

The parents of America's only quintuplets are expecting another child, reportedly around the time of the quint's first birthday, Sept. 14.

Mrs. Fischer told the Aberdeen American-News she would make no formal announcement of the long-rumored pregnancy. "Everyone knows it anyway."

The quint—four girls and a boy—were born nearly 10 months ago. The Fischers have five other children.

They live in a rented home in Aberdeen while their new farm dwelling is under construction. Fischer expects to enter the cattle business on their 800-acre tract but is still working at a wholesale grocery firm.

In Middle of Things

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—O. T. Norton, owner of a tiny wood and canvas grocery store, says he has 15 months to go on his lease and he won't move to make way for a 25-building.

Constructors said Tuesday that was all right, they would just build around him. The store will be in the center of the new structure's plaza.

Capital Attendance Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—Tourists are visiting the nation's capital in record numbers, and the World's Fair in New York is given much of the credit.

The Convention and Visitors Bureau hopes for a gain of from 1 million to 2 million visitors over the estimated 7.5 million to 8 million who came here last year, largely due to the influx of persons headed for the fair.

Polaris Sub Deployed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has deployed its 16th Polaris missile-firing submarine.

The Woodrow Wilson, packed with a range of 1,725 miles, went on patrol in the Atlantic over the July 4th weekend, it was learned.

LOCAL HIGH SCORER—Sir Erich of Rock's Haven, German Shepherd, owned and handled by Katherine Stoutenburgh of Glenford, won the third and last leg on his CDX (Companion Dog Excellent) degree at the Oneonta Dog Show on June 28. He was the highest scoring German Shepherd in the obedience trials at Oneonta, as he was at the show at Endicott on the previous day. Mrs. Stoutenburgh is president of the Ulster County SPCA and will resume Dog Obedience Training Classes at the New Paltz School, to benefit that society, after Labor Day.

Finland's paper production has risen since 1930 from 500,000 tons a year to more than 3.5 million tons annually.

Campaign Heads Say Barry Not Worried on Platform

By WALTER R. MEARS
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater isn't worried about the Republican party platform, his campaign director said today.

Denison Kitchel said in an interview he doesn't think the forces opposing the senator in his front-running bid for the GOP presidential nomination have enough delegate strength to win adoption of platform planks aimed at embarrassing the Arizona.

Goldwater takes his conservative case to the resolutions committee Friday morning. He will fly to San Francisco Thursday. Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton has demanded platform planks repudiating "extremist groups of both the left and the right" with a specific condemnation of the John Birch Society; and declaring the constitutionality of the new Civil Rights Act.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller seconded those proposals before the committee in San Francisco Tuesday but stopped short of calling for specific condemnation of the Birch Society, which describes itself as an "educational army—dedicated to opposing the Communist conspiracy."

Goldwater has said he disagrees with the leaders of the Birch Society, but declared in San Francisco March 15: "I will take the support of any American who is not a Communist."

He voted against the civil rights bill on grounds two sections were unconstitutional.

Kitchel said a plank affirming constitutionality of the new law would be ridiculous because that is a judicial question, not a political one.

He said the suggestion that extremist groups be denounced would turn the platform into a long list of organizations.

Castro's Sister Says Fidel Has 74,588 Prisoners

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Juanita Castro was reported today as placing the number of political prisoners held by her brother Fidel, Cuba's prime minister, at 74,588 including 5,282 women.

John Martino, an American released two years ago after serving three years in Castro's prisons, said he got the figure by telephone from Mexico City, where Miss Castro is in exile.

Martino said a spokesman for Miss Castro, who defected from her brother's regime after reportedly helping free hundreds of prisoners, gave him an itemized count by telephone.

Mrs. Connie Barbetta is a patient at Benedictine Hospital. Mrs. Hazel Drewes is now at home.

The investigating committee appointed by Mrs. Peggy Wade, auxiliary president, will also aid in the membership details. It includes Mrs. Gardner, Mrs. Marie Parks, Mrs. Mary Bonack and Mrs. Marie Sheehan. Mrs. Prendergast will serve as the year's refreshment chairman.

A complete report on the Department Convention held the end of June in Buffalo was given by one of the delegates, Mrs. Mary Wood. Mrs. Helen Arnold was the Auxiliary's other representative, to be included among the 673 regular delegates from the state Auxiliary.

The Saugerties Post and Auxiliary received a citation for its community service work, ranking 10th among the 435 State Auxiliaries who entered the competition. Mrs. Jehle was last year's chairman and will again resume her duties for this year.

Mrs. Julia Lane of Kingston advanced to State Chaplain in the chair rotation ending in presidency.

Other items of interest as noted by the delegates, included the impressive massing of the 95 sets of colors and memorial tribute to the 114 deceased Auxiliary members; the presentation of the Department president's gift by the members of the Hudson Valley County Council developing the Dutch theme, clad in Dutch bonnets, with their tulips; and the discussion of the resolution concerning the hesitation in the Pledge of Allegiance which will be clarified in the fall by the Board of Education. Lake Placid was selected as next year's convention site.

The Saugerties Auxiliary will meet August 12.

Boy Is Crushed To Death Under Dutchess Tractor

A 15-year-old boy was crushed to death shortly before 11:30 a. m. Tuesday, when a farm tractor he was operating went out of control and overturned pinning him to the ground off Duncan Road, Town of Union Vale.

Dutchess County Sheriff's Sergeant Hugh Brennan told The Freeman that Jeffrey Conner, of 46 Cedar Lane, New Canaan, Conn., was visiting at a relative's farm — Tymore Farms — and yesterday morning he operated a farm tractor.

Brennan said the boy apparently was going from one part of the farm to another on the opposite side of Duncan Road when he lost control. The heavy machine left the pavement, rolled down an embankment and overturned pinning the boy beneath a wheel. Farmhands extricated the body.

Jeffrey was pronounced dead at the scene. The body was removed to a local funeral home. Dr. Chester H. Golding Jr., Wappingers Falls, Dutchess County medical examiner, gave a verdict of accidental death and reported the boy died of lacerated lungs and fractured ribs.

Fischers Expect Another Arrival

ABERDEEN, S.D. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Fischer will need another crib in their new 20-room home being built southwest of Aberdeen.

The parents of America's only quintuplets are expecting another child, reportedly around the time of the quint's first birthday, Sept. 14.

Mrs. Fischer told the Aberdeen American-News she would make no formal announcement of the long-rumored pregnancy. "Everyone knows it anyway."

The quint—four girls and a boy—were born nearly 10 months ago. The Fischers have five other children.

They live in a rented home in Aberdeen while their new farm dwelling is under construction. Fischer expects to enter the cattle business on their 800-acre tract but is still working at a wholesale grocery firm.

In Middle of Things

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—O. T. Norton, owner of a tiny wood and canvas grocery store, says he has 15 months to go on his lease and he won't move to make way for a 25-building.

Constructors said Tuesday that was all right, they would just build around him. The store will be in the center of the new structure's plaza.

Capital Attendance Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—Tourists are visiting the nation's capital in record numbers, and the World's Fair in New York is given much of the credit.

The Convention and Visitors Bureau hopes for a gain of from 1 million to 2 million visitors over the estimated 7.5 million to 8 million who came here last year, largely due to the influx of persons headed for the fair.

Polaris Sub Deployed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has deployed its 16th Polaris missile-firing submarine.

The Woodrow Wilson, packed with a range of 1,725 miles, went on patrol in the Atlantic over the July 4th weekend, it was learned.

Arrest Napanoch Man on Cruelty To Animal Charge

Accused of failing to provide sustenance for seven cats on his premises, William Moran, 66, of Sholan Road, Napanoch, was arrested Tuesday by Ellenville State Police, on a charge of cruelty to animals.

Moran was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Herbert Poppel, Town of Wawarsing. He pleaded guilty to violating Section 185 of the Penal law and was fined $25. Payment of the fine was suspended.

State Police Sergeant William Cameron said Trooper Walter Hubert and Arnold Adams, agent of the Ulster County Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, investigated a complaint and reportedly found seven cats on Moran's property. Sergeant Cameron said one cat was dead and six others were suffering from the lack of food or care.

The six cats were taken to the S.P.C.A. shelter in Kingston.

Castro's Sister Says Fidel Has 74,588 Prisoners

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Juanita Castro was reported today as placing the number of political prisoners held by her brother Fidel, Cuba's prime minister, at 74,588 including 5,282 women.

John Martino, an American released two years ago after serving three years in Castro's prisons, said he got the figure by telephone from Mexico City, where Miss Castro is in exile.

Martino said a spokesman for Miss Castro, who defected from her brother's regime after reportedly helping free hundreds of prisoners, gave him an itemized count by telephone.

LOCAL HIGH SCORER—Sir Erich of Rock's Haven, German Shepherd, owned and handled by Katherine Stoutenburgh of Glenford, won the third and last leg on his CDX (Companion Dog Excellent) degree at the Oneonta Dog Show on June 28. He was the highest scoring German Shepherd in the obedience trials at Oneonta, as he was at the show at Endicott on the previous day. Mrs. Stoutenburgh is president of the Ulster County SPCA and will resume Dog Obedience Training Classes at the New Paltz School, to benefit that society, after Labor Day.

Campaign Heads Say Barry Not Worried on Platform

By WALTER R. MEARS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater isn't worried about the Republican party platform, his campaign director said today.

Denison Kitchel said in an interview he doesn't think the forces opposing the senator in his front-running bid for the GOP presidential nomination have enough delegate strength to win adoption of platform planks aimed at embarrassing the Arizona.

Goldwater takes his conservative case to the resolutions committee Friday morning. He will fly to San Francisco Thursday.

Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton has demanded platform planks repudiating "extremist groups of both the left and the right" with a specific condemnation of the John Birch Society; and declaring the constitutionality of the new Civil Rights Act.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller seconded those proposals before the committee in San Francisco Tuesday but stopped short of calling for specific condemnation of the Birch Society, which describes itself as an "educational army—dedicated to opposing the Communist conspiracy."

Goldwater has said he disagrees with the leaders of the Birch Society, but declared in San Francisco March 15: "I will take the support of any American who is not a Communist."

He voted against the civil rights bill on grounds two sections were unconstitutional.

Kitchel said a plank affirming constitutionality of the new law would be ridiculous because that is a judicial question, not a political one.

He said the suggestion that extremist groups be denounced would turn the platform into a long list of organizations.

Star of Airwaves Becomes Video Fan in Retirement

Editor's Note—After 20 years as one of the nation's most popular broadcasters, Mary Margaret McBride eight years ago retired to her mountain home. It has turned out to be a busy, active retirement: she has written two books, articles and for several years as a hobby has done a three-times-a-week radio program from her living room. Here she tells how television has become an important part of her life.

By Mary Margaret McBride
(For Cynthia Lowry)

WEST SHOKAN, N.Y. (AP)—I like television. In fact, it's more than liking. Television has me hooked.

My ahhh is that I live alone in the Catskills and, while live guests come and go, it would often be lonely without old friends and new who drop in on me from the air.

A while back, a magazine polled a few intellectuals and, for some reason, me. How many hours a week do you spend looking at television, the questionnaire asked. I conscientiously totaled up a typical seven days and answered truthfully: 40 hours.

When the magazine came out, I found I had an entire paragraph to myself. "Finally," the compiler summed up, "the most faithful viewer is, of all people, Mary Margaret McBride."

The intellectuals mostly said they rarely turn on their sets, leaving them to the children and servants. Some boasted that they didn't even own televisions. This put me properly in my place among the lowest of lowbrows, and since I am always hoping to better myself, I earnestly tried to give up my vice.

By the end of the second week, I was back in my armchair. I hadn't missed much for I was even farther ahead on plot than I was on dialogue.

Perry Mason was still calmly winning cases with no indication, judging from his unruffled brow, that he had heard a rumor about being bound to lose some time. Danny Kaye was going on his fascinating puckish way. Helen Hayes and Julie Harris, my two favorite actresses, were there to bring me back part of my lost Broadway.

My favorite show of all, "The Defenders," is oftener than not a preaching. I like preachments, especially when they are beautifully written, perfectly directed and acted. And most especially when they agree with what my Baptist preacher grandfather taught me.

Feed and Grain Rates

New freight rates on corn went into effect to New York and other northeastern destinations July 1 when shipped from certain midwest areas. The new rate is on a mileage basis in minimum 55 ton cars. There are no milling-in-transit privileges. These rates will mean little to the dairy and poultry industries of New York. Farm Bureau and other organizations have sought a complete overhaul of freight rates on feed and grain so as to place New York dairy and poultry in a better competitive situation with other producing areas. A revision once decided upon by eastern railroads was withdrawn. A recent U. S. District Court ruling permits the Southern Railway to put reduced rates into effect in the southeast. This gives an increased advantage to dairymen and poultrymen in that area.

BUSINESS FRIEND CALLS ON HUSBAND

Q: A business friend of my husband's, a man I had never met, dropped in last evening to see him. He ushered me into the living room where I was seated and introduced me to him. The conversation was mostly about business matters and people I did not know, so after about 15 minutes I excused myself, said good night and went to my room to read. Afterwards, my husband told me that he thought I was very rude to walk out on the visitor. Will you please tell me if I was wrong?

A: As they talked mostly about business matters and you had no part in the conversation, it was not wrong to excuse yourself and leave the room. It would have been polite before leaving, to ask if you could bring him some coffee.

Recognizing a Beloved Aunt

Q: My mother died when I was born and my father's maiden sister has raised me. My father also lives with us. I am going to be married in the fall and would like to know if both my father's and my aunt's names can appear on the invitations. I would like to give my aunt some recognition as she has been just wonderful to me.

A: Because of the awkwardness of the wording, it would be best to send the invitations in your father's name alone and recognize your aunt by having her seated last in the first row and having her receive at the reception.

Q: Is it correct, when eating a piece of bread, roll or muffin, to hold it in the left hand while eating other food with the right hand, or must it be put down on the bread-and-butter plate between bites?

A: It should be put down between bites unless it is being used as a pusher.

Fashion Experts Urge Caution in 'Frisco

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSTN
AP Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Republicans bound for the Republican National Convention in the Cow Palace who haven't locked their suitcases had better re-evaluate the contents.

A cold wind off the Pacific Ocean common to San Francisco in July and August may blow no good, warns Karola Sackel, fashion editor for the San Francisco Chronicle.

Shops and department stores are now preparing to correct packing mistakes, for traditionally more visitors bring the wrong clothes to San Francisco than to any other city, says the fashion specialist, who is thousands of miles from home this week attending previews of next season's collections arranged by the New York Couture Group.

Her advice to those en route to San Francisco contains more don'ts than dos.

For the men: Leave your light-colored suits, madras and seersucker jackets and sports shirts at home unless you plan to visit in the country.

You'll need ties, preferably regimental striped or small-patterned. Nearly all places but Chinatown and Fisherman's Wharf will turn you away without one.

Don't bring a hat, unless you feel undressed without one. Because of strong winds, few San Franciscans bother with them. Do wear conservative, darkhued business suits with pale colored or white shirts, preferably the button down-types.

For the women: Leave behind your summer dresses, the springy floral numbers and even your pastel suits.

Don't wear short-sleeved or sleeveless dresses, counting on a fur stole to keep you warm at night. The temperature usually drops around 50, and sometimes even lower.

Don't wear straw hats or carry straw bags.

Small-heeled shoes for day are in vogue in San Francisco, but if climbing steep hills bother you, take walking shoes.

Take a coat, by all means.

"The Fantasticks" in Woodstock

BY DOROTHY A. NAREL
Freeman Society Editor

This is the second time around for production of "The Fantasticks" at the Woodstock Playhouse and it is as enjoyable as ever.

M. Edgar Rosenblum has sparked up the production with a cast of capable performers. Highlights include the acting abilities of Tony Ballen, as the girl's father, Judd Hirsch as "The Man Who Dies," and Milissa Murphy as The Girl.

Rounding out the good cast are John Cunningham, The Narrator; Robert Tananis, The Boy; Tony Exler, The Girl's Father; and Wil Albert, The Old Actor.

There isn't anything sensational about the plot but it is the way it is handled, the modern stage techniques used, the acting and the musical score that keeps one amusingly interested throughout the play.

"The Fantasticks" is in its fifth year in New York and is considered one of the most reworking hits in musical history. John Cunningham left his starring role in the New York production to come to the Woodstock Playhouse and play the part of El Gallo.

The play is directed by Stephen Randall with musical direction by Joseph Schaeffer. Sets are by Milton Duke and Lighting by Joseph Hanlon.

Top songs in the production are "Try to Remember" as sung by Mr. Cunningham; "Never Say No" done by The Fathers; "It Depends on What You Pay," a hilarious number by Cunningham, Ballen and Crowley; and "Plant a Radish," by Ballen and Crowley.

"The Fantasticks" will continue on stage through July 12. Next Week's Play

A sparkling and human play which Alexander Woolcott once described as the "Best comedy written for the English theatre in the last 100 years," has been chosen as the next presentation of the Woodstock Playhouse. This is Bernard Shaw's "Candida," which will open a six-performance engagement at the Woodstock Playhouse starting July 14 through Sunday evening, July 19.

"Candida," Shaw's witty testament to love, tells the story of a warm-hearted and gracious lady whose tact and intelligence have contributed greatly to the success of her husband, the Rev. Morell. When the adolescent poet, Marchbanks, falls in love with Candida, the minister becomes alarmed and tells Candida that she must choose between him and Marchbanks. Candida, who looks down with smiling, but unpatronizing sympathy on the antics of the two men, bestows her love on the one who needs it most.

Hailed by many critics and audiences as the best play Shaw ever wrote, "Candida" has been successfully presented in three major revivals on Broadway in the last decade, with Katherine Cornell playing the part of the enchanting heroine in each engagement. Candida also has been portrayed by Pauline Lord, Laurette Taylor, Ann Harding, and Jane Cowl, to name but a few of the great actresses who have been seen as Shaw's most gracious enduring heroine.

It is the humanity of "Candida" that accounts for the comedy's continued great appeal, according to the well-known critic, John Mason Brown, who has written that "it is the wisest, tenderest, and most perceptive of all the realistic plays from Shaw's active pen."

BUSINESS FRIEND CALLS ON HUSBAND

Q: A business friend of my husband's, a man I had never met, dropped in last evening to see him. He ushered me into the living room where I was seated and introduced me to him. The conversation was mostly about business matters and people I did not know, so after about 15 minutes I excused myself, said good night and went to my room to read. Afterwards, my husband told me that he thought I was very rude to walk out on the visitor. Will you please tell me if I was wrong?

A: As they talked mostly about business matters and you had no part in the conversation, it was not wrong to excuse yourself and leave the room. It would have been polite before leaving, to ask if you could bring him some coffee.

Recognizing a Beloved Aunt

Q: My mother died when I was born and my father's maiden sister has raised me. My father also lives with us. I am going to be married in the fall and would like to know if both my father's and my aunt's names can appear on the invitations. I would like to give my aunt some recognition as she has been just wonderful to me.

A: Because of the awkwardness of the wording, it would be best to send the invitations in your father's name alone and recognize your aunt by having her seated last in the first row and receiving her receive at the reception.

Q: Is it correct, when eating a piece of bread, roll or muffin, to hold it in the left hand while eating other food with the right hand, or must it be put down on the bread-and-butter plate between bites?

A: It should be put down between bites unless it is being used as a pusher.

Capitol News In Brief

WASHINGTON (AP)—A force of Soviet submarines and supporting ships reportedly cruised through the Mediterranean recently, under close scrutiny of a U.S. hunter-killer task force.

The U.S. ships, including one carrier and six destroyers, followed the Soviet subs, took pictures of them and tried to get them to respond to radio signals, it was learned Tuesday night.

Some of the Soviet force entered the Mediterranean through Gibraltar and others from the Black Sea. All are now understood to have returned whence they came.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson has received a report that nearly 20 million workers are now covered by federal efforts to achieve equality in all areas of employment.

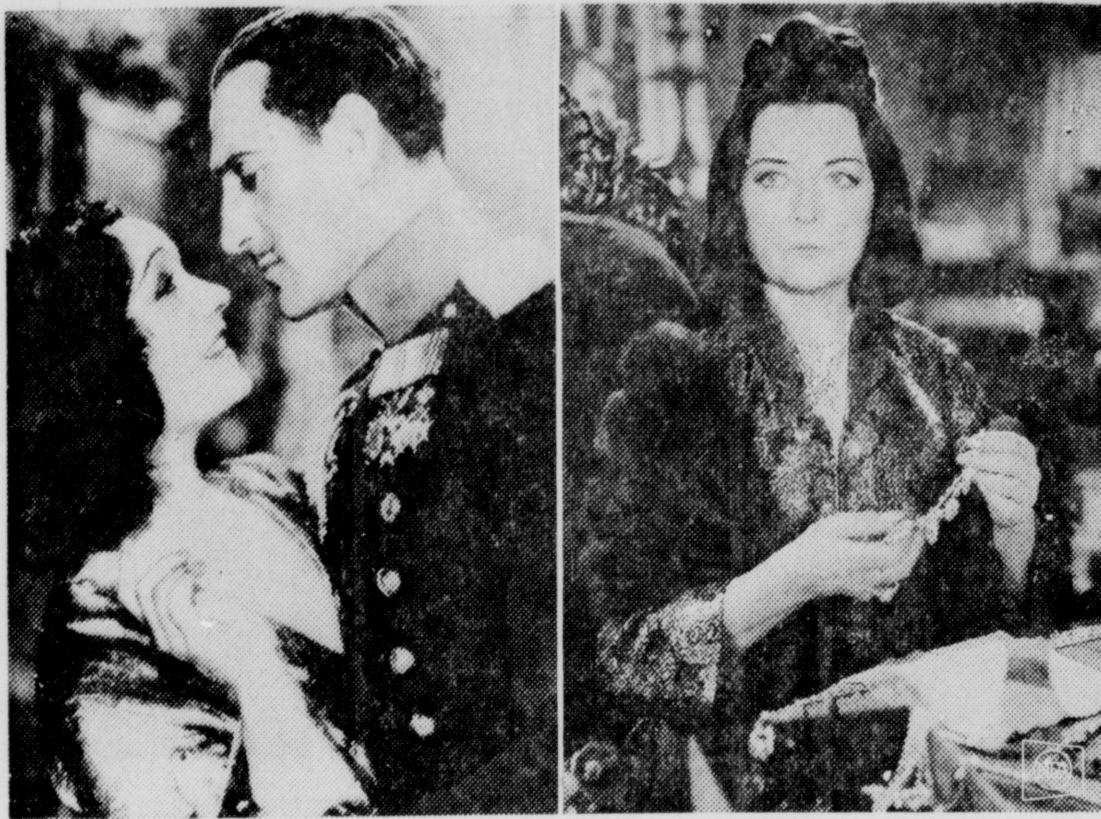

He told members of the Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity, which he headed when he was vice president, that their report shows "we mean business" in government efforts to wipe out bias in employment.

The President added that despite the large strides made so far much remains to be done.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air National Guard hopes to send about 30 jets, piloted by "weekend warriors," across the Atlantic next month to demonstrate its ability to reinforce the regular Air Force in Europe within hours.

If the Air Force approves, the guard for the first time will fly aboard non-stop, using its own tanker planes for aerial refueling.

In Europe the guard planes would fly operational missions for about four days for the U.S. 7th Army.

World News In Brief

Paques Convicted

PARIS (AP)—George Paques, 50, a former French press officer for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, has been convicted of spying for the Soviet Union and sentenced to life in prison.

In rejecting the prosecution's demand for the death penalty, the French state security court apparently accepted defense arguments that Paques was motivated by misguided patriotism.

Paques, was arrested last August. He admitted passing documents to Soviet agents but said he hoped to prevent Soviet misunderstanding of the Western Allies' true intentions.

Will Continue Flights

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—The Chinese Nationalist air force said today it would continue reconnaissance flights over Communist China despite the loss of another U2 plane, the third claimed by the Communists.

Peking Radio said the high-altitude U2 was shot down at noon Tuesday. There was unofficial speculation in Taipei that the plane had been downed by a ground-to-air missile, but the Nationalist air force would say only that it "met with an accident."

Unexpected Thrill

LONDON (AP)—The channel ferry Arramanches gave 677 French schoolchildren an unexpected thrill today. It ran aground off the south coast of Britain.

The rising tide refloated the 2,404-ton ship and the children were landed at Newhaven Pier. There were no casualties.

Reds Eye Super Plane

MOSCOW (AP)—The head of the Soviet Union's Aeroflot airline says Russian designers are working on a supersonic airliner and hope to have it flying before the United States gets one aloft.

Yevgeny Loginov told a news conference Tuesday he could not predict the speed of the Soviet plane, but it would be faster than the 1,450-mile-an-hour Concorde airliner on which Britain and France are collaborating.

The Concorde is scheduled to enter service in 1970. The American plane, expected to be bigger and faster, will not be ready then.

Olive Bridge

OLIVE BRIDGE—Many activities are planned by the Olive Bridge Methodist Church for the coming months.

A homecoming service will be held Sunday, July 26 at 3 p. m. The sanctuary will be reconsecrated at the service. The Rev. Merton S. Cady, former pastor will be present. Light refreshments will be served after the program by the members of the WSCS in the church school room.

Saturday, Oct. 24, annual oyster supper will be served in church school room, serving starting at 5:30 p. m. until all are served. This will be sponsored by the official board of the church.

The public may attend, one and all of these activities of the church.

Plans are under way for the creation of an enlarged choir. Rehearsal is scheduled for the second Monday in July. Those interested, may contact Mrs. Carol Larsen.

Will Transfer Ted

NORTHAMPTON, Mass. (AP)—Sen. Edward M. Kennedy is to be transferred to New England Baptist Hospital in Boston on Thursday.

The Democratic senator from Massachusetts is recuperating from a broken back suffered in the crash of a private plane on June 19.

In making the transfer announcement, Dr. Thomas F. Corriden gave no estimate of the time Kennedy, 32, would be hospitalized. He said the senator would be moved in a Westover Air Force Base ambulance.

Caunitz Checks Gas Pump Blaze

At 9:10 a. m. today, while Town of Ulster Constable Norman Caunitz was patrolling in the area of the IBM plant, Boice's Lane and Morton Boulevard he came upon a fire in a gas pump at the Pomeroy's Auto Service garage on Morton Boulevard.

Using fire fighting equipment which is carried in the town's station wagon, he extinguished the fire with dry powder and thereby averted a more serious fire.

Pomeroy reported a car had backed into the gas pump, damaging it and causing fumes to be ignited by an electric spark.

Ulster Hose Company No. 15 was alerted but was not sent to the scene when Constable Caunitz notified Assistant Chief Hillary Schultz that the fire had been extinguished. The fire was investigated by Town of Ulster fire officials.

Halt Canine Sipper

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Three Coast Guardsmen wrestled command of a drifting cabin cruiser from a protesting dog Tuesday.

Police said the dog's owner, Don R. Hammit, had gone ashore and forgot to tie up the boat, which drifted into San Francisco Bay. Hammit and the dog, Keeki, were pinched.

No Photos of Philip

LONDON (AP)—Prince Philip came home from the Malawi independence celebration today and paused at the airport for the usual photographs.

Nine photographers were on hand, but not one raised a camera. The Ministry of Aviation had put them behind a security barrier 50 yards from the prince.

"If we had photographed him," said one, "he would have looked about as big as a match head."

The queen's husband finally walked to a car to be driven to Buckingham Palace. An airport spokesman told the cameramen it wouldn't happen again.

Explosions Rock 'Freedom House'

MCCOMB, Miss. (AP)—Three explosions "like gunshots, only much louder" damaged a civil rights "freedom house" in this southwest Mississippi city before dawn today.

Two civil rights workers—one of them a white summer volunteer—were slightly injured. Eight others were asleep in the house.

FBI In Probe

The McComb Police Department sent units to the scene and a fire truck stood by until it was determined there was no blaze.

"We are making a full investigation," said an FBI spokesman in the agency's New Orleans office, which covers southern Mississippi. The spokesman said agents had not determined what type of explosives were used.

Ed Rudd, a spokesman for the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee, said three one-quarter oil cans "which we believe contained an explosive of some sort" were found outside the frame house located in the Negro section of McComb.

"We think the three cans were unexploded," Rudd said.

George Green, 20, a Greenwood Negro and SNCC staff worker who was in the house, said he heard "three rapid explosions in succession like gunshots, only much louder."

Cut on Face, Body

Curtis Hays, 21, a McComb Negro and also a SNCC staff worker, received cuts on the face and body.

Green said the living room and a bedroom in the house were damaged and a gaping hole was left in the wall of the bedroom where Hays was sleeping.

Also in the room was Dennis Sweeney, 21, a Stanford University student from Portland, Ore. who received cuts. Sweeney is one of 500 college students, mostly white persons, who volunteered for civil rights work in Mississippi for the summer.

Sholem Asch, famous Jewish author, was a native of Poland and became a naturalized U.S. citizen in 1920.

Capitol News In Brief

WASHINGTON (AP)—A force of Soviet submarines and supporting ships reportedly cruised through the Mediterranean recently, under close scrutiny of a U.S. hunter-killer task force.

The U.S. ships, including one carrier and six destroyers, followed the Soviet subs, took pictures of them and tried to get them to respond to radio signals, it was learned Tuesday night.

Some of the Soviet force entered the Mediterranean through Gibraltar and others from the Black Sea. All are now understood to have returned whence they came.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has received a report that nearly 20 million workers are now covered by federal efforts to achieve equality in all areas of employment.

He told members of the Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity, which he headed when he was vice president, that their report shows "we mean business" in government efforts to wipe out bias in employment.

The President added that despite the large strides made so far much remains to be done.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air National Guard hopes to send about 30 jets, piloted by "weekend warriors," across the Atlantic next month to demonstrate its ability to reinforce the regular Air Force in Europe within hours.

If the Air Force approves, the guard for the first time will fly aboard non-stop, using its own tanker planes for aerial refueling.

Reds Shift War From Delta To Highlands

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The Communists have shifted the center of their war effort in South Viet Nam from the swampy Mekong delta to the central highlands in the past 10 days.

Senior Vietnamese officers believe the Reds have moved troops in from North Viet Nam to get the war momentum moving in the highlands, a region that has been relatively quiet in the past 18 months.

In the past week, three battalion-size Communist assaults have erupted out of the central mountains. Two isolated special forces camps were hit.

Newsmen in the central Viet Nam capital of Hue were told Tuesday that the Communist battalion that hit the special force outpost of Nam Dong Monday had just moved in from North Viet Nam. The Communist unit was beaten off, but with severe government losses.

Two other Viet Cong attacks were launched in the region Monday. Vietnamese officers say one of the attacking battalions moved into Viet Nam recently from Laos. Another battalion had come into Viet Nam from the Cambodia-Laos area late last year.

An American spokesman told newsmen in Saigon that he was baffled as to the real reason for the sudden concentration of Viet Cong effort in the central area.

Yevgeny Logunov told a news conference Tuesday he could not predict the speed of the Soviet plane, but it would be faster than the 1,450-mile-an-hour Concorde airliner on which Britain and France are collaborating.

The Concorde is scheduled to enter service in 1970. The American plane, expected to be bigger and faster, will not be ready then.

OLIVE BRIDGE — Many activities are planned by the Olive Bridge Methodist Church for the coming months.

A homecoming service will be held Sunday, July 26 at 3 p. m. The sanctuary will be reconsecrated at the service. The Rev. Merton S. Cady, former pastor will be present. Light refreshments will be served after the program by the members of the WSCS in the church school room.

Saturday, Aug. 22, the annual chicken barbecue and fair will be served in church school room, servings starting at 5:30 p. m. Fair will be open at 2 p. m. on church lawn.

Saturday, Oct. 24, annual oyster supper will be served in church school room, serving starting at 5:30 p. m. until all are served. This will be sponsored by the official board of the church.

The public may attend, one and all of these activities of the church.

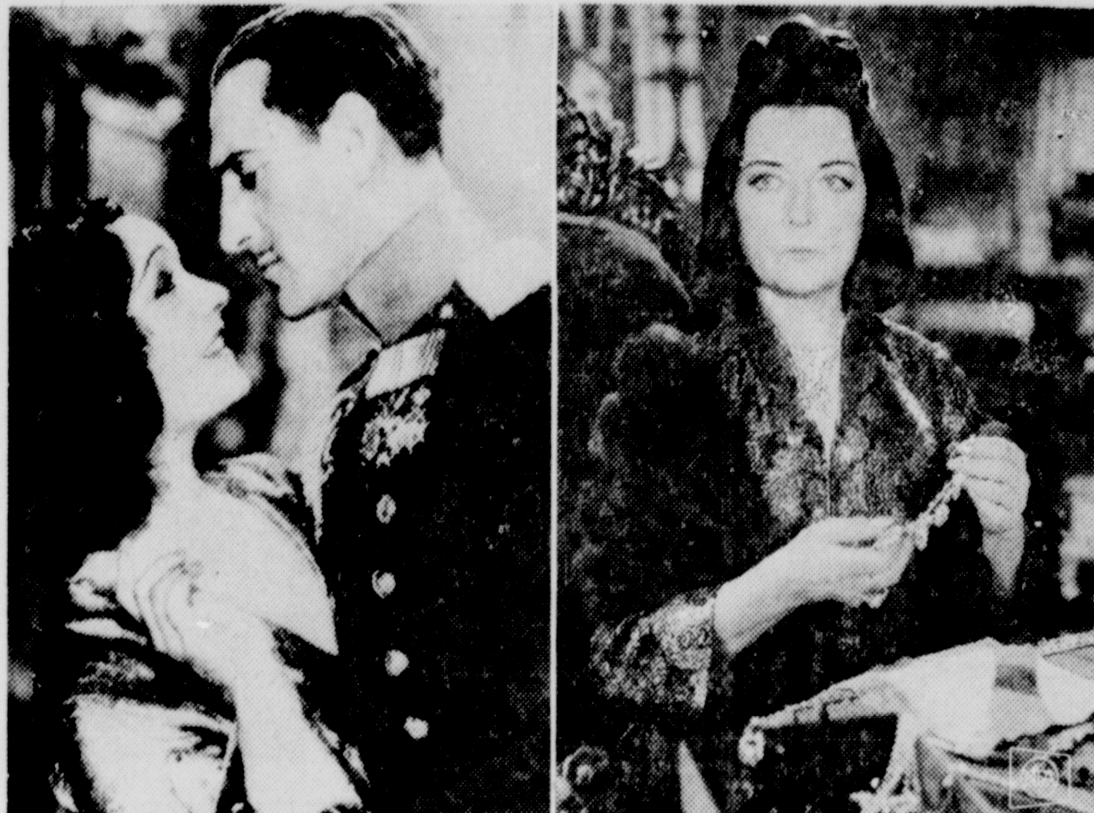

Plans are under way for the creation of an enlarged choir. Rehearsal is scheduled for the second Monday in July. Those interested, may contact Mrs. Carol Larsen.

Will Transfer Ted

NORTHAMPTON, Mass. (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy is to be transferred to New England Baptist Hospital in Boston on Thursday.

The Democratic senator from Massachusetts is recuperating from a broken back suffered in the crash of a private plane on June 19.

In making the transfer announcement, Dr. Thomas F. Corriden gave no estimate of the time Kennedy, 32, would be hospitalized. He said the senator would be moved in a Westover Air Force Base ambulance.

World News In Brief

Paques Convicted

PARIS (AP)—George Paques, 50, a former French press officer for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, has been convicted of spying for the Soviet Union and sentenced to life in prison.

In rejecting the prosecution's demand for the death penalty, the French state security court apparently accepted defense arguments that Paques was motivated by misguided patriotism.

Paques was arrested last August. He admitted passing documents to Soviet agents but said he hoped to prevent Soviet misunderstanding of the Western Allies' true intentions.

Will Continue Flights

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—The Chinese Nationalist air force said today it would continue reconnaissance flights over Communist China despite the loss of another U2 plane, the third claimed by the Communists.

Peking Radio said the high-altitude U2 was shot down at noon Tuesday. There was unofficial speculation in Taipei that the plane had been downed by a ground-to-air missile, but the Nationalist air force would say only that it "met with an accident."

Unexpected Thrill

LONDON (AP)—The channel ferry Arramanches gave 677 French schoolchildren an unexpected thrill today. It ran aground off the south coast of Britain.

The rising tide refloated the 2,404-ton ship and the children were landed at Newhaven Pier. There were no casualties.

Reds Eye Super Plane

MOSCOW (AP)—The head of the Soviet Union's Aeroflot airline says Russian designers are working on a supersonic airliner and hope to have it flying before the United States gets one aloft.

Yevgeny Logunov told a news conference Tuesday he could not predict the speed of the Soviet plane, but it would be faster than the 1,450-mile-an-hour Concorde airliner on which Britain and France are collaborating.

Caunitz Checks Gas Pump Blaze

At 9:10 a. m. today, while Town of Ulster Constable Norman Caunitz was patrolling in the area of the IBM plant, Boice's Lane and Morton Boulevard he came upon a fire in a gas pump at the Pomeroy's Auto Service garage on Morton Boulevard.

Using fire fighting equipment which is carried in the town's station wagon, he extinguished the fire with dry powder and thereby averted a more serious fire.

Pomeroy reported a car had backed into the gas pump, damaging it and causing fumes to be ignited by an electric spark. Ulster Hose Company No. 5 was alerted but was not sent to the scene when Constable Caunitz notified Assistant Chief Hillery Schultz that the fire had been extinguished. The fire was investigated by Town of Ulster fire officials.

Halt Canine Spitter

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Three Coast Guardsmen wrestled command of a drifting cable in cruiser from a protesting dog Tuesday.

Police said the dog's owner, Don R. Hammit, had gone ashore and forgot to tie up the boat, which drifted into San Francisco Bay. Hammit and the dog, Keoki, were pinched.

Report Is Cited In Roama Closing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three New York congressmen have told President Johnson they believe that the Air Force decision to close the Rome, N.Y., Air Materiel Area cannot be justified.

Sens. Kenneth B. Keating and Jacob K. Javits and Rep. Alexander Pirnie—all Republicans—called Johnson's attention to a General Accounting Office report they said raises "serious questions" about the Air Force decision.

The Republicans said Tuesday in a letter to the President that they previously had contacted Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Secretary of the Air Force Eugene Zuckert "to urge an immediate halt to any further phase-out activity until all the facts are assembled and reviewed."

The Accounting Office report charged that the Air Force already has destroyed some of the documents involved in its decision to close the Rome area.

The Government Relations Committee of the New York State Bankers Association keeps abreast of legislative developments in Albany and Washington which affect the banking industry. The committee is composed of leading bankers of the counties of South-Eastern New York on both sides of the Hudson River.

Officials Expand Handicap Class For Orange Fair

MIDDLETOWN—The Domestic and Fine Arts Department which always makes Building 1 at the Orange County Fair look like the finest of Art Galleries, will again be a haven for both the professional as well as the amateur.

Under the capable guidance of Mrs. Lillian Wild of Westtown this particular department at this year's 124th Orange County Fair will offer even more in the way of entrance categories for artists and craftsmakers of every age and skill. Mrs. Wild noted the expanded section which now includes eight categories for handicapped adults and eight categories for handicapped children. This particular section conveys to fairgoers the fact that although the body may be handicapped, the creative spirit and the mind are not. The response to the handicapped section caused fair officials to expand by three both the adult and junior categories in anticipation of a larger group of entries.

The expansion of categories has also brought an expansion of premium awards this year with almost $3,400 in awards for the department.

Once again this year, as last, there will be two full weekends for fairgoers to see all the exhibits. Fair President Ben Strong said that the idea of both weekends really caught on with last year's visitors and so it will be repeated.

All exhibits will be in place and on display by 10 o'clock Saturday morning, Aug. 1, the first day of the eight-day fair. It also is interesting to note that the Fine Arts and Photography sections will have classes for both amateur and professional. Amateur or professional fair officials reminded exhibitors to send in their entries early for this year's 124th Orange County Fair August 1 through the 8.

Woman and Girl Remain Critical

Still on the critical list at Kingston Hospital are Susan Williams, 30, and Mary Williams, 8, of 70 South Lansing Street, Albany, two of the five persons injured Sunday in a two-car accident at Port Ewen. Reported as serious is William J. Matt Jr., 24, of 1879 Ferguson Street, Schenectady, Thomas Williams, 30, and Garry Williams, 6, both of 70 South Lansing Street, Albany.

2 Persons Hurt In 209 Mishap

Two persons were injured at 1 a. m. today as the result of a traffic accident on Route 209 one half mile south of Route 55 at Napanoch, according to Ellenville State Police.

Sergeant William Cameron said Edwin Hoar, 38, of Ellenville, was driving south on the highway and William May, 38, of New York City, was traveling in the same direction and attempting to turn west into the parking lot at the Marine Room when the vehicles were in collision, and May's car continued into the lot as collided with a parked vehicle.

According to a report of Trooper C. R. Larson, the parked car belongs to G. Edward Trumbull of Napanoch. May received contusions of the right temple, and Harold Wilhelm, 51, of Ellenville, a passenger in Hoar's car, sustained bruises of the right knee.

Cobleskill Eyes $900,000 Expansion

The State University Agricultural and Technical Institute at Cobleskill is expanding to take in a new 15.5 acre site across Route 7. Bids for new buildings estimated to cost $900,000 are now being accepted by the State University Construction Fund.

Closing date on the bids is Aug. 4 and buildings scheduled for completion next February. Four identical buildings and a somewhat larger dairy barn of the same general design are in the dairy complex. The fund also has asked for a bid alternate to include construction of a meat processing laboratory that would permit small scale slaughtering and butchering.

Provision is also made for plant science and floral design laboratories and a florist shop to house classes in flower shop operation. Cobleskill is the only university unit offering this course.

"Always keep the bar in your Rolls Royce as well stocked with Schweppes as the bar at home," cautions Commander Whitehead.

The President of Schweppes U. S. A. reveals his own secret recipe for making magnificent Tonic Drinks

"A TONIC DRINK is the easiest drink in the world to make," says Commander Edward Whitehead.

That's because the basic recipe is so simple. All you need is Schweppes Tonic and liquor—gin, vodka, rum, you name it.

However, there are a few differences between a Tonic Drink that's great and one that's magnificent.

Here are Commander Whitehead's own secret rules for the magnificent:

1. Use just a couple of ice cubes in your drink. More will only dilute the drink. (Some people keep their Schweppes in the refrigerator—and don't use any ice cubes at all.)

2. Put a jigger of liquor in the glass—then add the Schweppes.

3. Pour Schweppes Tonic slowly, down the side of the glass. The House of Schweppes in London has been working since 1794 to perfect Schweppes Tonic—little bubbles that always last your whole drink through. Don't squander that precious Schweppes Tonic by dashing your Schweppes on the rocks.

4. Don't stir. You don't need to. Schweppes Tonic mixes perfectly with any liquor, without stirring.

Now, sip slowly. Curiously refreshing!

Convenient way to buy Schweppes Tonic: In no deposit, no return bottles. So compact!

Schweppes inimitable flavor is protected, naturally, by glass.

Report Is Cited In Roma Closing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three New York congressmen have told President Johnson they believe that the Air Force decision to close the Rome, N.Y., Air Materiel Area cannot be justified.

Sens. Kenneth B. Keating and Jacob K. Javits and Rep. Alexander Pirnie—all Republicans—called Johnson's attention to a General Accounting Office report they said raises "serious questions" about the Air Force decision.

The Republicans said Tuesday in a letter to the President that they previously had contacted Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Secretary of the Air Force Eugene Zuckert "to urge an immediate halt to any further phase-out activity until all the facts are assembled and reviewed."

The Accounting Office report charged that the Air Force already has destroyed some of the documents involved in its decision to close the Rome area.

Rusk Named County Head of Bank Group

William L. Butcher, chairman of the County Trust Company, White Plains, and chairman of the Government Relations Committee of Group VI, New York State Bankers Association, has announced the appointment of George Rusk of Kingston as Ulster County Chairman of the committee.

Rusk is president of the Kingston Trust Company and a well-known attorney. He has been active in area banking circles for the past several years and in addition to his local interest has been associated with the First National Bank, Marlboro.

The Government Relations Committee of the New York State Bankers Association keeps abreast of legislative developments in Albany and Washington which affect the banking industry. The committee is composed of leading bankers of the counties of South-Eastern New York on both sides of the Hudson River.

San Francisco—GOP Convention City

REPUBLICAN POWWOW SITE—San Francisco, one of America's most cosmopolitan cities, is host to the Republican party's national convention opening July 13 in the Cow Palace. Convention delegates, alternates and the host of other party followers who will converge on the city will be intrigued by its landmarks, scenic beauty, cable cars and traditions of two centuries dating back to Spanish rule. Newsmap, left, shows principal points of interest and main streets. The figures indicate hotels which will be headquarters for top convention personalities: (1) St. Francis Hotel, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, Richard M. Nixon, Henry Cabot Lodge, GOP National Committee Chairman Miller; Oregon Gov. Mark O. Hatfield, convention keynote speaker; Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, convention chairman; (2) the Mark Hopkins, Sen. Barry Goldwater and Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton, the two principal contenders for the presidential nomination; (3) Sheraton-Palace, New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, and (4) Jack Tar, Michigan Gov. George W. Romney. Cable car lines run along California, Hyde and Powell. Newsmap at right shows the principal routes by which the Cow Palace may be reached from downtown San Francisco. Arrow indicates direction to city's International Airport.

Officials Expand Handicap Class For Orange Fair

MIDDLETOWN—The Domestic and Fine Arts Department which always makes Building 1 at the Orange County Fair look like the finest of Art Galleries, will again be a haven for both the professional as well as the amateur.

Retired Pacific Commander Can't See U. S. Loss in Viet

HONOLULU (AP)—Don Felt sat in the shade of a breadfruit tree, pensively stirred his glass of iced tea, and talked about Southeast Asia and communism. Three days before, four-star Adm. Harry D. Felt, commander of all United States military forces in the Pacific, exchanged his uniform for the conservative sport shirt and slacks he was wearing at his new home in a fashionable Honolulu suburb. Felt's mandatory retirement at 62 came after 41 years service in the Navy. He was Pacific military commander for six of those years. Felt, in his first interview as a civilian, was asked what a Communist victory in Viet Nam would mean.

Can't Visualize It
"I can't visualize us losing," he replied.
But, he said, "psychologically we'd lose all our Asian friends, and you could hardly blame them. They have their own interests to look out for. They'd have some hard decisions to make."
Felt is heartened by the Sino-Soviet split. "It's always good to have enemies fall out between themselves. Now, if only Mao (Tse Tung) and the North Vietnamese leaders got to falling out."
But he wondered how deep the Soviet-Chinese dispute runs. "If things heat up (in Southeast Asia) with the chips on the line, would Russia support the Chinese?" he asked.
China Could Be No. 1
Red China could become the world's No. 1 power "if it got control of the breadbasket of Southeast Asia," Felt said. This is the food-and-mineral rich area of Viet Nam, Laos, Cambodia and Thailand.

He believes a major obstacle in the fight against Communist aggression in South Viet Nam is lack of leadership outside Saigon. "A big problem is to get people to go into the villages and administer these areas honestly," he said.
The people living outside major cities in Southeast Asia are just now beginning to realize what the fighting is all about, Felt said. He stressed the importance of providing them with material things—a well, a road, a hospital, a schoolhouse.
The admiral thinks the U.S. military effort should be followed up by civilian advisors to help rural populations.

Takes Time
"But all this takes time," he said. "The programs are all there but they have to be implemented."
Looking farther north, Felt discussed the problems of Korea. He made two points:
The economic situation in Korea is not good. Yet the country is maintaining a large military force that costs the Koreans—and the United States—a lot of money.
—North Korea has built up a modern jet air force, making South Korea vulnerable to air attack.
Felt said South Korea's generals have emphasized to him that the level of their forces must be maintained. If forces are reduced, will the Communists try another invasion?
Felt thinks they very likely would.

Barry's 'No Win' View Is Assailed

vania governor said: "They are trying to create a political steamroller unparalleled for its toughness, its callousness, its total disregard for the opinion of rank and file Republicans."
Contending that "every survey taken" shows he is preferred by Republicans as the nominee over the Arizona senator, Scranton continued:
"Senator Goldwater's managers know this, so they have undertaken a no-holds-barred campaign to see to it that the delegates at the convention do not reflect the wishes of the people back home."

In the same vein, Scott said the Goldwater delegates are "under the iron whip of discipline" not to demonstrate in any way that they and others already in San Francisco are, as he put it, "the most unhappy group of delegates ever gathered for a convention."
Goldwater himself said in his interview with a reporter for Der Spiegel there would be another ball game come October. In San Francisco, Richard Kleindienst, codirector of the senator's field operations, put it this way: "I think by October there will be a complete new concept between the parties."

Concedes LBJ Advantage
Scott conceded that, as the incumbent president, Johnson holds the advantage over any Republican. But, Scott said Scranton could overcome this advantage and Goldwater could not.
This shift to an attack on what Scott called Goldwater's "no win" policy marked an apparent departure from the strategy of throwing the convention into turmoil over the civil rights plank in the platform.

The Scranton forces found themselves increasingly fenced in in this latter endeavor.
It became apparent, in the first place, that Rep. William M. McCulloch, R-Ohio, who was the man to see about any changes made by the Senate in the House civil rights bill, was being given major responsibility in drafting the GOP platform plank on this issue.

Room to Compromise
The feeling was that whatever McCulloch approved as a plank would be likely to stand up in the convention as a reasonable statement of the party's position despite any committee minority's effort to change it.
McCulloch said only that he believes there is room to compromise the Goldwater and Scranton positions to work out wording endorsing the new Civil Rights Act.

Goldwater voted against the legislation, saying he believes the public accommodations and equal employment opportunities provisions are unconstitutional. Scott indicated he is inclined to compromise on this point if the platform plank describes the law in terms indicating the Republicans believe it is legal.

Convention leaders said they will ask for agreement on an hour's debate in the convention's sessions on any and all amendments that might be proposed there to the platform. They indicated they would force a convention vote—in which Goldwater's backers presumably would prevail—on any effort to engage in any lengthy, emotion-arousing discussion of civil rights.

To Hear Romney Today
Michigan Gov. George Romney, who has not joined in the Scranton demand for a statement affirming the constitutionality of the Civil Rights Act, was scheduled as a witness before the platform committee today.

So was Henry Cabot Lodge, former ambassador to South Viet Nam who resigned his post to come home to support Scranton's bid for the nomination. Lodge has said he doesn't see how the Johnson administration's course in Viet Nam could be made a campaign issue.

The reply to this by Rep. Clarence Brown, R-Ohio, a member of the Senate-House Republican leadership conference, was succinct.
"Like hell it won't," Brown said.

Lodge said on his arrival Tuesday night after some campaigning for delegates to Missouri that he was "tremendously encouraged" by his efforts in those two states.
Lodge Counts on Ike
The 1960 vice presidential nominee insisted that while former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has made no public statement, he can be counted as a supporter of Scranton.

Despite this, Scranton's backers apparently have given up hope that they will get any last-minute public blessing from the former president, whose brother Dr. Milton Eisenhower, will put the Pennsylvania governor's name in nomination.
Scranton said during travels in Illinois he was sure Eisenhower wanted him to run for the nomination but "he has said he will not endorse anyone before the convention."

The general belief among the publicly uncommitted leaders putting the finishing touches on the convention program was that there is likely to be only one ballot, with Goldwater as the winner.
The Associated Press poll, showed that Goldwater gained a delegate in that past day or so and Scranton picked up three.

Lodge, Romney

attacked what they label as President Johnson's vacillation and expediency in handling foreign affairs.

On Right Track, He Says
Lodge, however, has maintained that the campaign against Red guerrillas in South Viet Nam is on the right track and can be won if the Washington and Saigon governments keep at it.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, now boosting Scranton after dropping out of the presidential race himself, jabbed indirectly at the front-running Goldwater on both foreign and domestic issues in speaking to the plank writers Tuesday.

About Rockefeller
But Goldwater's representative on the platform group, Arizona Rep. John J. Rhodes, said afterwards "I thought he (Rockefeller) showed a wide area of agreement among Republicans."

Ohio Rep. William M. McCulloch, chairman of the platform panel which heard civil rights witnesses Tuesday and an architect of the new law, said he believes there is still room between the Goldwater and Scranton positions to work out wording endorsing the law.

Goldwater voted against the civil rights bill in the Senate, saying major parts of it are unconstitutional. He says he would enforce the law as president because that is the chief executive's duty.

The platform group's executive committee held its first meeting Tuesday night and authorized drafters to start work on the document.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market retreated somewhat early this afternoon from its historic peak.

Prices were generally sluggish in moderately active trading.

Wall Street wasn't worried about the stalling of the advance that sent the averages to successive highs. Brokers felt that a breathing spell was in order.

Some specialty issues showed good gains in a list that was generally mixed.

Tobacco, utilities and drugs were the only groups able to stay in the plus column.

Rails were hit by profit-taking. Pennsylvania Railroad lost nearly a point while most of the other carriers were off fractions.

Steels were weak with only Bethlehem managing a small gain.

Utilities showed strength as the Dow Jones utilities average topped the old record set in 1929.

The Associated Press 60-stock average at noon had declined 2 to 37.1 with industrials off 1, rails off .2 and utilities unchanged.

At noon, the Dow Jones average of industrials was down 0.09 to 844.85.

American Telephone lost a point on what a broker attributed to profit-taking by the funds.

After reports of good sales gains by retail chains and catalogue firms, Sears Roebuck advanced nearly half a point and Montgomery Ward added a small fraction.

High Voltage Engineering, which announced a new product, tacked on a point.

Corporate bonds were mixed and governments advanced.

situation." He asked that a letter be sent to the mayor.

Alderman-at-Large Joseph F. Carroll Jr., said it was his understanding that the fence was to be used at the new refuse disposal site. He also heard it was to be in the Fifth Ward, and Alecca said he was told it was going to be in his ward, and as discussion developed a swamp site between a Standard Oil tank and railroad tracks of the old Kingston Point spur was mentioned.

Democratic aldermen held that the fence proposal should not be approved unless the council was informed as to where the fence was to be used. Howard contended that plans for a new dump site should be well publicized in advance.

Majority Leader Machione held that the fencing was a type which could be used for parks and other similar purposes, and even for a dog pound, and indicated that the question to be settled was whether the aldermen favored purchasing it. A letter from Mayor John J. Schwenk noted BPW approval, as of June 10, of purchasing the fence.

Alecca said he understood that the health department was opposed to establishing a refuse disposal site in the Fifth Ward.

Finally Adopted

The sidewalk and curb proposal for the new school area failed to get sufficient votes for a bond issue on first vote, but when it was found that the measure could be amended to lessen the assessment against property holders, it was adopted.

The cost listed for 1,500 feet of blacktop sidewalk on Delaware Avenue and 160 feet on Gross Street was listed at $2,656. The cost for 1,100 feet of curbing for the area involved was listed at $3,300.

Alderman Gallo said that in the past several weeks deplorable conditions in the city's parks were brought to his attention. He investigated and took photographs, which he had with him last night.

In Hasbrouck Park, he said, a ladder to a sliding board stands alone in weeds and untended grass, and at Kingston Point Beach, fireplaces were found to be "almost completely useless," because they were disassembled.

At Block Park he noted a basketball hoop and backboard "completely broken down." He showed equipment for swings, with swings missing.

The photos, he said, were taken "within the past 48 hours," and were available for inspection of the aldermen after the meeting. He asked that the council go on record "as being opposed to these conditions, and that the mayor be notified." His

Asked for Leniency

Charles Saccoman appeared for Risch, said his client was married and at the time of the alleged act he was "emotionally overwrought" because of domestic troubles and turned to the illegal sale of the drug to gain financial aid. Saccoman said Risch had offered his cooperation with the local officials to identify others in the trade, and he asked for leniency.

Risch had been tending bar at a county restaurant where it was alleged state police were alerted to his acts. He was apprehended in July 1963 at Kingston outside a local restaurant when he attempted to sell Michael Edward Donaghue the drug.

Virginia Gertrude Hammock, 49, Post Street, who was charged with an assault upon one Robert Stokes during a drinking bout, appeared before Judge Mino and entered a plea of guilty to third degree assault. S. James Matthews, who appeared for defendant, said the act had taken place at a shack during a drinking party.

Assistant District Attorney Francis Vogt told the court that defendant had a long list of convictions for minor offenses prior to coming to this area from South Carolina seven years ago. This was her first offense since she came into this area and he recommended acceptance of the plea of guilty to the misdemeanor charge. In addition, the victim had declined to press the charge.

She was sentenced to serve 74 days in the county jail, the time which she had been confined to jail and was allowed credit for time served.

Court was recessed to chambers.

Public Utility Stocks

Look Good Right Now

Q) "After following our own program of dividing our savings equally between real estate, common stocks, and fixed savings (bank, governments, savings & loan) we are now about to begin our retirement. We feel that we should sell some of our real estate and add to common stocks. Of these, we now hold American Telephone; Texaco; General Motors; Santa Fe Rwy; Texas Industries and Lone Star Gas. Could you suggest some additions for stability as well as income?" C. T.

A) I should like to commend you for forming and carrying out such a wise program for retirement.
I believe that under present conditions, the public utilities offer you the highest stability consistent with reasonable income. I say this because to a great extent they have not participated in the 1963-64 rise and should suffer less if the market undergoes a decline.

I recommend New England Telephone, yielding 4.1 per cent; Pacific Gas & Electric, on a 3.80 basis and Consolidated Edison, yielding 3.7 per cent.

Q) "A friend of mine gave me a list covering bonds he owns. What I would like to know is whether I would be wise and safe to buy these bonds. They are Louisiana Power & Light 1st 3 1/2's of 1987; Western Union 5 1/4's of 1989; Georgia Power 1st 5 1/4's of 1989; N. Y. Central 6's due 1980; Cincinnati Gas & Electric 1st 5's of 1990; and Michigan Consolidated 1st 5 1/4's of 1986?" C. L.

A) I think the answer to your question depends on your objective.
If you wish to put your money to work—possibly for only a short period of time because of redemption features—I would buy all of them, with the exception of New York Central 6's, which are too speculative.

The utility list is good, with Cincinnati Gas & Electric occupying the top position and Western Union on the bottom.
Aside from Western Union 5 1/4's, these bonds sell close to their call price and a substantial amount of Georgia Power 5 1/4's was redeemed last February.

Besides hazardous travel conditions on upper North Street, he noted another condition in which a sewer line runs through private land on which the city has an easement. It runs from North Street back of houses to an open ditch and bridge on Delaware Avenue.

Cites Complaints
It was found by himself and others, he said, that sand from high ground plus tide conditions blocked the pipe causing flooding of North Street to a depth of a foot and more. He said he had been promised an 18-foot length of pipe but it failed to arrive.

Conditions on upper North Street were so bad, he said, that "there's not one night when I don't get a complaint." Wives have been driving their husbands to and from work at the Hudson Cement plant at all hours and the street is found to be a special hazard to them because of holes in the road and other conditions. He said he had listed other streets in the ward for repair, but only the lower end of North Street is on the program.

New Claims
Referred to the corporation counsel was the claim for $250,000 by Joseph Washington, of 238 East Union Street, for Joseph Washington Jr., 16, of the same address. It was filed by Attorney Michael Nardone and alleges injury, false arrest and imprisonment following a fight on Canal Street last April 5. It is claimed that Joseph Washington Jr. was struck on the head and nose with a pistol and otherwise injured by Curtis Vandemark, the arresting officer.

A claim of $150,000 was filed for Alice M. Baker, of 272 Washington Avenue, through Attorney Ward Ingalsbe for injuries suffered at a polling place on Emerson Street in the 12th Ward on June 2, 1962, when she tripped over a board or similar object. It is claimed that a hip injury resulting of the fall appears to be of a permanent nature.

The claim of $250,000, which Howard Lake of Sawkill filed in 1960, and which was due to trial, Corporation Counsel Gold noted in a letter, could be settled for $1,000. Lake held he was injured, falsely arrested and imprisoned. His arrest followed trouble with the police after he had been found sleeping across a seat in his car in the Dietz Stadium grounds some four years ago by detectives Leonard Ellisworth and William Slover.

Gold noted that a claim filed by George Hagipolis, formerly of Kingston, and now reported

Retired Pacific Commander Can't See U. S. Loss in Viet

HONOLULU (AP)—Don Felt sat in the shade of a breadfruit tree, pensively stirred his glass of iced tea, and talked about Southeast Asia and communism.

Three days before, four-star Adm. Harry D. Felt, commander of all United States military forces in the Pacific, exchanged his uniform for the conservative sport shirt and slacks he was wearing at his new home in a fashionable Honolulu suburb.

Felt's mandatory retirement at 62 came after 41 years service in the Navy. He was Pacific military commander for six of those years.

Felt, in his first interview as a civilian, was asked what a Communist victory in Viet Nam would mean.

Can't Visualize It

"I can't visualize us losing," he replied.

But, he said, "psychologically we'd lose all our Asian friends, and you could hardly blame them. They have their own interests to look out for. They'd have some hard decisions to make."

Felt is heartened by the Sino-Soviet split. "It's always good to have enemies fall out between themselves. Now, if only Mao (Tse Tung) and the North Vietnamese leaders got to falling out."

But he wondered how deep the Soviet-Chinese dispute runs. "If things heat up (in Southeast Asia) with the chips on the line, would Russia support the Chinese?" he asked.

China Could Be No. 1

Red China could become the world's No. 1 power "if it got control of the breadbasket of Southeast Asia," Felt said. This is the food-and-mineral rich area of Viet Nam, Laos, Cambodia and Thailand.

He believes a major obstacle in the fight against Communist aggression in South Viet Nam is lack of leadership outside Saigon. "A big problem is to get people to go into the villages and administer these areas honestly," he said.

The people living outside major cities in Southeast Asia are just now beginning to realize what the fighting is all about, Felt said. He stressed the importance of providing them with material things—a well, a road, a hospital, a schoolhouse.

The admiral thinks the U.S. military effort should be followed up by civilian advisors to help rural populations.

Takes Time

"But all this takes time," he said. "The programs are all there but they have to be implemented."

Looking farther north, Felt discussed the problems of Korea. He made two points:

—The economic situation in Korea is not good. Yet the country is maintaining a large military force that costs the Koreans—and the United States—a lot of money.

North Korea has built up a modern jet air force, making South Korea vulnerable to air attack.

Felt said South Korea's generals have emphasized to him that the level of their forces must be maintained. If forces are reduced, will the Communists try another invasion?

Felt thinks they very likely would.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market retreated somewhat early this afternoon from its historic peak.

Prices were generally sluggish in moderately active trading.

Wall Street wasn't worried about the stalling of the advance that sent the averages to successive highs. Brokers felt that a breathing spell was in order.

Some specialty issues showed good gains in a list that was generally mixed.

Tobacco, utilities and drugs were the only groups able to stay in the plus column.

Rails were hit by profit-taking. Pennsylvania Railroad lost nearly a point while most of the other carriers were off fractions.

Steels were weak with only Bethlehem managing a small gain.

Utilities showed strength as the Dow Jones utilities average topped the old record set in 1929.

The Associated Press 60-stock average at noon had declined .2 to 317.1 with industrials off .1, rails off .2 and utilities unchanged.

At noon, the Dow Jones average of industrials was down 0.09 to 844.85.

American Telephone lost a point on what a broker attributed to profit-taking by the funds.

After reports of good sales gains by retail chains and catalogue firms, Sears Roebuck advanced nearly half a point and Montgomery Ward added a small fraction.

High Voltage Engineering, which announced a new product, tacked on a point.

Corporate bonds were mixed and governments advanced.

Barry's 'No Win' View Is Assailed

vania governor said: "They are trying to create a political steamroller unparalleled for its toughness, its callousness, its total disregard for the opinion of rank and file Republicans."

Contending that "every survey taken" shows he is preferred by Republicans as the nominee over the Arizona senator, Scranton continued:

"Senator Goldwater's managers know this, so they have undertaken a no-holds-barred campaign to see to it that the delegates at the convention do not reflect the wishes of the people back home."

In the same vein, Scott said the Goldwater delegates are "under the iron whip of discipline" not to demonstrate in any way that they and others already in San Francisco are, as he put it, "the most unhappy group of delegates ever gathered for a convention."

Goldwater himself said in his interview with a reporter for Der Spiegel there would be another ball game come October. In San Francisco, Richard Kleindienst, codirector of the senator's field operations, put it this way: "I think by October there will be a complete new concept between the parties."

Concedes LBJ Advantage

Scott conceded that, as the incumbent president, Johnson holds the advantage over any Republican. But Scott said Scranton could overcome this advantage and Goldwater could not.

This shift to an attack on what Scott called Goldwater's "no win" policy marked an apparent departure from the strategy of throwing the convention into turmoil over the civil rights plank in the platform.

The Scranton forces found themselves increasingly fenced in this latter endeavor.

It became apparent, in the first place, that Rep. William M. McCulloch, R-Ohio, who was the man to see about any changes made by the Senate in House civil rights bill, was being given major responsibility in drafting the GOP platform plank on this issue.

Room to Compromise

The feeling was that whatever McCulloch approved as a plank would be likely to stand up in the convention as a reasonable statement of the party's position despite any committee minority's effort to change it.

McCulloch said only that he believes there is room to compromise the Goldwater and Scranton positions to work out wording endorsing the new Civil Rights Act.

Goldwater voted against the legislation, saying he believes the public accommodations and equal employment opportunities provisions are unconstitutional.

Scott indicated he is inclined to compromise on this point if the platform plank describes the law in terms indicating the Republicans believe it is legal.

Convention leaders said they will ask for agreement on an hour's debate in the convention's sessions on any and all amendments that might be proposed there to the platform. They indicated they would force a convention vote—in which Goldwater's backers presumably would prevail—on any effort to engage in any lengthy, emotion-arousing discussion of civil rights.

To Hear Romney Today

Michigan Gov. George Romney, who has not joined in the Scranton demand for a statement affirming the constitutionality of the Civil Rights Act, was scheduled as a witness before the platform committee today.

So was Henry Cabot Lodge, former ambassador to South Viet Nam who resigned his post to come home to support Scranton's bid for the nomination. Lodge has said he doesn't see how the Johnson administration's course in Viet Nam could be made a campaign issue.

The reply to this by Rep.

Clarence Brown, R-Ohio, a member of the Senate-House Republican leadership conference, was succinct.

"Like hell it won't," Brown said.

Lodge said on his arrival Tuesday night after some campaigning for delegates to shift to Scranton in Kansas and Missouri that he was "tremendously encouraged" by his efforts in those two states.

Lodge Counts on Ike

The 1960 vice presidential nominee insisted that while former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has made no public statement, he can be counted as a supporter of Scranton.

Despite this, Scranton's backers apparently have given up hope that they will get any last-minute public blessing from the former president, whose brother Dr. Milton Eisenhower, will put the Pennsylvania governor's name in nomination.

Scranton said during travels in Illinois he was sure Eisenhower wanted him to run for the nomination but "he has said he will not endorse anyone before the convention."

The general belief among the publicly uncommitted leaders putting the finishing touches on the convention program was that there is likely to be only one ballot, with Goldwater as the winner.

The Associated Press poll, showed that Goldwater gained a delegate in the past day or so and Scranton picked up three.

Lodge, Romney

attacked what they label as President Johnson's vacillation and expediency in handling foreign affairs.

On Right Track, He Says

Lodge, however, has maintained that the campaign against Red guerrillas in South Viet Nam is on the right track and can be won if the Washington and Saigon governments keep at it.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, now boosting Scranton after dropping out of the presidential race himself, jabbed indirectly at the front-running Goldwater and Scranton positions to work out wording endorsing the law.

Goldwater voted against the civil rights bill in the Senate, saying major parts of it are unconstitutional. He says he would enforce the law as president because that is the chief executive's duty.

The platform group's executive committee held its first meeting Tuesday night and authorized drafters to start work on the document.

situation." He asked that a letter be sent to the mayor.

Alderman-at-Large Joseph F. Carroll Jr., said it was his understanding that the fence was to be used at the new refuse disposal site. He also heard it was to be in the Fifth Ward, and Alecia said he was told it was going to be in his ward, and as discussion developed a swamp site between a Standard Oil tank and railroad tracks of the old Kingston Point spur was mentioned.

Democratic aldermen held that the fence proposal should not be approved unless the council was informed as to where the fence was to be used. Howard contended that plans for a new dump site should be well publicized in advance.

Majority Leader Machione held that the fencing was a type which could be used for parks and other similar purposes, and indicated that the question to be set to the council was whether the aldermen favored purchasing it. A letter from Mayor John J. Schwenk noted BPW approval, as of June 10, of purchasing the fence.

Alecia said he understood that the health department was opposed to establishing a refuse disposal site in the Fifth Ward.

Finally Adopted

The sidewalk and curb proposal for the new school area failed to get sufficient votes for a bond issue on first vote, but when it was found that the measure could be amended to lessen the assessment against property holders, it was adopted.

The cost listed for 1,500 feet of blacktop sidewalk on Delaware Avenue and 160 feet on Gross Street was listed at $2,656. The cost for 1,100 feet of curbing for the area involved was listed at $3,300.

Alderman Gallo said that in the past several weeks deplorable conditions in the city's parks were brought to his attention. He investigated and took photographs, which he had with him last night.

Says Debris There

One in Lawton Park, he thought, "illustrates the nearest thing to a city dump that I can imagine." Over a bank in front of the park shelter, he said, refuse and debris had been strewn about for "a long period of time."

In Hasbrouck Park, he said, a ladder to a sliding board stands alone in weeds and uncut grass, and at Kingston Point Beach fireplaces were found to be "almost completely useless," because they were disassembled.

At Black Park he noted a basketball hoop and backboard "completely broken down." He showed equipment for swings, with swings missing.

The photos, he said, were taken "within the past 48 hours," and were available for inspection of the aldermen after the meeting. He asked that the council go on record "as being opposed to these conditions, and that the mayor be notified." His motion to that effect brought a unanimous vote.

Asks About Insurance

Alderman Edward Norton (D) Seventh Ward, wanted to know "how the money, which the City of Kingston received for the fire which destroyed the pavilion in Block Park, could be made available so that this pavilion could be rebuilt this year."

He said he went to the mayor and was told "that the books are closed for this year," and that it could not be built at this time. "To me, this is very unfair to hold this insurance money, which is duly authorized for the purpose of rebuilding this pavilion without any cost to the city."

Norton also noted that "the entire park is in disgraceful shape. This is no reflection on the recreation department, because Mr. Murphy has been trying very hard to replace some equipment in the park for the children of the Seventh Ward. Once we were very proud of the parks in our city, but anyone who could take the time to look, who now find them in a deplorable condition."

The county agent noted there is hay and feed available in Ulster County and farmers as yet have not found it necessary to go outside for hay and feed.

Palmer said that a decision on the disaster area and federal aid matters probably will depend to a great extent on what happens to the corn crop in the county. He said the results of the effect of the drought on the local corn crop should be known in about 10 days.

Would Make Survey

A spokesman pointed out that in order to apply for federal aid to relieve the drought situation, the county agriculture groups must substantiate and request and a representative from Washington, D. C. will come here to survey the farms of the county with local representatives.

Drought conditions in the Saugerties area and sections west of Route 209, are some of the parts of Ulster County termed by agriculture officials as "very serious."

Governor Rockefeller last week, acted upon recommendation of the State Disaster Committee in declaring the counties of Albany, Rensselaer, Schoharie, Washington and Saratoga disaster areas, and asked the federal government to help the farmers by letting them cut hay and graze cattle on land idled in the soil bank program.

Q "After following our own program of dividing our own savings equally between real estate, common stocks, and fixed savings (bank, governments, savings & loan) we are now about to begin our retirement. We feel that we should sell some of our real estate and add to common stocks. Of these, we now hold American Telephone; Texaco; General Motors; Santa Fe Rwy; Texas Industries and Lone Star Gas. Could you suggest some additional stocks for stability as well as income?" C. T.

A I should like to commend you for forming and carrying out such a wise program for retirement.

I believe that under present conditions, the public utilities offer you the highest stability consistent with reasonable income. I say this because to a great extent they have not participated in the 1963-64 rise and should suffer less if the market undergoes a decline.

I recommend New England Telephone, yielding 4.1 per cent; Pacific Gas & Electric, on a 3.80 basis and Consolidated Edison, yielding 3.7 per cent.

Q "A friend of mine gave me a list covering bonds he owns. What I would like to know is whether I would be wise and safe to buy these bonds. They are Louisiana Power & Light 1st 3 1/2's of 1987; Western Union 5 1/2's of 1989; Georgia Power 1st 5 1/2's of 1989; N. Y. Central 6's due 1980; Cincinnati Gas & Electric 1st 5 1/2's of 1990; and Michigan Consolidated 1st 5 1/2's of 1986?" C. L.

A I think the answer to your question depends on your objective.

If you wish to put your money to work—possibly for only a short period of time because of redemption features—I would buy all of them, with the exception of New York Central 6's, which are too speculative.

The utility list is good, with Cincinnati Gas & Electric occupying the top position and Western Union on the bottom.

Aside from Western Union 5 1/2's, these bonds sell close to their call price and a substantial amount of Georgia Power 5 1/2's was redeemed last February.

brunt of problems in their ward, and should have something to say about street and other projects and problems, when they are responsible for authorizing appropriations.

Besides hazardous travel conditions on upper North Street, he noted another condition in which a sewer line runs through private land on which the city has an easement. It runs from North Street back of houses to an open ditch and bridge on Delaware Avenue.

Cites Complaints

It was found by himself and others, he said, that sand from high ground plus tide conditions blocked the pipe causing flooding of North Street to a depth of a foot and more. He said he had been promised an 18-foot length of pipe but it failed to arrive.

Conditions on upper North Street were so bad, he said, that "there's not one night when I don't get a complaint." Wives have been driving their husbands to and from work at the Hudson Cement plant, at all hours and the street is found to be a special hazard to them because of holes in the road and other conditions. He said he had listed other streets in the ward for repair but only the lower end of North Street is on the program.

New Claims

Referred to the corporation counsel was the claim for $250,000 by Joseph Washington, of 238 East Union Street, for Joseph Washington Jr., 16, of the same address. It was filed by Attorney Michael Nardone and alleges injury, false arrest and imprisonment following a fight on Canal Street last April 5. It is claimed that Joseph Washington Jr., was struck on the head and nose with a pistol and otherwise injured by Curtis Vandemark, the arresting officer.

A claim of $150,000 was filed for Alice M. Baker, of 272 Washington Avenue, through Attorney Ward Ingalsbe for injuries suffered at a polling place on Emerson Street in the 12th Ward on June 2, 1962, when she tripped over a board or similar object. It is claimed that a hip injury resulting of the fall appears to be of a permanent nature.

The claim of $250,000, which Howard Lake of Sawkill filed in 1960, and which was due to trial, Corporation Counsel Gold noted in a letter, could be settled for $1,000. Lake held he was injured, falsely arrested and imprisoned. His arrest followed trouble with the police after he had been found sleeping across a seat in his car in the Dietz Stadium grounds some four years ago by detectives Leonard Ellsworth and William Slover.

4 Lions Leave For U.S. Parley

A delegation of four members of the Kingston Lions Club left the city at 5 a. m. today for Toronto, Canada, where they will attend the Lions International convention, which will be in session through Saturday.

The local delegates made the trip in a mobile house trailer owned by John G. Reynolds, president of the Kingston club. It was noted that hotel accommodations were sold out last October.

Accompanying Reynolds were, International Councilor J. Wilson Tinney, and George Svirsky and Joseph Scholier Jr., past presidents of the local club.

The convention opened today and will continue Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Delegates from Lions clubs all over the world will be in attendance.

11 Counties Ask Drought Relief

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Farmers from 11 more Upstate counties watched the State Disaster Committee and the skies today for relief from an extended drought.

The disaster committee, meeting here today, was asked to declare the counties disaster areas and thus prepare the way for federal aid in the form of released soil-bank acreage for hay and pasture purposes, low-cost loans and cheaper purchase of feed grain.

Meanwhile, the weather forecast offered little hope of relief from the three-month dearth of rain in Eastern and South Central New York. The Weather Bureau's five-day forecast called for only scattered showers over most of the affected area.

The counties requesting drought-disaster status were: Montgomery, Fulton, Schoharie, Otsego, Greene, Columbia, Delaware, Clinton, Tioga.

Five other counties previously were declared disaster areas by the state committee.

Note Some Progress In Haulers' Talks

NORTH BERGEN, N.J. (AP)—Negotiators in the 17-day-old strike by the Teamsters Union against new car haulers met again today to discuss what one spokesman called "bread and butter issues."

A spokesman for the 18 east coast Teamsters locals involved in the walkout said after a seven hour bargaining session Tuesday that some progress was being made.

He did not list specific contract provisions under discussion but indicated the main point of contention involved "bread and butter issues affecting the pocketbook."

The teamsters locals began their strike against the east coast auto transporters June 22 although locals in other parts of the country ratified a national contract negotiated by the union president James R. Hoffa.

Upstate Priest Dies

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The Rev. Cuthbert Dittmeir, pastor of Our Lady of Angels Church here from 1957 until last year, died Tuesday night in St. Peter's Hospital after a lengthy illness. He was 69.

The Roman Catholic priest formerly had held pastorates in Glenfield, Inlet, Raquette Lake, Syracuse and Utica, N.Y., and in Hoboken, N.J. He also had taught at St. Anthony's-on-the-Hudson, a seminary in Rensselaer.

He was a native of Louisville, Ky.

Decline of Theater

NEW YORK (AP)—The decline of theatrical fare, a favorite theme of current Broadway criticism, bothered 18th Century England too.

Christian Deelman, author of the recent book, "The Great Shakespeare Jubilee," reports that in the decade before 1741 "many believed that tragedy, and with it the great heritage of English drama, was in danger of being extinguished. The vogue for pantomime and spectacle seemed about to swamp the legitimate stage."

Another GE Meeting

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP)—General Electric Co. officials and union representatives called another meeting today in an effort to settle a dispute over piecework rates.

Management, labor and the mediators conferred for more than four hours Tuesday but declined to comment on the progress of their talks.

4 Lions Leave For U.S. Parley

A delegation of four members of the Kingston Lions Club left the city at 5 a. m. today for Toronto, Canada, where they will attend the Lions International convention, which will be in session through Saturday.

The local delegates made the trip in a mobile house trailer owned by John G. Reynolds, president of the Kingston club. It was noted that hotel accommodations were sold out last October.

Accompanying Reynolds were, International Counsellor J. Wilson, Timney, and George Svirsky and Joseph Scholard, Jr., past presidents of the local club. The convention opened today and will continue Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Delegates from Lions clubs all over the world will be in attendance.

11 Counties Ask Drought Relief

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Farmers from 11 more Upstate counties watched the State Disaster Committee and the skies today for relief from an extended drought.

The disaster committee, meeting here today, was asked to declare the counties disaster areas and thus prepare the way for federal aid in the form of released soil-bank acreage for hay and pasture purposes, low-cost loans and cheaper purchase of feed grain.

Meanwhile, the weather forecast offered little hope of relief from the three-month dearth of rain in Eastern and South Central New York. The Weather Bureau's five-day forecast called for only scattered showers over most of the affected area.

The counties requesting drought-disaster status were: Montgomery, Fulton, Schoharie, Otsego, Greene, Columbia, Delaware, Clinton, Tioga.

Five other counties previously were declared disaster areas by the state committee.

Note Some Progress In Haulers' Talks

NORTH BERGEN, N.J. (AP)—Negotiators in the 17-day-old strike by the Teamsters Union against new car haulers meet again today to discuss what one spokesman called "bread and butter issues."

A spokesman for the 18 east coast Teamsters locals involved in the walkout said after a seven hour bargaining session Tuesday that some progress was being made.

He did not list specific contract provisions under discussion but indicated the main point of contention involved "bread and butter issues affecting the pocketbook."

The teamsters locals began their strike against the east coast auto transporters June 22 although locals in other parts of the country ratified a national contract negotiated by the union president James R. Hoffa.

Upstate Priest Dies

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The Rev. Cuthbert Dittmeir, pastor of Our Lady of Angels Church here from 1957 until last year, died Tuesday night in St. Peter's Hospital after a lengthy illness. He was 69.

The Roman Catholic priest formerly had held pastorates in Glenfield, Inlet, Raquette Lake, Syracuse and Utica, N.Y., and in Hoboken, N.J. He also had taught at St. Anthony's-on-the-Hudson, a seminary in Rensselaer.

He was a native of Louisville, Ky.

Decline of Theater

NEW YORK (AP)—The decline of theatrical fare, a favorite theme of current Broadway criticism, bothered 18th Century England too.

Christian Deelman, author of the recent book, "The Great Shakespeare Jubilee," reports that in the decade before 1741 "many believed that tragedy, and with it the great heritage of English drama, was in danger of being extinguished. The vogue for pantomime and spectacle seemed about to swamp the legitimate stage."

Another GE Meeting

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP)—General Electric Co. officials and union representatives called another meeting today in an effort to settle a dispute over piecework rates.

Management, labor and the mediators conferred for more than four hours Tuesday but declined to comment on the progress of their talks.

Cool Combination

Blue and green, whether pale blue with lime or royal with emerald, is an exciting and cool-looking combination for summer wear.

Karl Marx, the most important figure in the history of socialist thinking, was born in Prussia of Jewish parentage. His father embraced Christianity and the whole family was baptized in the Protestant faith. Marx once considered journalism as a career. He was once the editor of a Cologne newspaper, and he covered the American Civil War for the New York Tribune when Charles Dana was the managing editor.

Callison Is Hero As National League Evens All-Star Series

Mays Stars Both in Field And on Bases

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — It took the National League 31 years to draw even with the American in All-Star warfare Tuesday and in the end it was an ex-American Leaguer who did it.

Wondrouis Willie Mays, as usual, starred in the field and on the bases. Billy Williams and Ken Boyer smashed home runs, pitched superbly. But the hero of the National's 7-4 triumph was Johnny Callison, who was not even voted on the All-Star team.

Callison, a personal pick by Manager Walter Alston, came up in the bottom of the ninth inning with two out, two on and the score tied at 4-4. He walloped Dick Radatz' first pitch into the second home run, Shea Stadium's right field bullpen to square the All-Star series at 17 victories apiece.

After the 1949 game, the AL led 12-4. The NL has won 13, lost 5 and tied one of the last 19. The 25-year-old Philadelphia Phillies' outfielder, selected by Alston as the 25th man because of the National League's need for left-handed pinch hitting, strength, had entered the game in the fifth inning, hitting for pitcher Jim Bunning.

"He beat us enough," said Alston, managing his fourth winning All-Star squad in six attempts. "I figured he owed us something."

In a recent series at Los Angeles, Callison hit two home runs in two games against Alston's Dodgers.

Next to Radatz, the most charged man on the American League squad was Manager Al Lopez, who has yet to be on a winning All-Star squad. He lost four times as a manager, twice as a player and three times as a coach.

"To think that before the game I shook hands with Johnny and wished him luck," said Lopez.

It was Lopez, who traded Callison, then a 20-year-old Chicago White Sox hopeful, to the Phillies in the winter of 1959 for third baseman Gene Freese.

Callison said he did not get any special pleasure out of beating his old boss.

"I never faulted Lopez for trading me," he said. "I felt then the deal was good for me because I would have more of an opportunity to play with Philadelphia."

Radatz, Boston's brilliant relief pitcher, was invincible in the seventh and eighth innings when he struck out four of the six batters he faced.

The giant right-hander, who has been dubbed "The Monster" by opposing hitters, was nursing a 4-3 lead when Willie Mays opened the ninth by drawing a walk.

Willie, who had contributed two sparkling plays in the field although going hitless, promptly stole second. Orlando Cepeda singled to short right, Mays holding up because he feared the ball might be caught, could go only as far as third.

Joe Pepitone, after retrieving the ball, fired it to the plate. The ball skidded past the catcher to the screen and Willie slid across the plate with the tying run. Cepeda took second on the throw.

Smith Clinches 9th Win in Row For Michael's

A home run which clinched the game and a bases-loaded double made Bud Smith the obvious star as he led Michael's Barber Shop to a 6-4 close over Friendly Inn in a Saugerties Softball League match.

Smith batted in four other runs for the winners, with Dan McCaig and Joe Martin doing the other hitting. Wes Sparling doubled for the losers.

Winning hurler Chops Lindsay pitched a five-hitter with a badly swollen sore arm. He managed to strike out five to losing hurler Bob Wolven's four.

Dressing Room Comment Noted

By MIKE RATHER
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — "He's beat us enough. I figured he owed me something."

Walt Alston was laughing. His National Leaguers had just whipped the American League 7-4 in Tuesday's All-Star game, tying the lengthy series at 17 victories apiece with one tie.

The player he was talking about was Philadelphia's Johnny Callison, one of Alston's supplementary selections.

Callison, who hit two homers in two games against Alston's Los Angeles Dodgers recently, capped the National League's decisive four-run rally in the last of the ninth with a three-run homer.

"Callison's a great all-around player, that's one of the reasons I picked him," said Alston. "Then, too, I wanted some more left-handed hitting. Besides, the way he's hit against us, he owed me one."

Callison paid the debt with one swing — his first against Boston's Dick (The Monster) Radatz in the ninth.

"I was glad nobody said anything when I went up there," said Callison. "It might have scared me. Radatz is sneaky fast, so I was just looking for the first pitch to come over."

Before Callison came up before the crowd of 50,850, Radatz had struck out five in 2-2-3 innings for a total of 10 in 4-2-3 innings in two consecutive All-Star games.

"I threw him a low fast ball in the seventh inning," explained Radatz. "He hit the only ball to the outfield off me, and I thought I'd try him up high."

Callison's homer also beat his former boss, Al Lopez of the Chicago White Sox who handled the American League team.

For Lopez, it was something special. He has been in seven All-Star games and in the losing dressing room afterward each time.

"For a while I thought I was going to bust my string," Lopez said. "Everything worked out as we wanted it — we had a lead and Radatz to finish up. But I didn't plan on Willie Mays as the leadoff hitter and I didn't want him to walk."

But Willie did, on a 3-2 pitch and proceeded to steal second. Orlando Cepeda then lifted a pop up that fell back of first as Mays streaked for third, slid in, picked himself up, shot home and slid in.

The throw home by first baseman Joe Pepitone hopped on one bounced over the head of catcher Elston Howard and the National League had tied the score 3-3.

A story which appeared in The Freeman last night stated that the Basset Hound Match Show, sponsored by the Patroon Basset Hound Club would take place Sunday, July 21. The program will be held Sunday, July 12.

Jacksonville Has Three-Game Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Pete Cimino and Jim Rantz of Atlanta combined to allow Jacksonville just one hit. But the Crackers didn't win.

The Suns scored an unearned run in the sixth inning to beat Atlanta 1-0 Tuesday night and push the Crackers deeper into the International League cellar.

Jacksonville upped its league lead to three games.

In other games, Syracuse beat Buffalo 5-3 and Rochester edged Toronto 3-2 in 11 innings. Columbus and Richmond were rained out.

The only hit off Cimino came in the fourth inning, a double by Joe Morgan. Rantz allowed none in his one inning of relief.

Jacksonville pushed across the game's lone run in the sixth when the Atlanta infield committed two errors.

Five Syracuse players doubled off Buffalo pitching and only one of the two-baggers failed to figure in the Chiefs' scoring. It was the Herd's second loss in a row after a five-game winning streak.

Chico Fernandez, pitcher Bruce Brubaker, Jackie Moore, Ray Oyler and Jimmy Northrup were the two-base hitters. Only Northrup's was wasted.

Steve Demeter struck a ninth inning homer to tie the ball game and rapped a key hit in the 11th inning for Rochester.

Dave Vineyard pitched the full game for the Wings, picking up his ninth victory in 14 decisions.

Brodie, Kilmer Ready to Return For July Workout

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The return to health of John Brodie and Bill Kilmer could help the San Francisco 49ers surprise critics who believe that lack of trades means lack of improvement, says Coach Jack Christiansen.

Christiansen told newsmen Tuesday that quarterback Brodie's broken right arm and half-back Kilmer's shattered right leg are clinically sound and ready for the opening 49er workout July 18.

"There's lots of talk back East that the 49ers will be last again (in the National Football League) because we made no big trades. But we feel we have filled our spots by getting those men back," said Christiansen, adding the names of safety Jerry Mertens, tackle Charlie Krueger and lineman Walter Rock, all also hurt much of 1963.

"Underdog is the role we'll have this year and I'm looking forward to it," said Christiansen, who is beginning his first full season as head coach.

Brodie broke his arm in an auto accident, then reinjured it early in Christiansen's first game as head coach. Kilmer's leg was broken in a December 1962 auto crash.

Callison Is Hero As National League Evens All-Star Series

Mays Stars Both in Field And on Bases

by JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — It took the National League 31 years to draw even with the American in All-Star warfare Tuesday and in the end it was an ex-American Leaguer who did it.

Wondrous Willie Mays, as usual, starred in the field and on the bases. Billy Williams and Ken Boyer smashed home runs. Jim Bunning and Juan Marichal pitched superbly. But the hero of the National's 7-4 triumph was Johnny Callison, who was not even voted on the All-Star team.

Callison, a personal pick by Manager Walter Alston, came up in the bottom of the ninth inning with two out, one on and the score tied at 4-4. He walloped Dick Radatz first pitch into the second deck over Shea Stadium's right field bullpen to square the All-Star series at 17 victories apiece.

After the 1949 game, the AL led 12-4. The NL has won 13, lost 5 and tied one of the last 19. The 25-year-old Philadelphia Phillies' outfielder, selected by Alston as the 25th man because of the National League's need for a left-handed pinch hitter, strength, had entered the game in the fifth inning, hitting for pitcher Jim Bunning.

"He beat us enough," said Alston, managing his fourth winning All-Star squad in six attempts. "I figured he owed us something."

In a recent series at Los Angeles, Callison hit two home runs in two games against Alston's Dodgers.

Next to Radatz, the most charged man on the American League squad was Manager Al Lopez, who has yet to be on a winning All-Star squad. He lost four times as a manager, twice as a player and three times as a coach.

"And to think that before the game I shook hands with Johnny and wished him luck," said Lopez.

It was Lopez, who traded Callison, then a 20-year-old Chicago White Sox hopeful, to the Phils in the winter of 1959 for third baseman Gene Freese.

Callison said he did not get any special pleasure out of beating his old boss.

"I never faulted Lopez for trading me," he said. "I felt then the deal was good for me because I would have more of an opportunity to play with Philadelphia."

Radatz, Boston's brilliant relief pitcher, was invincible in the seventh and eighth innings when he struck out four of the six batters he faced.

The giant right-hander, who has been dubbed "The Monster" by opposing hitters, was nursing a 4-3 lead when Willie Mays opened the ninth by drawing a walk.

Willie, who had contributed two sparkling plays in the field although going hitless, promptly stole second. Orlando Cepeda singled to short right. Mays, holding up because he feared the ball might be caught, could go only as far as third.

Dressing Room Comment Noted

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "He's beat us enough. I figured he owed me something."

Walt Alston was laughing. His National Leaguers had just whipped the American League 7-4 in Tuesday's All-Star game, tying the lengthy series at 17 victories apiece with one tie.

The player he was talking about was Philadelphia's Johnny Callison, one of Alston's supplementary selections.

Callison, who hit two homers in two games against Alston's Los Angeles Dodgers recently, capped the National League's decisive four-run rally in the last of the ninth with a three-run homer.

"Callison's a great all-around player, that's one of the reasons I picked him," said Alston. "Then, too, I wanted some more left-handed hitting. Besides, the way he's hit against us, he owed me one."

Callison paid the debt with one swing — his first against Boston's Dick (The Monster) Radatz — in the ninth.

"I was glad nobody said anything when I went up there," said Callison. "It might have scared me. Radatz is sneaky fast, so I was just looking for the first pitch to come over."

Before Callison came up before the crowd of 50,850, Radatz had struck out five in 2-2-3 innings for a total of 10 in 4-2-3 innings in two consecutive All-Star games.

"I threw him a low fast ball in the seventh inning," explained Radatz. "He hit the only ball to the outfield off me, and I thought I'd try him up high."

Callison's homer also beat his former boss, Al Lopez of the Chicago White Sox who handled the American League team.

For Lopez, it was something special. He has been in seven All-Star games and in the losing dressing room afterward each time.

"For a while I thought I was going to bust my string," Lopez said. "Everything worked out as we wanted it — we had a lead and Radatz to finish up. But I didn't plan on Willie Mays as the leadoff hitter and I didn't want him to walk."

But Willie did, on a 3-2 pitch and proceeded to steal second. Orlando Cepeda then lifted a pop up that fell back of first as Mays streaked for third, slid in, picked himself up, shot home and slid in.

The throw home by first baseman Joe Peppone hopped on one bounced over the head of catcher Elston Howard and the National League had tied the score 3-3.

Over 400 attended the tournament games last night. Beacon put the game in the sixth inning. Sixteen men came to bat that inning with a combination of 4 hits, 7 walks, a hits batsman and 3 errors.

Mark Giordano and Glenn Thomas doubled for the winners. Bill Lanigan singled three times. Walt Whelan singled twice for the losers.

Steve Garo sustained the whole game hurling for Beacon, fanning 6 and walking 5. Mike Case took the loss for Dutchess, replacing Bob Fenn and Ed Whitesell on the mound.

Pete Cimino and Jim Rantz of Atlanta combined to allow Jacksonville just one hit. But the Crackers didn't win.

The Suns scored an unearned run in the sixth inning to beat Atlanta 1-0 Tuesday night and push the Crackers deeper into the International League cellar.

Jacksonville upped its league lead to three games.

In other games, Syracuse beat Buffalo 5-3 and Rochester edged Toronto 3-2 in 11 innings. Columbus and Richmond were rained out.

The only hit off Cimino came in the fourth inning, a double by Joe Morgan. Rantz allowed none in his one inning of relief. Jacksonville pushed across the game's lone run in the sixth when the Atlanta infield committed two errors.

Five Syracuse players doubled off Buffalo pitching, and only one of the two-baggers failed to figure in the Chiefs' scoring. It was the Herd's second loss in a row after a five-game winning streak.

GOSHEN, N.Y. (AP) — Beloved Hanover twice set track records at Historic Track Tuesday in winning the $19,015 Debutante Stakes.

Driven by Stanley Dancer, the Adios filly registered her first record-breaker by winning the opening heat in 2:04.1. Coming back, Beloved Hanover streaked to an easy victory and lowered the mark again—this time in 2:03.4.

Twenty-two entries necessitated two elimination heats with the first one going to the Dancer entry. Balenzano, reined by Del Insko, won the second elimination heat in 2:06.4 but finished fourth in the final.

At Yonkers Raceway, Some Dream held off a late bid by favored Josedale Senior Hal to win by a nose Tuesday night in the featured $6,000 pace.

Springfield's Lone Run Beats Charleston

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A passed ball with a man on third enabled the Springfield Giants to score the only run of the game as they blanked the Charleston Indians, 1-0, Tuesday night in Eastern League play.

Al Erickson scored the deciding run in the third inning of the game, after leading off with a double and going on to third on a ground out. He tallied on a passed ball by catcher Jack Hernandez.

Aside from that, it was a real pitchers' duel with Matt Gayek giving up only three hits in winning his 10th game of the year against three defeats. The Indians' George Culver lost a tough one, giving the league-leading Giants only four safeties. Culver is now 7-6 on the season.

The York White Roses pounced on three Reading pitchers for 12 hits and took advantage of five Sox errors to post an 8-4 victory. A big four-run fifth inning for York spelled the end for starter and loser Bill Wenz (4-5) and gave Bob Baird his fourth win in 11 decisions.

The Elmira Pioneers leaptfrogged ahead of the Sox in the league standings with their 5-3 defeat of the Williamsport Mets. Frank Bertina hurled his 10th straight victory of the season, after losing his first two games.

Phillies Boost Pennant Stock In All-Star Tilt

By HAL BOCK

Associated Press Sports Writer

With the mid-summer break over, major league baseball resumes the serious business of pennant races today with two important questions to be answered.

Can the Philadelphia Phillies go all the way in the National League, and is this one of those rare years that the New York Yankees lose the pennant in the American?

Phillie pennant stock got a big boost in Tuesday's All-Star game with the three-run homer by Johnny Callison which broke up the game and two shutout innings by Jim (Perfect Game) Bunning for the NL stars.

Gene Mauch's Phillies get back into action tonight at home against the St. Louis Cardinals. Second place San Francisco is at Chicago for a day double-header and Cincinnati plays at Pittsburgh at night. There are no games scheduled in the American League.

Mauch hopes his club can maintain the momentum it picked up with a three-game sweep of the Giants last weekend that vaulted the Phillies into first place.

Manipulating a team which failed to place a player above third in balloting for the NL All-Star squad, Mauch has gotten tight pitching, a strong defense and clutch hitting from the Phillies.

Much the same qualities have kept the Baltimore Orioles and Chicago White Sox in front of the Yankees in the AL.

The Orioles, leading by three games over Chicago and New York in the AL, have gotten power hitting from Boog Powell and outstanding pitching from rookie Wally Bunker.

Bunker has pitched two one-hitters and Powell has 21 home runs, including a string of seven in a stretch of five days last month.

The White Sox have an outstanding record of 44 wins and 20 losses against eight other AL clubs but are 0-10 against New York. Yet Al Lopez' club has managed to bounce back every time it dropped a series to the Yankees and is three percentage points in front of the perennial champions.

8. SKIPPER TASS sitting in a perfect spot for a stretch victory, SUCCESS ADIOS might have trouble getting to the front. Is in top shape but is hurt by the post. BLUE MOUNTAIN not out of it.

9. COLE'S HOSS is much better than record shows. Is about ready to pop. BARON RUDOLPH makes first start for new stable. MERRIE ADIOSON must not stop.

Jamestown Loses, Auburn Surprised In NY-P Matches

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Auburn Mets held a slim half-game lead in the New York-Pennsylvania Baseball League after losing to last-place Batavia, 4-3, Tuesday night.

In other NY-P action, Geneva moved into a tie with Jamestown for second place by defeating Binghamton, 7-6, while Jamestown lost to Wellsville, 11-8.

Batavia's Larry Nichols slammed out a home run in the sixth inning to give the Pirates the winning margin. Tom O'Connor and Mel Cialia also contributed homers to Batavia's winning effort.

Bernie Smith hit two singles, a double and a home run for visiting Auburn.

Bob Grenda clobbered a home run and Carmen Fanzone a bases-loaded double for host Wellsville. Jamestown's Joe Cernich clouted a one-run homer in the fifth.

Pitcher Larry Connell of Wellsville relieved Eric Sullivan in the eighth and retired six men in a row. Jamestown scored a run in the eighth, however, on a passed ball.

At Geneva, Paul Casanova had a two-run homer for the winning Senators. Geneva's Ed Mouton singled with the bases loaded in the ninth to drive in the winning run. John May hit a solo home run for Binghamton.

Also Tuesday, Auburn and Williamsport of the Eastern League, both New York Mets farm clubs, shifted 10 players. The NY-P is a Class A loop and the Eastern League is Class AA.

Auburn outfielders Bruce Fitzpatrick and Jeff Brown, pitcher Jim Hardin, catcher Cliff McWilliams and third baseman Bob Serrano were sent to Williamsport.

From Williamsport, Auburn got pitcher Dick Gardner and Steve Dillon, catcher Floyd Floodin, outfielder Bernie Smith and first baseman-outfielder Roger Wattler.

Connecticut has a rich tradition in winning basketball, the Huskies earning 13 titles outright and sharing one championship in the 17-year history of the Yankee Conference, a league comprising the six New England state universities.

Po'keepsie Youth Rates High Berth On U. Conn. Five

STORRS, Conn. — The University of Connecticut basketball team, winner of the NCAA East runner-up berth in basketball last winter, looks to 6-2 guard Wesley (Wes) Bialosuknia of Poughkeepsie to fill a vacant berth on the starting back court next winter.

"Wes is the classic example of the student-athlete that we at the college campus are continually looking for," says Coach Fred Shabel, former Duke star, of his sophomore backcourt prospect. "He has shown enough ability to make the coaching staff feel he will be competing for a top spot on the varsity."

Shabel concluded, "Bialosuknia was leading scorer of the Connecticut freshman hoop team that won 11 and lost three games. He averaged an even 20 points per game. In addition, he was an honor student while pursuing his studies in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences where he is a mathematics major."

A graduate of F. D. Roosevelt High in 1963 where he was junior class president and student council president, he lettered three years each in basketball and soccer and four years in baseball. He was basketball captain two years and soccer captain. He made the all-county team in soccer three years, and in basketball he was all-league and all-county three years and all-section two years.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bialosuknia of 5 Hinkley Place, Poughkeepsie.

Olympic Yacht Trials Started

N.J. (AP) — Harry (Bud) Melges of Zenda, Wis. won the first race of the Flying Dutchman class in the Olympic yacht trials Tuesday on Sandy Hook.

Melges finished one-quarter of a mile ahead of Mrs. Patricia Duane of Delray Beach, Fla. Melges covered the 10 1/2-mile Olympic course in one hour, 45 minutes.

The 35-boat race began with a very light wind of five knots which built up to 15 knots at the end. A morning race was cancelled because none of the boats finished in the 3 1/2-hour limit.

Finishing third was Norman Freeman of Ithaca, N.Y., followed by James (Ding) Schoonmaker of Miami, Fla.

Others in the top 10 were Charles Vail of Norfolk, Va., fifth; Jeff Frayne of Clearwater, Fla., sixth; Frank Levinson of Clearwater, seventh; Jim De Witt of San Francisco, eighth; John Ulbrich of Lavallette, N.J., ninth, and Earl Elms of San Diego, Calif., 10th.

Harry Sindle of Ware Neck, Va., the United States representative in the Flying Dutchman class in the 1960 Olympics, defeated all contestants in a race over the weekend but fouled out Tuesday.

The winner of the seven races to be held here through Saturday will represent the class in the Tokyo Olympics next October.

Trout Unlimited Chapter Forms Several Committees

The Catskill Mountain chapter of Trout Unlimited will hold its monthly meeting on Wednesday, July 15, 7:30 p. m., at Kahl's Rainbow Lodge, Mt. Tremper. Following the business meeting, a movie, "Rainbow Valley," will be shown. Visitors are welcome.

Committees, which were formed at the June meeting to cover all the aspects of trout and trout fishing, will give the chapter a basic and organized pattern of operation to follow in the months ahead in working out existing problems, and in the study of biology and ecology of all fish and fishing waters where trout are to be found.

Committees and their operations are as follows: Education — plans a program for improving the knowledge of the membership and educating the public on factors affecting trout and trout fishing. This data will be collected through contacting the conservation department, as well as outside experts in various fields dealing with trout and trout waters, and individuals with specialized knowledge in this field. Through the above activities and others which may be devised, this committee will actively attempt to conscript new members.

Conservation Law — this committee will participate in research of all legislation regarding fishing regulations, water usage, water pollution, and other chosen areas affecting trout fishing. The committee will maintain an active up-to-date file of information gathered for use by the chapter and its various committees.

Watershed — this committee will compile a list of Catskill Mountain area streams exhibiting undesirable conditions, investigate and establish a recommended priority listing for corrective action by the chapter when and as directed by the chapter. This committee will also gather data concerning

Ed Palladino's MR Selections

BEST BET — Adios George (4th)
UPSET CHANCE — Scotch Key (7th)

1. RAPID'S BOY drops way down. Is accorded a slight edge in this wide open trot. SPECTER has some class but was scratched last week. Why? SONNY FROST was nipped after a late rally.

2. GOLD ROAD in a good stable. Can win this despite outside post. WHAT NEXT and MATT B. appear to be top contenders.

3. AIRTIGHT can take this if on best behavior. MOST MIGHTY had a pair of good qualifying races. PEANEY PATCH hasn't been in the money in six starts.

4. ADIOS GEORGE seeks sixth win in seven outings. Is the best bet of the season. MISSILE HANOVER has loads of speed but is a chronic breaker. AIR SIGN won last easily but is facing much tougher this time.

5. BELLE CHIMES packs a wallop in the stretch. Will be close enough to win this in a close finish. HANK still needs a driver. PEGGY A was boxed in the last time and had a lot of speed left at the finish.

6. MANUEVER went off stride and just missed winning the race in the drive to the wire. Appears ready. Galemir was outside all the way and managed to hang on. Is the one to beat. WILDWOOD is razor sharp.

7. DUNDEE was beat heavy and made a move too late. Can make amends here. SCOTCH KEY is always tough from the pole. ROME HANOVER is very inconsistent.

8. SKIPPER TASS sitting in a perfect spot for a stretch victory. SUCCESS ADIOS might have trouble getting to the front. Is in top shape but is hurt by the post. BLUE MOUNTAIN not out of it.

9. COLE'S HOSS is much better than record shows. Is about ready to pop. BARON RUDOLPH makes first start for new stable. MERRIE ADIOSON must not stop.

Jamestown Loses, Auburn Surprised In NY-P Matches

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Auburn Mets held a slim half-game lead in the New York-Pennsylvania Baseball League after losing to last-place Batavia, 4-3, Tuesday night.

In other NY-P action, Geneva moved into a tie with Jamestown for second place by defeating Binghamton, 7-6, while Jamestown lost to Wellsville, 11-8.

Batavia's Larry Nichols slammed out a home run with a man on in the sixth inning to give the Pirates the winning margin. Tom O'Connor and Mel Cival also contributed homers to Batavia's winning effort.

Bernie Smith hit two singles, a double and a home run for visiting Auburn.

Bob Grenda clobbered a home run and Carmen Fanzone a bases-loaded double for host Wellsville. Jamestown's Joe Cernich clouted a one-run homer in the fifth.

Pitcher Larry Connell of Wellsville relieved Eric Sullivan in the eighth and retired six men in a row. Jamestown scored a run in the eighth, however, on a passed ball.

At Geneva, Paul Casanova had a two-run homer for the winning Senators. Geneva's Ed Mouton singled with the bases loaded in the ninth to drive in the winning run. John May hit a solo home run for Binghamton.

Olympic Yacht Trials Started

N.J. (AP) — Harry Melges of Zenda, N.J., won the first race of the Flying Dutchman class in the Olympic yacht trials Tuesday on Sandy Hook.

Melges finished one-quarter of a mile ahead of Mrs. Patricia Duane of Delray Beach, Fla. Melges covered the 10½-mile Olympic course in one hour, 45 minutes.

The 35-boat race began with a very light wind of five knots which built up to 15 knots at 4 A. M. A morning race was cancelled because none of the boats finished in the 3½-hour limit.

Finishing third was Norman Freeman of Ithaca, N.Y., followed by James (Ding) Schoonmaker of Miami, Fla.

Others in the top 10 were Charles Vail of Norfolk, Va., fifth; Jeff Frayne of Clearwater, Fla., sixth; Frank Levinson of Clearwater, seventh; Jim De Witt of San Francisco, eighth; John Ulbrich of Lavallette, N.J., ninth, and Earl Elms of San Diego, Calif., 10th.

Harry Sindle of Ware Neck, Va., the United States representative in the Flying Dutchman class in the 1960 Olympics, defeated all contestants in a race over the weekend but fouled out Tuesday.

The winner of the seven races to be held here through Saturday will represent the class in the Tokyo Olympics next October.

Nothing Wrong With Miss Sea Tac's Win
NEW YORK (AP) — The New York State Harness Racing Commission said it had completed an investigation Tuesday of Miss Sea Tac's victory at Yonkers Raceway June 30 and had found nothing wrong in the pacer's sudden reversal of form.

The commission ordered the investigation after the pacer, owned by the Fair Acres Farm, Inc., of Freehold, N.J., trained by Anthony Abbatiello and driven by Carmine Abbatiello, won the sixth race at 4½-1 odds. The race was part of a twin double that paid $4,224.

In her previous start at Monticello Raceway, the mare finished eighth.

The commission said the investigation was asked by the judges because of the pacer's marked improvement in performance time.

Trout Unlimited Chapter Forms Several Committees

The Catskill Mountain chapter of Trout Unlimited will hold its monthly meeting on Wednesday, July 15, 7:30 p. m., at Kahill's Rainbow Lodge, Mt. Tremper. Following the business meeting, a movie, "Rainbow Valley," will be shown. Visitors are welcome.

Committees, which were formed at the June meeting to cover all the aspects of trout and trout fishing, will give the chapter a basic and organized pattern of operation to follow in the months ahead in working out existing problems, and in the study of biology and ecology of all fish and fishing waters where trout are to be found.

Committees and their operations are as follows:
Education—plans a program for improving the knowledge of the membership and educating the public on factors affecting trout and trout fishing. This data will be collected through contacting the conservation department, as well as outside experts in various fields dealing with trout and trout waters, and individuals with specialized knowledge in this field. Through the above activities and others which may be devised, this committee will actively attempt to conscript new members.

Conservation Law—this committee will participate in research of all legislation regarding fishing regulations, water usage, water pollution, and other chosen areas affecting trout fishing. The committee will maintain an active up-to-date file of information gathered for use by the chapter and its various committees.

Watershed—this committee will compile a list of Catskill Mountain area streams exhibiting undesirable conditions, investigate and establish a recommended priority listing for corrective action by the chapter when and as directed by the chapter. This committee will also gather data concerning

Nicklaus Is 7 to 2 Favorite In British Open

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP) — Golden Boy Jack Nicklaus, who has won a million playing golf, set out today to prove something no one ever has done — beat the St. Andrews Old Course without knowing much about it.

The American went into the 1964 British Open Championship a 7-2 favorite after having played the 6,926-yard par 72 layout only once.

He shot a 71 Tuesday in wind and rain after doing seven holes the day before.

In the betting, the field of 120 was stretched out behind him, including the defending British Open king, Bob Charles of New Zealand.

Single rounds today and Thursday will reduce the field to the low 45 and ties for the 36-hole windup Friday.

Forgot to Lower Wheels

NEW YORK (AP) — "I just forgot to lower the wheels," said Wilfred A. Park after his rented light plane skidded to a belly landing at Kennedy Airport.

Park, 57, a banker from Groton, Conn., walked away uninjured from the crash landing Tuesday. He was alone in the twin-engine plane.

Mohawk Is Sued By Ex-Employee For $4.5 Million

NEW YORK (AP) — Donald J. Loudin, former Mohawk Airlines flight manager, has filed a $4.5 million libel suit against the airline. It stems from a Mohawk statement issued after an airplane crash that killed seven persons.

Loudin, 40, of Norfolk, Va., charged in the suit, filed in State Supreme Court Tuesday, that Mohawk tried to make him "a scapegoat for the failures and shortcomings of Mohawk's management."

As Mohawk flight manager, he gave proficiency tests to Capt. Richard N. Dennis, pilot of the airliner that crashed on takeoff at Rochester on July 2, 1963. Dennis was one of the seven killed in the crash. Loudin's suit asserted that Mohawk's executives were aware before the crash that Dennis had on occasions "demonstrated poor judgment and a lack of responsibility which made his employment a hazard to safety."

He contended he was libeled in a Mohawk statement, put out as a press release, "for the purpose of ruining his reputation as a pilot, flight manager and supervisory flight officer."

He said he resigned from Mohawk after the crash and he had been refused employment by various aircraft companies because of the Mohawk statement.

Actor to Tour Africa

NEW YORK (AP) — Actor Arnold Moss is going on theatrical expedition to five African nations.

Under the State Department's cultural exchange program, the veteran stage-screen-TV performer will lecture, produce and act in collaborative enterprise with student groups. The countries to be toured during the August-October expedition include the Republic of the Congo, Togo, Morocco, Algeria and Malagasy.

Moss three years ago made a similar tour of South America.

In hot weather, other grasses go dormant for lack of water just as crabgrass hits its stride.

Identity Sought Of Negro Youth Found in Creek

Efforts being continued this afternoon to ascertain the identity of the body of a youth found face down in shallow water in the Wappingers Creek, Town of Poughkeepsie.

Town Police Lieut. Joseph Rudolph told The Freeman a call was received at 9:30 a. m. today from Robert Green, bartender at the Arlington American Legion Post home on Overlook Road, reporting a body was discovered in the creek near White Bridge.

Detective George Lochner and Patrolman Jerome Darrow were assigned to investigate. They pulled the body from the water.

Dutchess County Medical Examiner Dr. Chester Golding, Wappingers Falls, described the victim as a Negro, about 17 years of age, five feet, six inches tall. The youth was wearing green and white undershorts. A pair of pants were found on the bank of the creek.

Dr. Golding said the body had been in the water for about three days. It was believed at first the victim might have been a youth reportedly missing from the Hudson River State Hospital but examination by institution authorities proved negative.

Expects Final

assistance for urban renewal unless they develop realistic relocation plans for site residents.

Cites Outdated Area

Hemphill said today, "It appears the reference to Kingston's Broadway East relocation plan being rejected is based on erroneous and outdated information. Actually, the Urban Renewal office here received a letter from the State Division of Housing on May 26 in which they requested additional information regarding our relocation plan in order to complete their review of it. The requested information was sent to them by letter on June 2."

"Shortly afterwards, the matter was discussed with Assistant Commissioner Albert E. Bibby, who informed me everything appeared to be in good order. This was followed by my phone conversation with Samuel R. Mozes yesterday."

It was explained by the Division of Housing that previously the state agency had accepted federal approval of relocation plans as proof of feasibility. (State urban renewal funds provide one-half of the municipality's cost of federal urban renewal projects, and are made available after a contract between the Federal Government and the municipality has been executed.)

TONS OF MONEY—After two robberies, one netting burglars $12,000, Frederick C. Roth decided to move his $1 million coin collection from a secluded farmhouse near Cleveland. He found a Cleveland bank with a vault big enough to house the collection and hired Brink's to move it. The largest Brink's truck in the area had to make two trips to move the 15 tons of coins. To get them out of the third floor of the farmhouse a chute (left) composed of boards and a ladder was devised and boxes of coins were slid down the chute. Roth, a retired businessman turned coin dealer, displays one of the boxes of coins (right). The ones behind him—and many more—are all filled with coins.

Tshombe Lines Up New Congo Regime

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP)—Moise Tshombe says he has lined up a new government for the Congo made up of 12 men who have never held Cabinet posts. It was not known whether President Joseph Kasavubu would accept Tshombe's lineup.

The former president of Katanga, who led his province in a breakaway attempt that United Nations troops ended, announced Tuesday night he would hold four key posts.

Tshombe was named premier-designate by Kasavubu on Monday, 10 days after returning from a year of voluntary exile in Spain. In addition to premier, Tshombe said he would be foreign minister, information minister and minister of planning and coordination.

BELFRY, Ky. (AP) — Ten-year-old Terry Keese's newspaper is small by most standards—a two-page weekly, circulation 150.

Its list of subscribers is impressive, though, for among them is President Johnson.

Terry's father managed to get press credentials to enable the boy to meet the President when he visited in Eastern Kentucky. Later, the President's office wrote and requested a subscription.

Case Is Adjourned OnVoteRecanvass FromLastPrimary

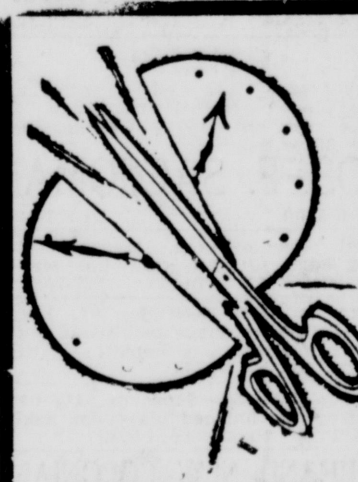

A special appearance challenging the jurisdiction of the court which was made by Harriet Allen Kerr through her attorney Francis Martocci was overruled by Judge John Pennock at a hearing in Albany on Tuesday at 2:30 p. m.

The special appearance was an effort to halt proceedings on a show cause order entered by Mrs. Dorothy A. Narel through her attorney Franklin Gavin of Albany and Woodstock, asking for a recount of votes cast on Primary Day, June 2 for the party post of State Democratic Committeeman.

Both lawyers were directed to proceed on the merits of the case, after the Judge overruled Mrs. Kerr's application. The court, however, limited Mrs. Narel to proof in support of her claim that she is entitled to a recount of the blank and void ballots.

The matter has been adjourned for a decision on arguments made by the both lawyers in respect to Mrs. Narel's right to a hearing and a recanvass of the ballots.

A new date will be set by Judge Pennock.

Mohawk Is Sued By Ex-Employee For $4.5 Million

NEW YORK (AP) — Donald J. Loudin, former Mohawk Airlines flight manager, has filed a $4.5 million libel suit against the airline. It stems from a Mohawk statement issued after an airplane crash that killed seven persons.

Loudin, 40, of Norfolk, Va., charged in the suit, filed in State Supreme Court Tuesday, that Mohawk tried to make him "a scapegoat for the failures and shortcomings of Mohawk's management."

As Mohawk flight manager, he gave proficiency tests to Capt. Richard N. Dennis, pilot of the airliner that crashed on takeoff at Rochester on July 2, 1963. Dennis was one of the seven killed in the crash.

Loudin's suit asserted that Mohawk's executives were aware before the crash that Dennis had on occasions "demonstrated poor judgment and a lack of responsibility which made his employment a hazard to safety."

He contended he was libeled in a Mohawk statement, put out as a press release, "for the purpose of ruining [his] reputation as a pilot, flight manager and supervisory flight officer."

He said he resigned from Mohawk after the crash and he had been refused employment by various aircraft companies because of the Mohawk statement.

Moss three years ago made a similar tour of South America.

Identity Sought Of Negro Youth Found in Creek

Efforts being continued this afternoon to ascertain the identity of the body of a youth found face down in shallow water in the Wappingers Creek, Town of Poughkeepsie.

Town Police Lieut. Joseph Rudolph told The Freeman a call was received at 9:30 a. m. today from Robert Green, bartender at the Arlington American Legion Post home on Overlook Road, reporting a body was discovered in the creek near White Bridge.

Detective George Darrow were assigned to investigate. They pulled the body from the water. Dutchess County Medical Examiner Dr. Chester Golding, Wappingers Falls, described the victim as a Negro, about 17 years of age, five feet, six inches tall. The youth was wearing green and white undershorts. A pair of pants were found on the bank of the creek.

Dr. Golding said the body had been in the water for about three days.

It was believed at first the victim might have been a youth reportedly missing from the Hudson River State Hospital but examination by institution authorities proved negative.

Expects Final

Cities Outdated Area

Hemphill said today, "It appears the reference to Kingston's Broadway East relocation plan being rejected is based on erroneous and outdated information. Actually, the Urban Renewal office here received a letter from the State Division of Housing on May 26 in which they requested additional information regarding our relocation plan in order to complete their review of it. The requested information was sent to them by letter on June 2."

"Shortly afterwards, the matter was discussed with Assistant Commissioner Albert E. Bibby, who informed me everything appeared to be in good order. This was followed by my phone conversation with Samuel R. Mozes yesterday."

It was explained by the Division of Housing that previously the state agency had accepted federal approval of relocation plans as proof of feasibility. (State urban renewal funds provide one-half of the municipality's cost of federal urban renewal projects, and are made available after a contract between the Federal Government and the municipality has been executed.)

Tshombe Lines Up New Congo Regime

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP)—Moise Tshombe says he has lined up a new government for the Congo made up of 12 men who have never held Cabinet posts. It was not known whether President Joseph Kasavubu would accept Tshombe's lineup.

The former president of Katanga, who led his province in a breakaway attempt that United Nations troops ended, announced Tuesday night he would hold four key posts.

Tshombe was named premier-designate by Kasavubu on Monday, 10 days after returning from a year of voluntary exile in Spain. In addition to premier, Tshombe said he would be foreign minister, information minister and minister of planning and coordination.

7 Aldermen . . . Scranton Bound

preserves the right of the people to change the political makeup of their legislative body every two years.

In the first election under the new charter, the three councilmen receiving the highest number of votes will serve for four years, while the remaining four councilmen will serve for two years. Every two years thereafter the voters shall elect either four or three councilmen for terms of four years.

While councilmen shall not be paid for their service to the city, they shall not be expected to pay out of their own pockets the actual expenses necessary to perform the duties of their office.

Four Votes for Majority
The council shall continue to meet at least once a month on a regular basis.

Four votes will constitute a majority for the passage of legislation, and five votes will be required to over-ride a veto by the mayor.

Detailed provisions of Article III of the proposed charter will be included in the fully published Charter in The Kingston Daily Freeman on Friday, July 10 so that all interested citizens may have adequate opportunity to study the charter prior to the July 14th and 16th public hearings. The cost of publishing the charter in the Freeman is provided by funds bequeathed to the city by the estate of Mrs. Cornelia H. Staples.

LBJ Subscribes

BELFRY, Ky. (AP) — Ten-year-old Terry Keese's newspaper is small by most standards — a two-page weekly, circulation 150.

Its list of subscribers is impressive, though, for among them is President Johnson.

Terry's father managed to get press credentials to enable the boy to meet the President when he visited in Eastern Kentucky. Later, the President's office wrote and requested a subscription.

Dies of Injuries
BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Walter Jaworski, 67, of suburban Cheektowaga, died today in St. Joseph's Intercommunity Hospital of injuries suffered Tuesday night when struck by an automobile in Cheektowaga.

But leaders of this latter group in Brazzaville, capital of the former French Congo across the Congo River, have indicated strong reservations or opposition to Tshombe.

One line of the pamphlet was quoted by Scranton as saying the governor has "a record of actions which prove his softness on communism."

Points to Insult
"The American people will revolt against this kind of smear campaign," said Scranton, "and I think the Goldwater managers are insulting the common sense of the delegates to ask them to believe it in San Francisco."

Scranton contended "we cannot afford a moratorium on (foreign) policy during the months of this presidential campaign."

He proposed that a comprehensive policy be formed for Southeast Asia to replace what he described as a country-by-country piecemeal policy.

Case Is Adjourned OnVoteRecanvass FromLastPrimary

A special appearance challenging the jurisdiction of the court which was made by Harriet Allen Kerr through her attorney Francis Martucci was overruled by Judge John Pennock at a hearing in Albany on Tuesday at 2:30 p. m.

The special appearance was an effort to halt proceedings on a show cause order entered by Mrs. Dorothy A. Narel through her attorney Franklin Gavin of Albany and Woodstock, asking for a recount of votes cast on Primary Day, June 2 for the party post of State Democratic Committeeman.

Both lawyers were directed to proceed on the merits of the case, after the Judge overruled Mrs. Kerr's application. The court, however, limited Mrs. Narel to proof in support of her claim that she is entitled to a recount of the blank and void ballots.

The matter has been adjourned for a decision on arguments made by the both lawyers in respect to Mrs. Narel's right to a hearing and a canvass of the ballots.

A new date will be set by Judge Pennock.
